

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

Mr. Whitesides, having received a majority of the votes, on motion of Mr. Safford, a committee, consisting of Messrs. Safford and Lewis, was appointed to inform Mr. Whitesides of his election as speaker.

After a short interval the committee returned, and having conducted Mr. Whitesides to the chair, the oath of office was administered by the Hon. Judge Barbour of Yuba, and the speaker addressed the Assembly as follows :

GENTLEMEN OF THE ASSEMBLY :—Having just been officially advised by your committee of the result of your choice in the election of speaker, I most respectfully beg leave, before entering upon the discharge of the duties that must necessarily devolve upon me on taking the position you have assigned me in the permanent organization of this Assembly, to return to you my most sincere and devout acknowledgments for the unanimity of sentiment with which you have been pleased to confer upon me this distinguished honor.

One desire alone remains to heighten in future the recollection of the present moment, and that desire is, that I may be enabled to discharge the duties devolving upon me as presiding officer of this Assembly in such a manner as to merit through our more intimate acquaintance and down to the close of our labors here, a continuance and an increase of that confidence which you, as strangers, have, in the beginning, so generously reposed in me.

For the guidance, direction, and government of our deliberative action, there are certain well-settled, time-honored rules and usages, from which, under no circumstances, would it be wise or prudent to depart. These rules should be strictly adhered to, no less from a desire to promote the business of legislation than to protect minorities of the House in the enjoyment of their rights, to prevent them from being trampled upon by the too hasty and inconsiderate action of the majorities, which not unfrequently springs from party prejudices, exciting topics, or animated debates. It will not only be my pleasure, therefore, but my determination to square my conduct as your presiding officer according to my understanding of these rules ; to show partiality or favor to none, but to mete out even-handed justice to all, to the best of my feeble judgment and ability.

In our assembled capacity, great responsibilities await us ; to be satisfied of this, I need only admonish you of the fact that you are legislators of the state of California, a state which, having just emerged from the incipient stages of governmental organization and before reaching the years of her puberty, has been constrained by a system of improvident and speculative legislation, to peril her political integrity before the people over the humiliating question of repudiation.

May I not, therefore, indulge the hope that we have here assembled as brothers, commissioned by the people for the accomplishment of a single purpose, and that purpose the dispatch of whatever business shall claim our consideration without delay, and with an eye single to the public weal.

Should such a spirit as this, and I trust it may, characterize our deliberations, the time of our session will be shortened to a span, the burthen of taxation made lighter on the people, the name and nature of California legislation be redeemed, and at the close of our labors, we shall be enabled to depart this capital in peace, loving and respecting each other, and on returning to our respective homes, shall no less merit the respect and esteem of our fellow-citizens.

And now, in conclusion, once more allow me to renew the assurance of my devout thanks for the distinction you have honored me with, and believe me, that the feelings of my heart in this, far outweigh the expression that falls from my lips.

The following annual message, with accompanying documents was received from the Governor :

ANNUAL MESSAGE OF THE GOVERNOR.

Fellow-Citizens of the Senate and Assembly :

It is with unaffected pleasure that I welcome to the scene of their official duties the chosen representatives of the people. The auspicious circumstances under which you have assembled, are well calculated to awaken the most devout gratitude to Him who holds in His hands the destinies of states and nations.

Within the past few months, a commercial and financial revulsion has visited our sister states of the Union—prostrating in its course the hopes of thousands, and suddenly reducing a large portion of their population from affluence and comfort to the extremes of poverty and want. From this dread calamity our people have been comparatively exempt, and with their willing contributions have served to aid and succor the distresses of their kindred and country. But a brief period has elapsed since, when, with the embarrassments that surrounded us, and the apparently hopeless condition of the affairs of state, even to the most sanguine and confident there appeared but slight hope of relief, or the ability to rescue our State from the necessity of repudiation, and consequent disgrace. At the present time, however, when the last opportunity is afforded me, as the Executive of the State, to communicate with you, it is indeed a source of gratification to announce that no such despondent thoughts can mar the pleasure of your meeting or embarrass your deliberations.

A large indebtedness, for which no legal responsibility could attach, has been endorsed by an overwhelming majority of the popular voice. The highest judicial tribunal of the state has declared that the vote of the people on this question is rendered binding and obligatory.

A new era is dawning upon us, and the present and future welfare of the state is in a great measure dependent upon the wisdom of your deliberations and the sagacity of your counsels.

FINANCE.

It will be shown by the tabular statements accompanying this, that at no period since the formation of our government has the affairs of the state treasury exhibited such flattering evidence of ability to pay the demands which are constantly being made against it as at the present time; and, indeed, only during the past year has the state ever been able to liquidate at the treasury, the necessary expenses of the government as soon as they accrued. In fact, in all respects, relative to our financial condition, a most cheering state of affairs is now exhibited. The effort which had so long been unsuccessfully made, has at length been attained; that is, our ability, as a state, to "pay as we go;" and, in addition to this, we have ample means to discharge all obligations which are now due, and abundant resources provided for future expenditures, with a large surplus remaining in the state treasury. The expenditures of the government have been reduced to a sum within the receipts provided for its support, independent of ample provision having been made for the payment of the interest, and likewise a sinking fund created, which will ultimately liquidate the public debt. The condition of our financial affairs is such, that you are fully authorized, at the present session of the Legislature, to make a material reduction in the taxation on real and personal property. That you may be advised of the financial transactions regarding state affairs, for the past three years, embracing the last year of my predecessor's term of office, and the two succeeding years of my official term, I have appended to this communication an authentic and reliable exhibit, which has been compiled from the records contained in the offices of the Treasurer and Comptroller of State, not including any payments on interest account for either of the years mentioned.

From that exhibit it will be seen that the expenditures for 1855,
were,	$1,427,517 07
The receipts for the same period, were	990,848 87
	<hr/>
The excess of expenditures for that year, were	$436,668 20
The expenditures for 1856, were	$1,030,912 19
Receipts for the same year, were	886,023 48
	<hr/>
Excess of expenditures for 1856,	$144,888 71
And during the past year, ending the 31st December, 1857, the receipts were	$1,152,234 09
The expenditures for the same period, were	699,803 94
	<hr/>
Excess of receipts for 1857,	$452,430 15

From the foregoing it will be perceived that the expenditures of the year 1857, ending with the thirty-first day of December last, were less than one-half of the expenditures for the corresponding time in the last year of the preceding administration; and the excess of receipts during the year 1857, were greater than the deficiency for the year 1855, and for the two past years the receipts have exceeded the expenditures $307,541 44, and without resort being had to an additional tax upon the property of our citizens.

On the first day of January, 1858, the amount in the treasury was $351,222 71, and at a later time—the sixth of the same month—this balance had reached the sum of $418,521 48; and the receipts from the county treasurers who are required to make payments within the present month, together with the additional payments to be made by the county treasurers during the present fiscal year; also the revenue to be derived from miscellaneous sources, if the sum expended by the present session of the Legislature do not exceed the amount expended by the preceding one, (and they should be much less,) there will be in the state treasury at the expiration of the present fiscal year—the 30th of June next—a surplus of at least four hundred thousand dollars. The presumption is, that it will exceed this estimate.

The question, therefore, now arises, what disposition shall be made of this surplus? My advice is, appropriate it to the payment of our state indebtedness, after retaining in the treasury such amount as, with the ordinary receipts, will be sufficient to defray the current expenses of the government. Then authorize the Treasurer of State to advertise in the same manner, and upon like terms, as provided in the "State Debt Bill" of the last session, for the redemption of state bonds.

The adoption of this suggestion, whilst serving to relieve, in some degree, the burthen of taxation, by the reduction of state indebtedness, will also inspire a great degree of confidence among the creditors of the state, and the employment of the surplus fund in the manner proposed, will remove the inducements to excessive expenditures which are always offered by a plethoric treasury.

From the evidences afforded of the amount to be derived from the various sources of revenue, it is rendered quite certain that there will be collected, under the laws as they now exist, a sum much exceeding the necessary wants of the government; and if convinced of this fact, the duty will necessarily devolve upon you to reduce the rate of taxation within those wants.

The real and personal property of the state subject to taxation in 1857, amounted to $131,806,268 92, and which, for the preceding year, only reached the sum of $113,458,000—indicating an increase of $18,348,268 92—within this lapse of time, as will be found detailed in an accompanying appendix. From these indications, making a most liberal allowance, we can safely estimate the taxable property of the state, for the present year, at $140,000,000.

Under the "State Debt Bill," the rate of taxation therein provided, will produce an amount not only sufficient for the payment of the interest on such indebtedness, but it will also yield a considerable surplus as a sinking fund for the redemption of the outstanding bonds. Wherefore, from the general fund no transfer will be needed on the 1st January, 1859, when the first payment of interest on these bonds is required to be made.

The ordinary expenses of the government can be properly estimated, for the next fiscal year, as not exceeding the sum of $650,000; and, with the exercise of due economy, can be readily brought within the sum of $600,000. From licenses, of various kinds, the stamp act, poll taxes, and miscellaneous sources, there has been received, during the past year, $463,863; and it is not unreasonable to anticipate, for the succeeding year—the collection from the same sources—a revenue fully equaling these receipts. It will be seen that there would then only remain $186,137 of state expenditures to be provided for by the imposition of a tax on real and personal property. Of the estimate before made of the taxable property of the next fiscal year, amounting to $140,000,000, by the result of past observation and experience, it will be proper to estimate the delinquents, and the expenses of collection as amounting to twenty-five per cent., or one-fourth of the entire amount assessed upon the taxable property within this State. Upon this basis of calculation, there will then be needed only the gross sum produced by the taxation of $105,000,000 of property, to meet the necessary requirements of the state. The amount to be derived from this source has been shown to be $186,137 00, and to produce which, would require a collection within a fraction of seventeen and three-quarter cents on each hundred dollars of taxable property. But to insure, without any doubt, the collection of a sum fully sufficient for this purpose, I recommend that twenty cents on the hundred dollars be established as the rate of taxation, to be appropriated for the ordinary expenses of the state for the ensuing year, and which will be ample for all necessary purposes. Unless it should be determined to erect a capitol, and if the mode I have herein suggested is adopted, even then the addition of five cents on the hundred dollars in 1859, with an appropriation the present year from the treasury, would be sufficient. In the event that you should determine to erect such a building—including the thirty cents to be levied as an interest and sinking fund, the total amount of taxation will be but fifty-five cents on the one hundred dollars—a very material reduction from the taxes which for years have been imposed. The revenue act should distinctly specify the amount to be collected for the expenses of the government. The reduction I have here suggested, can be made, and yet leave the state with ample means to pay all needful expenses. Wherefore, I most urgently ask that, in this particular, you amend the present revenue law, conformable with these views.

At the last general election, the bill passed by the preceding Legislature, with the object of legalizing the state debt, was submitted to a vote of the people, and received their endorsement with a vote which, in its numbers, is well calculated to convey the most elevated opinion of the honor and integrity of the people; and the officers whose duties it was by the law to issue the bonds provided for, having been enjoined from proceeding with their duties, on the alleged ground that such action of the Legislature and people gave no validity or legal sanction to that indebtedness, the case was appealed to the Supreme Court, and a few days since, by that tribunal, a decision was given, in which they affirm the constitutionality of the debt. Therefore, it but remains to cancel the former evidences of indebtedness, by the issuance of new bonds, in accordance with the act referred to. The blank bonds have been prepared by the late treasurer, and only await the incoming of the succeeding administration to enable those entitled to receive the benefits of this act to receive these new issues.

The amount of bonds authorized to be issued prior to May 1st, 1859, is	$3,900,000 00
Amount of civil bonds and interest, due January 1st, 1858,	$3,454,816 00
Audited accounts to be funded,	48,283 26
Warrants outstanding, issued from January 1st, 1856, to January 1st, 1857,	120,546 89
Warrants outstanding, issued prior to January 1st, 1856,	78,719 44
Total amount which is now authorized to be funded,	$3,702,365 59
Leaving a surplus of	$197,634 41

There are, however, other claims which are equitable, and the justice of them fully demands that you should, at your present session, audit them, so that they may also be embraced within the funding act. They are of the same character, and, in most instances, quite as just as those which were, by act of the last Legislature, authorized to be funded. So far as the amount to which they should be allowed, that is a matter which will solely depend on your judgment and discretion; but that you may be advised of the probable amount, I herewith append a statement of them:

Surplus as above	$197,634 41
Claims audited by committee on accounts and expenditures, eighth session	$13,003 52
Amount of claims now on file in Comptroller's office which have neither been allowed nor audited	32,925 08
Amount of state prison warrants, $175,406 26, estimated at	145,000 00
	$190,928 60
	$6,705 81

Which, if allowed according to the foregoing estimates, will not quite absorb the sum which is mentioned in the act, leaving a balance of $6,705 81. As the bonds outstanding, however, will not be presented until after the date up to which the interest is calculated, the entire amount will be exhausted;—so that in the calculation to be made of the total of our state indebtedness, it may be estimated at $3,900,000 00 of a bonded debt, for the payment of which a tax is directed to be levied of thirty cents on each one hundred dollars of taxable property within the state. The first interest to be paid on this indebtedness will occur on the first day of January, 1859, and, as will be shown hereafter, the tax imposed for this purpose is ample; and increasing, as it will from year to year, the entire amount can be liquidated within the time (twenty years) required by the act, by the application of the means provided in the act—indeed, if we shall soon realize the recognition of our claim to the “civil fund” from the general government, the liquidation of the entire sum may be accomplished in a few years.

By the non-payment of interest on the old funded debt, and alleged defalcations in the state treasury under the administration of a former incumbent—Henry Bates—I have caused suits to be instituted, and in two cases judgment—which, with the interest on the first of this month, amounted to $181,044 30—has been obtained, and another suit is now pending for the recovery of $124,000 00 given on behalf of the Pacific Express Company. Recently the late District Attorney of Sacramento county, Frank Hereford, Esq., in conjunction with the then Attorney General, the State Treasurer and myself, endeavored to effect a compromise of all the matters involved in the civil suits, such compromises, however, to be subject to the action of the Legislature, but failed in its accomplishment.

REVENUE LAWS.

The practical operation of the present revenue law, so far as it relates to the collection of taxes, is found to meet the most favorable expectations. It needs but few amendments, and only such as are absolutely necessary should be made. If possible, more stringent provisions ought to be introduced so as to compel the payment of poll-tax. The sum derived from this source is meagre, indeed, compared with the amount which should be raised.

The settlements now required to be made by county treasurers, in January and July, should be changed to the third Mondays in June and December, so that the reports of the proper officers will exhibit the financial operations for the current year, which now cannot be done till the reports of the succeeding year are presented to the Legislature. County auditors and assessors should be required, by the enactment of stringent measures, to make such reports in each year as the law provides. From some counties in the state, no reports have been received of this character for two years; and the officers in other counties were impelled to do so at a late period only at the urgent solicitation of the state authorities. These reports are not only important, but absolutely necessary in affording the only reliable data upon which can be predicated an estimate of the proper taxation.

There seems to be some doubt as to the correct interpretation to be given to that portion of the law affixing the per centage to be paid county treasurers. I am confident that the rule now adopted of allowing the maximum specified in the law on each separate payment, if not exceeding $50,000, was not the design of the Legislature, although it may be warranted by the language of the act. It should be amended so as to allow commissions in the proportion which is paid upon the collections of each year.

The evidence furnished by a table found in the appendix, will present a singular contrast in the expenses of the assessment and collection of revenue in the different counties. On the amounts paid into the state treasury since the first of July last, the expenses of collection so widely differ, that it is seen that whilst the least per centage on such assessments and collections is but 2 9-10, the greatest amounts to the enormous sum of 57 per cent., and the average is but 8 37-100 per cent. Such gross inequality as this should not longer exist, and which can alone be obviated by imposing a limitation on the amount of expenses to be allowed for such services, by which the boards of supervisors of the different counties may be restrained from making such liberal allowances, resulting, as they do, so disastrously to the revenues of the state.

In the estimates made on the foregoing, no mention is made of the "war debt," the greater portion of which has been paid by the general government, and the remainder will be assumed without doubt. The condition of it will be found by reference to the reports of the commissioners accompanying this.

The certificates of indebtedness which have been issued during the past year by the board created for this purpose, as they constitute no claim against the state, are to be paid out of such appropriation as the general government may hereafter make for such purpose. The proceedings of that board, and the recommendations contained therein I respectfully call your attention to.

STAMP ACT.

Among the useful measures adopted by the last Legislature, is that which is familiarly known as the "stamp act." An exhibit of the receipts, and expenses incurred under it, is herewith appended. The net receipts, for the six months ending December 31st, 1857, are $53,003 21, and the expenses $4,332 58. This involved the cost of the stamps, paper, printing, and the increased expense consequent on getting into operation the provisions of the law—including an additional clerk in both the offices of Comptroller and Secretary of State. Now, however, the business has become systematized, so that only one clerk is necessary in the performance of this labor, and that one, in the Comptroller's office. Additional clerical assistance in the Secretary of State's office, for this purpose, is needless. The expense should only be the pay of the clerk, and the necessary printing, from the stamps now in use; and the total of which will not exceed $3,500 per annum. It will be seen, therefore, that this is a species of taxation far less expensive in its collection than any other of the various sources from whence our state derives revenue, and should be retained on the statute book, with the addition of such amendments as observation and experience have demonstrated are requisite and proper.

This law does not embrace all of that kind of cases which it was designed to reach. Those who purchase from the banker bills of exchange, are subjected to the payment of stamp duties; but no expense of this kind is incurred by the person who, in his own behalf, makes a shipment of gold dust or bullion. Since the financial revulsion in the eastern states, inducing a want of confidence in the stability of all banks, much of the semi-monthly shipments of treasure are made directly by the individuals, without the intervention of the banker; and of a consequence, all such amounts evade the payment of the tax. The receipts, on this account, have materially diminished within the last two months.

I suggest that the law be amended so as to impose this tax on the bills of lading, instead of exchange. Such provision will reach all classes of shipments made, and consequently in its operation, will be equal and uniform, and furnish a larger proportion of revenue. The law should be further amended so as to classify insurance policies. As it is, this act requires a payment of the same rate of taxation on a policy of insurance, if but for a single month, as though it were for an entire year; and the most numerous class of cases wherein policies of insurance are applied for, are for short periods of time. For the purpose of evading the imposition of this tax, means have been successfully employed by which the law, in this particular, has been rendered almost wholly inoperative. From this source, therefore, but an inconsiderable amount of revenue has been derived. To obviate this, amendment should be made of the character before suggested. This difficulty will be obviated by a classification for single months at rates in the same proportion as are now fixed, with the addition of amendment to the license law, so as to impose a license tax upon those who act as agents within the state for the negotiation or sale of policies of insurance which have been executed out of the state.

CIVIL FUND.

I have hitherto called the attention of the Legislature to the necessity of adopting such enactments as would enable the state to secure the payment of the "civil fund" from the general government. That you may readily understand the character of that fund, I will quote from my annual message of 1857 :

"Between the period of the occupancy of California by the United States military forces and that of our admission as a state into the Union, a large sum of money was collected from the people, in the form of military exactions and duties on imports, which, with the exception of a small amount expended in the civil administration of the government, including the expenses of the convention that formed the constitution, found its way into the treasury of the United States. This is what has usually been denominated the "civil fund," to the possession of which this state has a most unquestionable right. The attention of our Legislatures has been repeatedly called to it by my predecessors, and those bodies have addressed resolutions of instruction to our senators and representatives urging its repayment by the general government. Thus far, no advance has been made towards its procurement, although earnest efforts have been employed to accomplish it in both houses of Congress. In the reports which have come under my observation having relation to this matter, the amount of this fund is greatly underrated. A careful examination of the books of the treasury department at Washington presents the following as a correct exhibit :

From the 6th of August, 1848, when Col. Mason received notice of the treaty with Mexico, up to the 12th of November, 1849, when Col. Collier took office as collector of customs at San Francisco, there was received as military exactions,	-	-	-	$1,365,187 32
And from the 12th of November, 1849, to the 9th of September, 1850, when California was admitted into the Union, there was collected the further sum of,	-	-	-	1,603,561 08
Making a total amount of,	-	-	-	$2,968,748 40
From this there should be deducted the following :
On account of the civil government, including the expenses of the constitutional convention,	-	$162,236 27
Expended for relief of immigrants, in 1849,	-	100,000 00	—	$262,236 27
Balance remaining, and paid into the United States treasury	-			$2,706,512 13

This entire amount, it will be observed, was collected prior to the admission of California into the Union, by the incongruous elements of the civil and military government then exercising authority in the newly acquired Pacific possessions, and when that government was superseded by the organization of the state, and it was recognized as a member of the confederacy, the present government became the legitimate successor of the former, and the moneys which had been collected from the people, and were unexpended in the administration of civil affairs, should have been transferred to it. That large sum is now withheld from us in utter disregard of propriety and justice.

The right of California to this fund was always recognized by the United States officers charged with its collection and disbursement, by the civil and military governor of the territory, and I may add, by the action of the general government itself, in allowing a portion of the amount to be expended in the civil administration of the territory. To the numerous applications which have been made for the repayment of this fund, the reply has ever been, 'an act of Congress is necessary to authorize it.' "

The action which I deemed necessary to be taken last year to secure the refunding of this indebtedness, was only so far adopted as to incorporate in the state debt bill, (which was ratified by a vote of the people at the last election,) a clause providing that all amounts allowed by the general government, on account of that "fund," should be appropriated towards the payment of the state debt embraced within the provisions of that act. This may not be an auspicious occasion, in consequence of the reduced receipts of the national treasury, to press this claim to a successful issue; yet a recognition of our rights should be urged upon the attention of Congress, with a view to the future payment of the debt.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

By an act of the last Legislature, it was recommended to the electors of this State to vote, at the succeeding general election, upon the question of holding a convention for the revision of the state constitution. This act was passed in pursuance of section 2, article x of the constitution, which provides that, upon such recommendation of the Legislature, "it shall be submitted to the electors, at the next election for members of the Legislature, to vote for or against a convention; and, if it shall appear that a majority of the electors voting at such election have voted in favor of calling a convention, the Legislature shall, at its next session, provide by law for calling a convention, to be holden within six months after the passage of such law." The aggregate number of those who voted at that election is not specified in the returns which were received at the state department, and consequently should be determined by the most authentic data we can obtain. These are furnished by the vote which was cast for the office of Lieutenant Governor, being the largest vote cast for any single officer, and numbered 93,881. Of those who voted on the convention question, only 30,226 were in favor thereof, while 17,680 opposed it; from which it appears that not less than 45,995 of the electors neglected altogether to vote upon that subject. It devolves upon you, therefore, to decide a proposition of unusual importance, which is thus submitted for your consideration. Does the result of this vote impose on the Legislature the obligation, or confer upon them the authority, to summon a convention? While I confess it was my earnest desire to witness the triumphant success of this measure, in the sanction by the people of an act whereby a constitution, in all respects adapted to our condition, present and prospective, might be wisely framed, and believing, as I do, that a convention is the only practicable method by which reforms, not only needful, but absolutely essential to the prosperity of this commonwealth, can be obtained; yet despite my wishes, I am constrained to believe the result of that vote does not invest you with the requisite authority. With due consideration and respect for the intelligent understanding of those who entertain a different opinion, I am compelled to regard the section of the constitution heretofore referred to, from the expressiveness of its language and the clearness of its meaning, susceptible of no construction which tolerates the exercise of such power or authority. This view is further strengthened by the context and the connection in which certain words are employed: "If a majority of those voting at such election shall vote in favor of the convention, the Legislature shall, at its next session, provide by law for calling a convention." It will be perceived that the only election specified in the entire section is that for members of the Legislature, from which we must conclude that the words, "A majority of those voting at such election," signify "a majority of those voting at the legislative election," and can mean nothing else. At the late election, the vote in favor of a convention was not that of a majority, but less than one-third of the electors who then cast their votes. If, however, the true construction of the section we are now considering should admit of further question, we may refer to other legitimate sources of information, to ascertain thereby the intention of those who framed the constitution. I call your attention to the first section of the same article, where provision is made for amendments by legislative action. After prescribing the mode of procedure, the section concludes as follows: "And if the people shall approve and ratify such amendment or amendments, by a majority of the electors qualified to vote for members of the Legislature, VOTING THEREON, such amendment or amendments shall become part of the constitution."

Here, it is the obvious intention, that if such amendments shall receive a majority of the votes of electors who vote upon them—not of those who vote upon any or all of the other questions which may be involved in the same election—they are thereby made a portion of the constitution. Hence it follows, that even though the whole number of those who vote upon the question of amendments should constitute a minority, no matter how small, of all those who voted at such election, yet the amendments would be adopted if those who voted in favor thereof constituted a majority of those voting on that question. Such was the case when the only amendment which has ever been applied to the constitution was incorporated therein by a vote of the people, at the general election in the year 1856. Such is the conclusion which inevitably results from the express language of section 1, which only requires a majority of those voting thereon; i. e., voting on the question of amendment; and we may justly infer—indeed it is a plain rule of construction—that if the framers of the constitution had intended to give a similar effect to the succeeding section relative to the same matter, they would have used similar language, or at least have employed such words as would convey a similar meaning. It is a cardinal doctrine in the construction of statutes and a fortiori of constitutions, that the express mention of one thing implies the exclusion of another not mentioned, or as it is expressed in the earlier maxims of the law, "expressio unius est, exclusio alterius." If you expressly name some one of certain requisites, the inference is stronger that those omitted are intended to be excluded, than if none at all had been mentioned. This rule has been declared to be one of the first principles applicable to the construction of statutes. And again, it is a further rule of construction that if any section be intricate, obscure, or doubtful, the proper mode of discerning its true meaning is by comparison with other sections, and finding out the meaning of one clause by the words or obvious intent of another. This is pronounced by that eminent jurist, Sir Edward Coke, to be the most natural and genuine method of expounding a statute. If, however, further evidence is wanting of the construction designed to be given to this important feature of the constitution, the published debates of the body which framed that compact must remove all remaining doubt on the subject. By the original report of the committee in convention, amendments to the constitution required a two-third vote for their adoption. It was proposed, however, to substitute the word "majority" for the words "two-thirds," wherever they occurred in both sections of article x. The proposition elicited a general expression of the views of members on this point. During the course of a protracted discussion, maintained on either side with vigor and ability, the supporters of the "majority" rule contended that the true basis of political supremacy in a government consisted in the recognition of that right which a majority of the people should possess, of altering or amending the constitution and laws in accordance with their ascertained will; that no such limitation as a two-third vote, whereby the minority would be empowered to defeat the will of a majority, should impair that right or be imposed upon its exercise. To this it was responded, by the advocates of the opposing doctrine, "that the fundamental law of a state, unlike the enactments of its legislation, should be protected from the influence of those radical and frequent changes which might result from local issues or intense political excitement; that no changes should be allowed in the fundamental law unless demanded by a manifest and decided expression of the wishes of the people; and that a proper guarantee of this principle would be afforded by the adoption of the two-third vote." For a time, the proposed amendment was successfully resisted, but finally, upon a reconsideration of the vote in convention, it was adopted, and the majority principle, as we now find it in the constitution, permanently established. But amidst the diversity of views which prevailed in the convention, none, even among those advocating the most extreme opinions, ever ventured to suggest the dangerous proposition that a minority of the people might destroy the constitution. Yet such would be the practical result, if the vote we are considering could authorize you to call a convention to change the organic law of our state. It would sanction a principle alike incongruous with precedent and reason;—a principle pregnant with revolutionary tendencies, and dangerous in its enforcement, involving the utter insecurity and inefficiency of the government reared upon such basis. Inasmuch as, under the recent vote of the people, you have no power to summon a convention, it becomes important that you should again submit the question to the electors of the state.

During the past year the general election of state officers so occupied, and indeed, absorbed the public mind, that attention was, in a great degree, diverted from the consideration of the convention act. At a future time, with less political excitement, this subject will be more thoroughly scrutinized, and the necessity more fully appreciated. It is almost universally conceded that the constitution requires amendment in many particulars of material importance to the welfare of the state. Of the many changes which have been proposed, I would especially call your attention to the necessity of re-organizing the judicial system, whereby the number of judges of the Supreme Court shall be increased, and associate justices of the courts of sessions abolished. The extensive and increasing business of the former, exacts from the judges an amount of labor which prevents them from giving to cases, submitted for their consideration, such attention as their importance oftentimes demands; whilst the associate justices of the latter are usually but needless appendages to the court, and a useless expense to the several counties: A reduction of the number of county officers and their emoluments of office; a rigid constitutional restriction upon the creation of debts by counties, cities and towns; the adoption of a system of single representative and senatorial districts, whereby each voter in the state shall alike be represented; a limitation of legislative sessions and their expenditures. These are some of the needed reforms so indispensable to the public welfare—and they cannot be obtained by mere enactments of the Legislature. To such as reflect on this subject, involving as it would, amendments in so many varied particulars, it will appear that nothing but a constitutional convention can relieve the state from many of the evils with which it is afflicted.

In canvassing the merits of this question, one of the most potent arguments hitherto advanced against a convention, and probably the chief objection which now exists in the minds of the people, is the expense in which it would involve the state. This objection, I apprehend, is more imaginary than real. Indeed, the time consumed by the members of the Legislature, in the discussion of the convention question, and the adoption of legislative amendments, together with other attendant expenditures, have even thus far, I am confident, greatly exceeded in their cost, the actual expense of holding a convention. Such a body would not necessarily exceed one hundred and fifteen members—equaling the number of members in both branches of the Legislature. It would be but a single body, and therefore its incidental expenses would be much less than if separate organizations existed. Its entire session need not, and I am persuaded would not, exceed sixty days in duration. The most commanding talent of the state—and from such should a convention be selected—would be invoked for this purpose, and constitute a council having a more elevated regard for its dignities and duties, than the pecuniary compensation of its labor. A per diem allowance of five dollars, with mileage equivalent to actual traveling expenses, would be a satisfactory recompense for the services of such men as should be selected to discharge so important and responsible a trust. Including all necessary expenses attendant on the session of such a body, the total cost thereof should not exceed the sum of seventy-five thousand dollars, and by their judicious action, the tax-payers in the various counties of the state, would be reimbursed for that entire amount, within a single month. I therefore sincerely hope you may find it consistent with the sense of duty you owe your constituency, and the enlightened conviction of your own understanding, to pass an act during the present session, whereby this question shall be resubmitted at the next general election to the consideration of the electors of this state.

STATE CAPITOL.

After the frequent changes we have witnessed of the seat of government, at length a degree of permanency has been given to it which fully justifies speedy action being taken for the erection of public buildings suitable for the various departments of government. Independent of that laudable pride which, in the present condition of public affairs, should impel such action—in a pecuniary sense it would be serviceable to the public good. The amount of rents now paid by the state government fully equals the interest on $300,000, at 7 per cent. per annum—the same rate which is to be paid on our public debt. That sum, or even less, will suffice to erect a suitable building for the necessary purposes of the state, and I recommend the passage of a law at this session, making provision for the erection of such a building. Having a higher regard for those qualities which combine convenience and durability, than the mere saving of a few thousand dollars, the erection of such an edifice should occupy at least two or three years; and I regard it of doubtful expediency to adopt the popular idea, that the entire contract should be let to the “lowest bidder;” because, in such case, the inevitable result would be that such contracts would ultimately prove more expensive than if performed by laborers and artisans distinctively employed for such work. With an appropriation of $100,000 for the present year, and a like sum in each of the succeeding two years, to be expended under the direction of a board composed of state officers, with authority to employ an architect and superintendent, we would witness, within three years, the completion of an edifice combining all the requirements for which it is intended.

At the last session of the Legislature an act was passed, authorizing a contract to be made for this purpose, but soon afterwards the Supreme Court decided the appropriation to be unauthorized; in consequence of which, the contractor was compelled to relinquish the further prosecution of the work; and therefore, such contract may be regarded as a nullity, and should be treated as such. However, the equitable claim of the contractor, for the work performed by him prior to the decision of the Supreme Court, should be recognized by the state, and provision made for its payment. The plan of the structure, as originally adopted under the law of 1856, may be deemed of sufficient capacity, and if constructed of brick, instead of granite, will materially reduce the cost of its erection. These subjects, however, are necessarily embraced within the scope of your legislative action.

STATE PRISON.

The direction of the state prison, ever since its establishment, has been a source of complaint on the part of the people, and for various causes. First, the lessee system was adopted, whereby the labor of the convicts was received as an equivalent for their keeping. The charges of ill-treatment of the prisoners, and the frequency of escapes, became so notorious that the Legislature in 1855, changed the policy of the law, by creating a board of directors, consisting of three persons, the first of which were appointed by my predecessor in May, 1855. These officers were succeeded by those who were elected by the people at the general election of that year, and those elected entered upon their duties about the 1st day of January, 1856.

During the incumbency of the first board of directors the expenditures, including the amount allowed by them for the erection of the prison wall, was $382,226 84, in the space of seven months, being a monthly average of $54,603 83; and during the time it was under the management of their successors, from the 1st of January to the 26th of April, 1856, the expenses incurred by them was $93,186 39; being an average per month of $24,100; or within the space of less than eleven months, costing $475,413 23.

A disclosure of these startling facts induced the passage of the act of April, 1856; which law authorized a contract to be made for the care and safe keeping of the prisoners, and the erection of such buildings as should be required for state prison purposes, at a cost to the state not exceeding $15,000 per month. The state prison commissioners, consisting of the Lieutenant-Governor, State Comptroller and Treasurer, under the law, made a contract at the rate of $10,000 per month for the period of five years, with Gen. Estell as lessee. The contract was well guarded in its provisions, and enjoined upon the lessee the duty of erecting such buildings, either at the present site of the prison, or elsewhere, as he might be directed to do by the commissioners. In this arrangement there was also procured a release to the state of a large amount which the lessee claimed as due him for certain property taken for the use of the state.

There have been frequent, and indeed complaints are constantly made, regarding the management of the prison and the treatment of the prisoners. To what extent these complaints are well founded or untrue, you possess the authority of ascertaining. There is one fact, however, which should outweigh mere pecuniary considerations, and which should govern the policy of a great state in such matters; that is, although these people are felons, and may be deserving their sad fate, yet the dictates of humanity demand the treatment of them as human beings. It is, however, questionable whether, under the "lessee system," this will ever be done, as the interest of the lessee is generally more regarded than the proper care and comfort of the prisoners. After the experience of the past in the different plans adopted by the state, I believe it would be much better, if it can be done so as not to invalidate the sentence of those now in prison, to make an arrangement with the lessee on such terms as might be agreed upon, and abolish the institution entirely, and hereafter let each county assume the expense and management of those convicted in their courts. Whilst such a plea would relieve the state of the expense of keeping them, and their transportation—nearly $160,000 in each year—and about one-fourth of the entire expenses of our government, at the same time they would be better provided for; and with the labor which they could perform, would fully reimburse the expense to which they would subject the county. This might be done by adopting each county jail as a branch of the state prison, and thereby remove any doubt as to the validity of their imprisonment, if transferred. These suggestions are made for your consideration, with the expectation that you will at least adopt some plan at the present session as will effectually remove the complaints which are now being made on this account.

I do not deem it advisable to have any more expense incurred in the erection of improvements at the present location of the prison, as it is in every respect unadapted to the purposes contemplated; and if a more eligible site was selected, and improvements there made from time to time, by the labors of the convicts, with prudent management, they might be made to pay the expenses; but it is quite certain this cannot be accomplished by their employment where the prison is now situated.

INSANE ASYLUM.

The law creating the insane asylum provides that the resident physician and board of trustees shall, during the first week of the legislative session, transmit to that body a report of their official acts for the preceding year. This provision of the law should be so changed as to direct such reports to be made to the Governor by the 20th of December in each year, as other state officers are required to do; by him to be presented to the Legislature. This will enable the Executive, in his annual message, to speak advisedly of the condition of the asylum, and make such needful recommendations relating to the same, as may seem to him proper. At the present time, in the absence of any official information, I can know but little of its management or wants. By a personal inspection of the institution during the last autumn, I was favorably impressed with the appearance of the buildings and grounds, and the attention bestowed upon its unfortunate inmates. The building for the use of the resident physician, authorized by an act of the last Legislature, has, I believe, been fully completed, but does not afford the accommodations designed by the law, in consequence of no provision having been made for the purchase of the necessary furniture. To supply this deficiency, I would recommend an appropriation to be made. In consequence of the improved condition of our state treasury, by which the trustees have been enabled latterly to obtain cash for the use of the asylum, instead of being compelled to submit to a large discount on the scrip issued to them, as was the case previously, I presume their financial report will exhibit a considerable diminution in the expenditures; and for the coming fiscal year, a material reduction unquestionably can be made in the appropriation for its support, without detracting from the comfort and necessary wants of the inmates.

HOUSE OF REFUGE.

Under the present criminal code, however young an offender may be who is convicted of felony, he must be consigned to the state prison. There, by constant intercourse with the vicious and depraved, he soon becomes as degraded and irreclaimable as his associates. The necessity must be conceded of a law authorizing the establishment of a house of refuge, separate and distinct from the state prison, for the punishment and correction of all offenders under the age of sixteen years. A law of this character will also require an amendment of the criminal code, which will readily suggest itself to your attention.

If those of youthful years who have propensities for crime were placed under proper training, and kept separate from more hardened offenders, in many instances they could be reclaimed from the paths of vice, and rendered worthy and respectable citizens.

APPRENTICES.

I would also call your attention to the necessity for some well digested act relating to apprentices. The number of wayward boys who now infest the community—especially in the larger cities and towns—with no employment or the means of education, and who are rapidly growing up to manhood without the promise of adding either to the common wealth or common respectability, is very large, and should be provided for by such salutary legislation as may tend to improve and elevate their present and future condition in society. No better plan for this purpose could be devised, than to secure for them the means of acquiring some useful trade or occupation, where the separate relations of master and apprentice are properly defined.

CONCEALED WEAPONS.

The practice of carrying deadly weapons concealed about the person, has become so universal, and is productive of such lamentable consequences, that it would seem to demand the correcting power of legislation. I am led to believe, from a careful investigation of the facts in numerous cases to which my attention has been called, that a large proportion of the homicides which have occurred, and the personal injuries inflicted in this state, may be immediately traced to this cause. Controversies and disputes which have for this reason resulted with fatal consequences, in a majority of cases would be adjusted without resort to bloodshed, if it were not for the temptation which, in the moment of ungovernable passion, is offered these convenient instruments of death to take immediate and sanguinary vengeance.

It cannot be denied that the practice of carrying concealed weapons engenders in the human mind a feeling of reckless desperation, dangerous to the peace and well-being of society. There are few, if any, of the criminal codes of our sister states, which do not contain a clause prohibiting this pernicious custom; and I earnestly recommend to your honorable body the enactment of such a law as may in future effectually prevent and eradicate so great an evil.

PHYSICIANS AND DRUGGISTS.

An act defining the necessary qualifications of physicians and druggists, before they are permitted to enter upon the practice of their respective callings, I regard as of essential importance. The successful pursuit of no profession requires more thorough training and experience than the art of healing diseases and preserving the health of mankind, and none is more useful and necessary. But in proportion to the necessity and value of the science of medicine, when properly understood and applied, are its dangerous and destructive consequences, when it is perverted from its legitimate uses, and is attempted to be put in practice by those unacquainted with its precepts and principles. Instances are frequently occurring in which individuals, representing themselves to the public as skilled in medical science, have, by their ignorance or carelessness, caused either the protracted suffering or untimely death of their too credulous but unsuspecting victims. There is perhaps no country where empiricism is so rife as in this state; and the lives and health of our people are too valuable to be placed at the indiscriminate mercy of arrogant pretenders.

The lawyer, who deals to the greatest extent, with our property and pecuniary interests, is compelled to undergo a strict examination as to his qualifications for that profession; but the physician, into whose hands are intrusted the higher and dearer interests of life and death, and the vendor of drugs, whose proper office should be to alleviate instead of to protract the maladies of the body, are permitted to pursue their separate callings, regardless of legal restraint or ascertained qualifications.

AMENDMENTS OF LAWS.

In my last annual message to the Legislature numerous recommendations were made, embracing needful amendments to many of the existing laws of the state, which did not receive their favorable consideration, or were permitted to be passed over without any action being taken upon them; and regarding many of them now, as I then did, of sufficient importance to the people for whom you are constituted the law-making authority, I desire to call your earnest attention to them, and reiterate some of the reasons which I urged in behalf of their adoption, when addressing your predecessors. Of these may be mentioned the attachment act, the insolvent act, the homestead act, the law regulating sole traders, law of divorce, evidence in chancery proceedings, a registry act, the several acts regulating elections, and various amendments of the criminal code.

ATTACHMENT ACT.

The several acts regulating the issuance of attachments, as they now appear on statute books, have long been a matter of almost universal complaint; and in view of the well known wishes of the people, it is indeed a cause of great surprise that the requisite changes have not heretofore been made. As the law now exists, it is frequently made the instrument of oppression, and even ruin, to honest but unfortunate debtors, and is quite as often used as the means of vile collusion between the debtor and preferred creditors, to the exclusion of other indebtedness. It certainly is not only a probable, but a demonstrable fact, that the benefits conferred by this law are more than counterbalanced by the injuries it inflicts, and the evils engendered under its operation and influence. Now, the over anxious creditor—if the indebtedness is due—can sue out his attachment upon “any express or implied contract for the payment of money, if made or payable in this state,” and attach an amount of property without reference to the extent of the indebtedness, thus encumbering the property and hopelessly embarrassing the debtor. In its general usefulness as a means of aiding the collection of debts from those who really should be made subjects of the more stringent requirements of the law, an effectual remedy would be afforded by the adoption, substantially, of the provisions of the act of 1850, with this material alteration: permit an attachment to issue for any of the specified causes mentioned in that act, whether the debt is, or is not due. This will afford a most effectual remedy against fraudulent or absconding debtors, from which cause the principal sufferers are found among the mercantile and trading community. The changes in this law, as I have proposed, may not fully meet your views, and to your judgment I therefore submit these considerations, with the expectation that, if they do not receive your sanction, some better system may be devised which will effectually obviate the objectionable features of the act now in force.

INSOLVENT LAWS.

I am confident that the present act regulating proceedings in cases of insolvency has failed to meet the expectations of those who favored its adoption. The history of those proceedings had in insolvent cases in the various courts of this state, furnish, in numerous instances, abundant evidence of the necessity existing for its repeal or essential modification. The policy of different states, and of the general government, relating to this matter has at different periods varied materially; more especially in reference to permitting the insolvent personally to make application for a discharge from his indebtedness. In many states—and such is the English policy—the insolvent, or bankrupt, has not the right to make application for the benefits of the law, but his creditors may enforce its provisions against him. The change of our law, in this particular, would at once remove all inducement for attempting the perpetration of frauds so easily effected under the present act. If, however, this suggestion does not meet your approbation, I am induced to believe you will at least make such amendments as will, to a considerable degree, arrest the evils complained of. The applicant should accompany the petition for a discharge from his indebtedness with the written consent of those representing at least one-half of the amount of debts embraced within such proceedings; and notification to creditors required to be made by newspaper publication in the county of which the applicant is a citizen, for the space of three months before the hearing of such application.

HOMESTEAD.

Experience has amply demonstrated the necessity of some amendments to the act of 1851, "for the exemption of the homestead and other property from forced sale." The law should provide that the property claimed as a homestead be entered on the records of the county in which it is situated, and be designated and appropriated for this purpose, and occupied as the residence of the family. Such a course would place this family heritage beyond the reach of cavil or question, and at the same time, constitute such a notification to creditors as to leave them without excuse in their efforts, if any should be made, to subject it to execution or other legal process.

SOLE TRADERS.

The act authorizing married women to transact business in their own names as sole traders, should be so amended as to restrict the wife, who avails herself of its provisions, to such business as is suitable and becoming for her sex; and also to require that the declaration made by her shall state that no portion of the capital employed in the proposed business was derived either directly or indirectly from the husband.

The intention of this law was to guard the industrious and frugal wife from distress and want by the prodigality and carelessness of an improvident husband, and this object can be readily attained with the amendments here suggested, whilst these changes would tend to prevent those frauds which may now be practiced with impunity. It will be readily seen that the husband can easily shield his property from his creditors under the law as we find it.

It is believed that the liberality of our laws as affording security for the maintenance of families, are unequalled by the enactments of any other state. Our constitution provides that all the property of the wife, owned or claimed by her before marriage, and all afterwards acquired by gift, devise or descent, shall be her separate property, and it is consequently exempt from the debts of the husband. A like constitutional provision has induced the enactment, as already shown, of a homestead law, which secures to each family a home of the value of five thousand dollars.

With the liberality of the law in furthermore exempting from forced sale certain personal property, most assuredly the protection to families is abundant, without resort to the cover of fraud, so conveniently afforded by the existing law, now under consideration.

DIVORCES.

It is the province of government, and should be its policy, to discourage, so far as consistently can be done, the dissolution of the marriage tie, which constitutes one of the distinguishing traits, and is likewise rendered a most efficient aid in the advancement of civilization and morality. Those who are observant of the facility with which divorces from the bonds of matrimony are obtained under present enactments, as evidenced in the numerous cases presented to our courts, will readily conclude that there is some radical defect in the law. Some of these objectionable features of the law I will call to your attention.

The publication of notice, as now authorized, should be more restricted—a greater length of time required—and even then the party compelled to make a proper showing to the court, that personal service has been had on the defendant, or ineffectual efforts employed to make such service wheresoever the party may reside. All cases of this character should be tried by a court and jury in open session, by which the results so frequently following the reference of cases, may be avoided. It should also be made the duty of the district attorney to appear in opposition to all such applications. The adoption of these suggestions would, doubtless, materially reduce the number of applications, and prevent the disreputable uses to which the law has been prostituted.

EVIDENCE IN COURTS OF JUSTICE.

I would further urge upon your serious consideration the propriety of amending our statutory laws regarding witnesses, and the competency of their evidence in criminal and civil cases.

Under the statute, as it now exists, "Indians, or persons having one-half or more of Indian blood, and negroes, or persons having one-half or more of negro blood, in an action or proceeding to which a white person is a party," are excluded from giving testimony in any case. This prohibition embraces those, including Asiatics, who, by our constitution, are excluded from the enjoyment of our political rights, yet are not denied a residence among us; but, on the contrary, by the policy of our laws, are encouraged to dwell in our midst, and by their labor augment the wealth and contribute to the revenues of the state. In all their rights of persons and of property, they are guarantied the protecting power of the government; yet this cannot effectually be extended, whilst they are excluded from testifying in our courts of justice.. Outrages and deeds of violence are constantly occurring, without the possibility of detection or of punishment, because the only witnesses by whom their commission can be proved are denied the privilege of giving evidence. This indiscriminate prohibition I regard as utterly at variance with the spirit of our constitution and a wise and judicious governmental policy. And, whilst both judges and juries should estimate the weight and credibility of the evidence admitted, I apprehend no serious evil can arise from modifying the law so far as to authorize the court, in the absence of other testimony, to receive such evidence in judicial proceedings.

EVIDENCE IN CHANCERY CASES.

By the existing provisions of the law, in civil actions the deposition of a witness cannot be used either in actions at law or in chancery, if such witness is a resident or within the county at the time of trial. By the ancient rules in equity proceedings, and in all countries where the common law now prevails, the universal practice is to present the testimony by the depositions of witnesses, and not an oral examination in open court. This practice is found to be an absolute necessity in the transaction of business of the courts, else complicated and tedious trials of this character would consume unnecessarily its time, to the great inconvenience and detriment of other interests. The law should be amended so that in all chancery proceedings, testimony shall be taken by depositions exclusively.

CONGRESSIONAL ELECTION.

For successive years the effort has been made by our Legislature to sub-divide the state into congressional districts, from each of which a single representative should be chosen; but thus far, notwithstanding precedent and example are afforded by the action of all the other states, no measure of this character has been adopted. No valid reason can be adduced why such a system of congressional representation should not prevail here as elsewhere. Indeed, the vast extent of our territory, and the varied interests and pursuits of our people peculiarly require such a provision to be made, and such trivial reasons as preferences for particular individuals, or the probable success of political favorites in their aspirations for congressional honors, should not be permitted to influence your counsels or direct your action. With the full belief that you will enact a law of this character, having reference to an equality of population and contiguous territory, these views are respectfully submitted.

At the legislative session of 1852, a change was made in the time prescribed for the election of members of congress by which such election should occur in the year immediately preceding the meeting of the Congress to which they are elected. As the general election, excepting on the recurring of a presidential contest, is held nearly sixteen months before the time when it is necessary they should enter upon their duties, it is a matter of doubtful propriety to appoint so early a period for the election of our representatives.

Reasons which existed when that law was enacted, have at this time no proper application. The unsettled condition of the population, and the want of facilities, since afforded, for the transmission of returns, rendered it a matter of impossibility for the members elect to receive the evidence of their election, and reach the scene of their labors in time to participate in the opening proceedings of Congress. At all times, representatives should be chosen at the nearest possible approach to the assembling of the body to which they are elected, so that, in their representative character, they may appear as the real exponents of the opinions and sentiments of their constituency; and in a state like this, with its migratory population, the observance of this principle is of absolute necessity.

Another cogent reason for the proposed change is, that our political elections, involving the choice of a president, state officers and members of congress, could then occur at most, but in alternate years. I am confident the people of the state would hail with much delight, the passage of a law by which the elections, other than presidential elections, could be held within the same year, thereby, for a time, at least, avoiding the excitement and strife consequent upon such political contests.

SUPREME COURT.

The Supreme Court, in all instances, are required by law to deliver written opinions upon the decisions of the same. By the testimony of the court, and the experience of those who are practitioners before it, it is shown that this rule in many cases is devolving upon that body needless and unnecessary labor, and is productive of mischievous effects. Frequently it is, that cases are appealed merely for delay; and when called in their regular order upon the calendar, and submitted to the court, the time which will then transpire before the cases can be decided in their relative positions with other causes submitted, several months may elapse; and which, but for this requirement of the law, could as properly have been decided, orally, by the court at the instant of its submission. The accumulating labors imposed on this court, suggests the necessity of relieving them from such portion of their official duties as can be consistent with the public interests; and in this instance it can be done with great propriety. To this extent I would propose to amend the act referred to, by authorizing the Supreme Court, in their discretion, in those instances where the judgment of the court below is affirmed, to render oral decisions.

ENROLLMENT OF BILLS.

I deem it my duty to call your attention to the importance of a more careful examination of the bills enrolled by the clerks of the two branches of the Legislature than has heretofore been observed. At its last session, the disagreeable necessity devolved upon me to return several bills, on account of palpable errors in their enrollment. This should not again occur, and will not, if competent clerks only are employed, and the enrolling committees properly perform their duties. Oftentimes the omission or change of punctuation, or the erroneous orthography of a single word, may be attended by the most injurious effects. A notable instance of this character occurred not long since, in a suit involving $8,000, which was decided by the Supreme Court against the state, on a construction given to a particular section of the constitution. This resulted from the absence of a single letter, omitted in the published editions of that instrument; and the mistake was not discovered until at a later time, a case involving a similar principle was tried in the same court, and, upon examination of the original parchment copy on file in the state department, disclosed the mistake into which the court had been led. No erasures or interlineations should exist in a bill, when sent to the Executive. The uniform observance of this custom will prevent the possibility of any unauthorized alteration being made in a law after it has passed the Legislature.

Among the established regulations of the two Houses, a rule has heretofore existed that no bill should be presented to the Governor on the last day of the legislative session. This rule has never been enforced; but, on the very last day of the session, frequently many of the most important bills are delivered to him, when a sufficient time for proper examination of them is not afforded. From this cause, it may often result that improper legislation receives his approval.

MILEAGE.

The schedule of distances, as fixed by the act of May 15, 1854, between the different points mentioned in it, is made the basis of compensation for such public officers as are by law entitled to mileage from the state, including members of the Legislature, county treasurers—when visiting the capital on business relating to their office—and the sheriffs of the counties, when charged with the transportation of convicts to the state prison. At that period, but an imperfect knowledge was possessed of the distances so established, and with the better understanding of the subject which we now have, it can be readily perceived that, with probably two exceptions—and those are cases wherein the seats of justice have been removed to more remote localities since the passage of the law—as the distances are therein classified, gross injustice is permitted to be done the state, resulting in the payment from the treasury, in each year, many thousands of dollars more than the officers are properly entitled to receive. Compensation of this character is made by law to reimburse the expenses which are incident to traveling whilst in the performance of public duties, and the rates as now affixed, evince much liberality, and when the demands are promptly paid, as has been the case during the past year, constitutes a source of no inconsiderable profit to the officer; wherefore, such alterations should be made in the act, as will define the distances with greater accuracy, and with a just regard to the protection of the interests of the state.

In the same connection, I would also request your attention to be given to this subject in another particular. About the sum of forty thousand dollars is drawn from the state treasury in each year, for the transportation of convicts to the state prison. For this service, the allowance should be simply an amount sufficient to meet the expenses necessarily incurred in the performance of this duty. Whilst it is made a state charge, it will be impossible to restrict the payments within those limits; but make it a county charge, empowering the boards of supervisors to audit bills for the actual expenses thus incurred, and it will be seen that this item of expenditure would not exceed one-half the present cost. The same rule of allowance by the state, originally applied to the transportation of patients to the insane asylum, but afterwards it was made a county charge. Since then, the cost has been materially diminished, and the same result would follow the adoption of this proposed amendment.

STATE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

The constitution of our state enjoins upon the Legislature the duty of encouraging, by all suitable means, the promotion of agricultural improvement; and, with the object of carrying into effect this wise and beneficial provision, an act was passed in 1854, incorporating a state agricultural society, and the sum of five thousand dollars each succeeding year has been appropriated from the public treasury, to be expended in the distribution of premiums at the annual fairs held by the society. These appropriations have thus far been judiciously used, in accordance with the objects of the law, and have contributed much to the interest given to this laudable purpose, by inducing competition for the honors awarded at these exhibitions for the productions and skill of our people. I deem the designs of the association as eminently worthy of the fostering aid of government, and request that the usual sum be appropriated at the present session, to be expended under the auspices of the agricultural society, for similar purposes.

AN ACT FOR THE PROTECTION OF SETTLERS.

The act of March 26, 1856, designed for the protection of settlers upon private land claims, having in its most essential feature been decided unconstitutional by the Supreme Court of our state, it has thereby been rendered nugatory in its operation. In view of this fact, together with the evident necessity of protecting, by legislative enactments, a numerous class of cases which present most cogent reasons for such interposition, I recommend that such an act be passed, which will obviate the objectionable features of the law referred to, whilst rendering such security to the large number of our citizens as will be equitable and just towards all the parties who may be interested in the decision of such questions.

STATE LIBRARY.

The report of the Secretary of State, herewith transmitted, will communicate to you a detailed exhibit of the condition of the state library. This fund, arising from the fees in the office of Secretary of State, is rapidly building up a valuable collection of books—there having been added within two years, inclusive of purchases which have been made and are now on the way from the east, three thousand two hundred and sixteen volumes; at the present time there are in the library, exclusive of the laws and journals of our own state, no less than six thousand and eight volumes of well-selected standard works. From the receipts of the office for the past two years, five thousand and ninety-four dollars have been expended in the purchase of books. By the judicious application of this fund as it accumulates, in a few years the library will become a matter of commendable pride and boast to our citizens.

With the facilities afforded by existing laws, in an interchange of our state publications, we are annually in receipt of the laws, journals and judicial decisions of other states and territories; also, the various congressional publications. This statute only embraces the states, territories and departments of the general government; and if like facilities were afforded so as to include foreign governments in this system of exchange, at a trivial cost we would procure from these sources, many of the most valuable works issued from the press of other countries.

EDUCATION.

Amidst the innumerable evidences which so cheeringly portray our advancement in all those essential elements contributing to the prosperity and welfare of the people and government, none can more justly excite admiration, or claim the fostering aid of the state, than its educational interests.

This subject demands your most considerate attention, in the adoption of such legislation as will render available the rich legacy bestowed upon our schools and seminaries of learning. It is needless, at this time, to indulge in reflections upon the past inaction with which, on this subject, the preceding Legislatures may be justly censurable; but, if they have been unmindful of their interest, it only renders more manifest your duties, and enhances your responsibilities. Of the five hundred thousand acres of lands donated by the general government for common school purposes, two hundred and thirty-seven thousand four hundred acres have been sold, at two dollars per acre, realizing $478,800 00; upon which the state pays seven per cent. interest, amounting to the annual sum of $33,521 60, which, with other resources, is increased to $58,520 88, the present year; and, excepting in those cities and counties where a special tax is levied for the purpose, this amount is all the aid at present derived from the government. Of the five hundred thousand acres of lands referred to, there is yet unsold two hundred and sixty-two thousand five hundred and sixty acres. Also, by an act of Congress, we are entitled to the sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections (one-eighteenth part of the whole,) of the public lands in the state, the proceeds of which are to be appropriated for similar educational purposes. After making due allowance for private land claims and swamp lands, the proportion belonging to the state cannot fall short of three millions of acres which can be made available, and will, in the course of time, doubtless realize the average rate of two dollars per acre; and, when all are disposed of, constituting a common school fund of $7,000,000. It is true, many years must necessarily elapse before the increase of population and advancing settlement of the state will enable us to realize, to the full extent, the invaluable benefits of this noble heritage; but, from year to year, the increasing sales of the lands will continue to augment these revenues, and, ere long, will be enjoyed in this state the benefits of the most munificent common school fund possessed by a population of equal number in any country.

A table, showing the number of school children, schools, and teachers—also the amount of school fund distributed—in different years since the establishment of our school system, will be found in the appendix. From this it will be seen that the number of school children for the past year was 35,722, being an increase over the number reported in 1856 of 5,683. The rapid increase of those who are dependent on the school fund of the state for the means of education, should certainly constitute an urgent reason why the large quantity of school lands to which we are entitled should be made productive.

Also, for the purpose of establishing a state university, a liberal donation has been made by the general government. With reference to these matters, they have received the attention of both the late and the present Superintendent of Public Instruction, and the recommendations made in their reports are worthy of your most earnest attention. Efficient measures should be adopted to have these lands selected, as the longer the delay occurs, the less valuable will be found the lands remaining from whence these selections can be made.

SWAMP LANDS.

From the estimate made by the Surveyor General, there are not less than five millions of acres of swamp lands within our borders belonging to the state. Some have been sold, the particulars of which will be found in the annual report of the Surveyor General ; yet the larger portion are not only unsold, but have not been selected or set apart for our use. Measures should be at once provided to have these lands designated. The value which will attach to them is, in a great measure dependent on their reclamation ; and without the adoption of a regular plan or system, whereby large bodies of lands of this character may be reclaimed, they will prove of but little value.

A plan which would effect the desired object, and the compensation to be made in a portion of the lands, occurs to me as the only feasible way to render them productive. I would recommend that the entire laws regulating the land system of the state—embracing the swamp and school lands—be remodeled, and transferring the duties appertaining to them from the office of the Secretary of State to that of Surveyor General, where such duties can be performed more understandingly. The present law relative to the location and purchase of school and swamp lands, is too complicated, and the expenses incurred thereby much enhanced. These expenses often fully equal the price of the lands. Whilst this state of facts exists, it will serve much to retard the sale of them.

MILITARY AFFAIRS.

The isolated and exposed condition of California peculiarly requires a system of military organization which, during a period like unto our present peaceful relations, may be simplified in its operations, and maintained at a mere nominal expense ; while the same organization, in any contingency which could possibly arise, would be adapted to all needful and requisite purposes. To fill the measure of either of the foregoing requirements, our present military system is manifestly insufficient. As a peace establishment, it is too complex and expensive ; for purposes of war, impracticable and useless.

To the attainment of these ends, I suggest the abolishment of the adjutant and quartermaster general's office—the duties of that office to be devolved, ex officio, on the Secretary of State, and conferring on the commander-in-chief (the Governor of the State) authority to appoint the requisite staff officers, conforming to the organization of the United States army—in the happening of those contingencies so peculiarly excepted in our state constitution—"in case of war—to repel invasion or suppress insurrection." Furthermore, the present subdivision of the state into divisions and brigades, should be made to conform more properly to adjacent territory, and to equalize the number of citizens liable to the performance of military duty. A yet more radical re-organization, whereby the major and brigadier-generals shall be re-elected or appointed, I am not sure but that it might prove, in some instances, highly beneficial, in case the military force of the state should be called to the field.

WOOD'S DIGEST.

The digest of laws compiled by Wm. H. R. Wood, and published by authority of the last Legislature, has been completed, and five hundred copies—the number authorized—delivered to the state. The work is gotten up in a manner reflecting much credit upon both the compiler and publisher ; and, combining, as it does, in one conveniently sized volume, all the laws of a general character, arranged under appropriate heads, and with a complete index, must prove of great public utility. The number of copies which has been purchased by the state, is wholly inadequate to the supply of those officers which should receive them. The acts of the earlier sessions of our Legislature, have nearly, if not quite, all disappeared from the library. Indeed, they have become so scarce, that it is a difficult matter to obtain them anywhere. The consequence has been, that for several years past, officers of justice have experienced serious inconvenience for the want of the necessary acts to inform them of the proper discharge of their duties. This deficiency can now be supplied by the purchase of an additional number of copies, sufficient to supply the state and county officers, besides retaining in the library a number of copies for future use and distribution; and I recommend that such authority be given. The laws by this means, will be distributed in a more compact and convenient shape, and at a mere trifle of the cost which would attend the revision of the entire code, or a republication of the laws as they now exist.

BOARD OF EXAMINERS.

The report of the proceedings of the board of examiners, composed of the Secretary of State, Attorney General, and Governor, shows the beneficial workings of the act creating the board. Since its organization, April 18, 1856, up to Jan. 1, 1858, 2,066 accounts were acted on, in which was claimed $853,673 94, and on which was allowed $780,608 12, being a reduction of $73,065 82. The law relative to this matter should be amended so as to relieve the private secretary of the Governor from the performance of the clerical duties of the board. As a regular system of books has to be kept by this clerk, and the duties are such that, if properly performed, will require all the time of a competent person qualified for such labor, authority should be given them to employ a clerk.

CARSON AND ARIZONA TERRITORIES.

The rapidly increasing settlement of the territory immediately adjacent to our eastern border by a population of worthy and enterprising people, manifesting a due observance and obedience to the institutions and laws of their country, requires, for the protection of their persons and property, a territorial organization. Even prior to the departure from their midst of the Mormons, and before their leaders had assumed an attitude of hostility towards the general government, from the peculiarity of Mormon customs and the decided partiality and favoritism exercised by them in the administration of justice, but feeble aid and protection were afforded to those who denied the verity of their peculiar creed. And now, when among this deluded people rebellion and treason are made manifest, even the semblance of governmental aid is denied to the residents of Carson and the adjoining valleys. The situation of that country, through which necessarily passes a large proportion of the overland immigration to this state, with the probability of a rapid increase of citizens within its limits, whose interests must in a great measure be inseparable from our own, constitutes it an additional link in the chain of connection which unites us with the existing states and territories of the Union, and makes it an important auxiliary in the advancement of our state in population, wealth, and political influence. Some of the foregoing remarks may also apply to the territory south of us, Arizona, for which, as you have seen, the President has recommended the establishment of a government. I would therefore most earnestly request an expression of opinion from the State Legislature, favorable to the creation of a government for each of those territories, during the present session of Congress.

EASTERN BOUNDARY.

Another subject having an intimate connection with the foregoing is that which relates to our eastern boundary. This line has never been authoritatively established, and has given rise to much confusion in the administration, particularly of our criminal laws and the collection of revenue. The difficulty should be removed by the concurrent action of the state and general government authorizing the survey and permanent location of this line. To do this, an act should be passed authorizing the Surveyor General of this state, in connection with such person as may be designated by the federal authorities, to perform such duty. This would, of course, require an expenditure of money by the state; yet its importance fully justifies such an appropriation.

REPORTS OF OFFICERS.

Attention is called to the accompanying reports of the Treasurer, Comptroller, Secretary of State, Superintendent of Public Instruction, and Quartermaster General, in which the business of their respective departments is fully exhibited for your information.

I have now "communicated to you the condition of the state, and recommended such matters as I deem expedient," in accordance with the mandates of the constitution, and in a brief time will be succeeded, as your Executive, by one who is worthy of your confidence; and whose enlarged experience and capability will tend to advance the public interests and promote the public welfare. Two years ago, with doubts and misgivings, I assumed the duties and responsibilities of the Executive position. To the people of the state, on that occasion, I gave the pledge "that in all matters of public duty an impartial, honest and conscientious course shall illustrate my action." How far this promise has been fulfilled, is not for me to answer, but the province of the people to judge. To elevate the character of the state, and advance the interests of its citizens, has been my highest aspiration; and with all the embarrassments and difficulties which have constantly arisen to impede the successful administration of public affairs, I can with confidence recur to the condition in which I leave the state on my retirement, as a vindication of my policy, and a defence of the administration. That this prosperity may be vouchsafed to our state in all future time, and a kind Providence guide and direct its destiny, is my sincere and unaffected desire.

REPORT OF BOARD OF EXAMINERS OF WAR CLAIMS.

OFFICE BOARD OF EXAMINERS,
SACRAMENTO, Dec. 15, 1857. }

SIR:—I have the honor to transmit, herewith, the report of the Board of Examiners of War Claims, pursuant to law,

I am, Sir,

Your Obedient Servant,

WM. C. KIBBE,

Quartermaster General, and President Board of Examiners.

To His Excellency, J. NEELY JOHNSON, Governor of the State of California.

OFFICE BOARD OF EXAMINERS, (War Claims,)
SACRAMENTO, Cal., Dec. 15, 1857. }

To His Excellency,

J. NEELY JOHNSON,

Governor of the State of California:

SIR:—Pursuant to the provisions of an act entitled "An act authorizing the Treasurer of State to issue bonds for the payment of expenses incurred in the suppression of Indian hostilities in certain counties in the state, approved April 25th, 1857," the undersigned, board of examiners, have the honor to

REPORT:

That on the 9th day of June last, the board of examiners was duly organized by the election of W. C. Kibbe, president, and immediately entered upon the discharge of the duties assigned it by the act referred to.

The first business of the board was to request the publication of notices in one or more newspapers published in each of the counties enumerated in the act, to the effect that the board would act upon claims upon which bonds were authorized to be issued, when presented, duly authenticated by the requisite oaths and certificates.

The board has aimed to have each and every valid claim so supported by affidavits and certificates of officers, and others connected with the various expeditions, as to conform as far as possible to the forms established in the army of the United States, and thus render them complete vouchers whenever they shall be referred to Congress or to the war department.

This action has caused much delay in the settlement of the business assigned to the board, and in some cases has put claimants to trouble and expense, but the board, having in view the final assumption of these bonds by the general government, have regarded the advantage to be gained by presenting perfect and complete papers.

The vouchers and papers made up and acted upon by Commissioners McDonald and Jones, in 1856, for the expeditions against the Indians in the counties of Siskiyou, Humboldt and Klamath for the years 1852-3-4-5, having been improperly endorsed by the clerk of the last Assembly could not be, or were not found until the last month, and consequently new papers had to be made out and presented, causing much delay, and great expense to the claimants.

The board has, however, held its meetings from time to time, and allowed claims as follows, viz. :

For services rendered and supplies furnished for the expedition against the Indians in Siskiyou county, A. D., 1855,	$13,997 70
For services rendered, supplies furnished, and property destroyed in the counties of Humboldt and Klamath, in the Indian war in the year A. D., 1855,	89,189 18
For services rendered and supplies furnished in the expedition against the Indians in Siskiyou county for the year A. D., 1856.	172,854 80
For services rendered and supplies furnished for the expedition against the Indians in the county of Sutter, A. D., 1850,	3,710 00
For services rendered and supplies furnished for the expedition against the Indians in the county of Nevada, and for property - destroyed by the Indians in said county, in the years A. D., 1850 and 1851,	1,109 00
Total,	$280,860 68

Certificates for the amount of $225,299 01 have been issued by the board upon claims allowed for the expeditions above named.

The pay of troops serving in this state subsequent to the 25th of April, 1855, having been established by law, it therefore devolved upon the board to fix the pay for services rendered prior to that day, which was established at the following rates per month :

For Captains,	$75 00
For First Lieutenants,	60 00
For Second Lieutenants,	55 00
For First Sergeants,	50 00
For Duty Sergeants,	45 00
For Corporals,	40 00
For Privates,	35 00

The board of examiners have the honor to suggest to your Excellency the propriety of calling the attention of the ensuing Legislature, through the medium of your annual message, to the fact that many of the parties who have rendered service in, and furnished supplies to the various Indian expeditions, have waited long upon the government for their pay, and also of recommending the passage of a memorial to Congress, and resolutions instructing our senators and representatives relative to the speedy assumption of the debt by the General Government.

The act creating this board designated Mr. A. J. F. Phelan as its clerk, without fixing a compensation for the services, or appropriating moneys to pay for the same, and the board would respectfully represent that Mr. Phelan has performed the arduous duties pertaining to the position faithfully, and recommend an allowance of $125 00 per month for the same, from the organization of the board, and also that his account against the state for stationery and books furnished the board, be allowed and paid.

Respectfully submitted,

WM. C. KIBBE, President,
Quartermaster General.
G. W. WHITMAN,
Comptroller of State.
JAS. L. ENGLISH,
Treasurer of State.

REPORT OF COMMISSIONERS OF CALIFORNIA WAR DEBT.

To His Excellency,

J. NEELY JOHNSON,

Governor of the State of California :

SIR:—The Commissioners appointed by the act of April 19, 1856, to liquidate the War Debt of the State, beg leave to

REPORT :

That in accordance with the provisions of said act, so soon after the passage of the same as practicable, they opened an office in the city of Washington, and made application to the Secretary of War, as by said act directed, for payment of the sum of money appropriated by Congress in payment of expenses incurred "by the state in suppression of Indian hostilities." As evidence of said indebtedness, the commissioners submitted a certified copy of the war bond register of said state—the various acts of the Legislature authorizing the issuance of said bonds, and the journals of the Legislature exhibiting the action of that body in relation to the same, proposing, further, to deliver to him the bonds issued by the state before making requisition for said money. In reply, the Secretary of War stated, in substance, that the proofs submitted were insufficient—that he could not recognize the bonds as evidence of the indebtedness, but that the act of Congress of August 5, 1854, under which act the appropriation was made, would require him to go into an examination of the original vouchers. As this course of procedure would have involved great delay and difficulty, and being satisfied from the condition of the original vouchers, which were in very many instances informal, that a large portion of them would be disallowed, we applied to Congress for relief, and a bill was introduced, at our instance, directing the Secretary of War to pay over the full amount of the appropriation, as directed by the Legislature of the state of California. This bill meeting with violent opposition, influenced to a great extent by the holders of the seven per cent. bonds, who felt aggrieved at the manner of distributing the appropriation directed by said act, and being unwilling to give our sanction to any congressional action which might clash with the act of the state of California, we finally submitted to the Secretary of War all the books and original papers in our possession, offering to make all necessary explanation, etc. As we had anticipated, the examination was delayed, and after several interviews with the accounting officers, to whom the vouchers had been referred by the Secretary of War, and being convinced that the interest of the state would greatly suffer should a settlement be made upon such a basis, we finally agreed with the bond-holders to a bill providing a pro rata distribution of the appropriation, viz. : the payment of the principal of all the bonds issued prior to January 1, 1854, and interest on the same up to that date. This bill passed. Immediately upon its passage the commissioners advertised for the redemption of said bonds in various daily papers, a list of which will be found in the minutes of the commissioners accompanying this report, which advertisement directed that all bonds should be presented to the commissioners before the first day of September, after which date they would cease to bear interest. Upon an examination of the act, we found a mistake had occurred, which apparently left to the commissioners the power of carrying out the direction of the state in the disbursement of the appropriation. We immediately applied to the Secretary of War, asking his construction of the act. It will be seen, by reference to the correspondence which accompanies this report, that the Secretary of War would not permit any portion of the appropriation to be applied to the redemption of bonds issued since the 1st January, 1854, nor for the payment of interest accumulating since that date on bonds previously issued. This construction rendered it unnecessary to make any distinction between the seven and twelve per cent. bonds, and superseded the necessity of advertising for bids, as directed by the act of California.

Under the instruction of the Secretary of War, the commissioners, as bonds were presented, certified to the genuineness of each bond, and the amount, principal and interest, due thereon up to the first day of January, 1854. The full amount certified to by the commissioners is as follows: Of twelve per cent. bonds, principal, $177,000 00; interest on do., $55,683 97. Of seven per cent. bonds, principal, $559,750 00; interest on do., $48,214 68—amounting in all to $840,648 65, a full statement of which accompanies this. The full amount paid by the United States Government up to the 15th day of November, 1856, is $814,456 84, as appears per statement of the third auditor, which accompanies this, leaving unpaid of the bonds at that time certified $26,191 81, of which $15,220 20 had been presented to the Secretary of War, the balance, $10,971 61, still being in the hands of the holders. This amount has, no doubt, been paid in full. The interest coupons belonging to all bonds presented to the commissioners were detached from the bonds and distributed as follows: Of seven per cent. bonds, coupons 1 and 2 up to January 1, 1854, were attached to the bonds and have been paid; coupons 3 and 4 up to January 1, 1856, have been returned to the holders, stamped as follows: "California War Bond Coupon;" coupon No. 5, from January 1, 1856, to January 1, 1857, similarly stamped, with the amount of interest due on the same up to September 1, 1856, also stamped upon it, has also been returned to the holder; coupons 6, 7, 8, 9 and 10, representing the interest from January 1, 1857, to the maturing of the bonds, are returned to the state; of twelve per cent. bonds, coupons 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5, representing the interest up to March 1, 1854, were attached to the bonds, but were paid only up to January 1, 1854, leaving on every bond a balance of twenty dollars interest from January 1 to March 1, 1854, due to the bond-holder, for which amount the Commissioners gave their certificate, a copy of which accompanies this; coupons 6, 7, 8, 9 and 10, representing the interest due up to September 1, 1856, have been returned to the owners, and the remaining coupons, numbers 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18 and 19, are returned to the State.

It will be seen that there are remaining unpaid of bonds issued prior to January 1, 1854, of principal, $59,600; of interest to that date, about $14,000; total, $73,600. There is remaining of the appropriation, $83,611—leaving a balance on hand, over and above the bonds and interest, up to January 1, 1854, of not less than $10,000.

The entire amount of coupons and certificates returned to holders of redeemed bonds, and now outstanding, is $161,120 91. The entire amount of coupons returned to the State, is $317,727 10. The bonds redeemed have been canceled, and are now on file in the treasury department. The general government, by recognizing the bonds, and by the payment of interest up to January 1, 1854, have virtually assumed the entire debt, and there is but little doubt of the speedy passage of an act making an additional appropriation to cover the unpaid coupons now outstanding, as well as the amount of bonds issued subsequent to January 1, 1854, a statement of which will be found accompanying this.

We cannot conclude our report without expressing our high appreciation of the services of Mr. A. J. F. Phelan, the clerk of the commission. His thorough knowledge of all the details connected with the origin of the war debt, and his faithfulness and ability in discharging the onerous duties imposed upon him by the state, has very materially aided us in accomplishing all that has been effected towards the extinguishment of the debt.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

SAM. B. SMITH,
J. W. DENVER,
Commissioners Cal. War Debt.

INAUGURAL ADDRESS OF GOVERNOR WELLER.

FELLOW-CITIZENS:—For the first time in my life, I am about to enter upon the duties of a state office. Notwithstanding I have some experience in public affairs, that experience will be of little service to me in discharging the various and complicated duties imposed upon the chief magistrate of this state. That I can give satisfaction to all the generous friends who placed me in this position, I dare not hope. That I can reconcile conflicting interests, heal divisions which exist amongst the people, and steer the ship of state clear of all the shoals and rocks which discordant elements have thrown in her track, I can scarcely expect. It will, however, be my constant aim to administer the affairs of the executive office in such manner as to advance the interests of the state and secure the confidence and respect of honest men. Whilst I place a high estimate upon the good opinion of my fellow-citizens, and am always proud to have it, no one has less regard for what may be denominated popular clamor. I may injure myself, but the state shall not be shipwrecked during my administration, if I have the power to prevent it. It is far more important that I should be right than that I should be praised, and therefore I will do what I conceive to be my duty, at all times and under all circumstances, and leave the vindication of my character, if assailed, to my acts and to posterity.

Every lover of republican institutions, must deplore the disposition, so frequently manifested by a portion of the people in different sections of the country, to take the law into their own hands, and place the regularly organized tribunals at defiance. Ours is emphatically a government of law, and that law is the essence of popular will, as expressed through constitutional channels. In its execution, the sovereignty of the people is manifested. It may be that the law sometimes fails to give adequate protection to persons and property, but the fault will generally be found with the people themselves. In many localities there is an unwillingness upon the part of respectable citizens actively engaged in business, to serve upon juries; and as a consequence, irresponsible men, with no visible means of support, are entrusted with the power of passing upon the guilt or innocence of persons charged with high crimes.

If, as is often the case, under these circumstances, a notorious offender is allowed to escape, the whole community is thrown into a high state of excitement, and summary punishment demanded. It is certainly a disagreeable duty to be taken from one's business, and compelled to spend a week or two in the criminal courts, but every good citizen ought to be willing to make the sacrifice when the public interest demands it. These burthens, however, should be as equally distributed as possible. Elevate the character of your jurors by selecting them in strict conformity with the law, and by imposing severe fines and penalties upon citizens refusing to serve, and in my opinion, fewer villians will escape, and communities will be less disposed to disregard the forms of law and resort to violence.

Another cause of difficulty may be found in the manner in which our judicial and ministerial officers are elected. Political parties hold their primary meetings and present their respective tickets. Because of the indifference manifested by respectable men of all parties, these elections are too often controlled and governed by irresponsible men, whose patriotism is generally subservient to their pecuniary interests. Ballot-box stuffers, in the absence of honest voters, declare the result, and men without intelligence, capacity or integrity, are placed in responsible offices. All this might have been avoided if the people had attended to what was strictly their business. It is probable that the present system of selecting candidates will prevail amongst us for years to come, and in my opinion, the election laws should be extended to these "primary meetings." The ballot-box, in our system of government, is the medium through which the people speak, and he who attempts to stifle their voice, is an enemy to public liberty, and should be treated as such. He poisons the public fountain, and corrupts all the streams which flow from it. He places men in judicial and ministerial offices in whom the community have no confidence. The severest punishment should be inflicted upon those who strike this deadly blow at free institutions.

It is not strange that the people of California have sometimes been excited, even to madness, by the conduct of their public functionaries. The fact is undeniable that men have sought office in this state, not from a laudable ambition to be useful, in contributing to its greatness, nor from an anxiety to acquire reputation and confer honor upon their families or kindred, but from a sordid desire TO MAKE MONEY. The contest has not always been who should confer the greatest benefits upon the state, but who should make the most money out of his position. Their whole energies seem to have been directed to discover some short and easy road to fortune. The good old beaten track, which requires time, toil, labor and industry, has been abandoned. Itinerant politicians, having neither interest nor sympathy with us, and wholly indifferent as to the future character of the state, have sometimes controlled its legislation, and by their acts put money in their own pockets, at the expense of the public treasury. Wild schemes have been devised, and special acts passed, in violation of the rights and interests of the people. This may not be a very pleasant picture to look upon, but, in my judgment, it is a TRUE ONE, and therefore I choose to present it. I trust, however, a brighter era is about to dawn upon our state.

As the chief executive officer, it is made my duty to see that the laws are faithfully executed; and it is scarcely necessary for me to say that the whole power of the state will be used, when required, to protect our regularly organized tribunals and maintain the supremacy of the laws. THIS MUST BE DONE, AT ALL HAZARDS.

The unsettled condition of our land titles has not only seriously retarded the prosperity of the state, but engendered much ill feeling, which has sometimes terminated in bloodshed. The act of Congress of March 3d, 1851, was intended, as its title imports, "to facilitate the settlement of land titles;" but its practical effect has been to retard improvements, prevent settlements, and, in many cases, to impoverish claimants under Mexican grants. Many of those who held perfect titles, guarantied by the treaty with Mexico, have been ruined by litigation with the government in the federal courts. Some of them, after seven years war in our judicial tribunals, are fortunate, indeed, if they are able to retain a moiety of that estate which we plighted our faith should be fully secured to them. The policy of the Spanish or Mexican states has always been so entirely different from that which has prevailed in our government in regard to the disposition of its lands, that the agricultural interest here has suffered very much in consequence thereof. The confirmation of these grants has placed an immense amount of the best farming land in the hands of a few persons, whilst true policy demands that we should have as many freeholds as possible. The American farmer always desires to be the owner of the soil which he cultivates.

In many cases grants were so loosely made, and the boundaries so indefinitely given, that honest persons, who supposed they were occupying public land, are now about to lose their improvements by the manner in which the surveys are made. When individuals have gone, in good faith, and made improvements upon what was supposed to be a part of the public domain, but which, by the decisions of the courts, is found to be covered by Mexican grants, the settler is entitled, upon every principle of justice, to full remuneration for his labor and improvements. The whole constitutional power of the Legislature should be exercised to protect him. These hardy and industrious pioneers, who have gone upon wild and uncultivated land, and by their labor and industry made the earth give forth its richest productions, and surrounded themselves with all the comforts of home, are entitled to our especial consideration. Their energy and their enterprise have already placed California amongst the first agricultural states of the Union.

The condition of our finances impose upon us the necessity of practicing the most rigid economy. Ever since the organization of our state government, the expenditures each year have far exceeded our receipts, and, as a consequence, we are now burdened with a public debt. A state, as well as an individual, must be ultimately bankrupted, if its expenses are allowed, for a series of years, to exceed its income. Our debt, amounting to some four millions of dollars, has been incurred to pay current expenses of the government.

All over $300,000 of this amount, contracted since the adjournment of the first Legislature, was in direct violation of the constitution; and, although the proceeds of our bonds were shamefully squandered, yet a very large majority of our people, at the recent election, ordered that the debt shall be paid. They have determined that innocent holders of our bonds shall not suffer by the unconstitutional acts or dishonest conduct of our own agents. California has said, in unmistakable terms, that the disgrace of repudiation shall never rest upon her escutcheon. I rejoice that those who have placed me in the position which I now occupy, have so nobly vindicated the reputation of our state. A state which violates its plighted faith, and trifles with its honor, would soon become a reproach to republican institutions, and a by-word among civilized nations.

We must take care to steer clear of these difficulties in the future. Provision must be made for the prompt payment of the interest on our debt, and especial pains taken to confine the expenditures within our income. This we can do, and must do, or bankruptcy, at no very distant day, is inevitable. The people have heard enough from their public agents upon the subject of economy—they now demand that it shall be practiced. Much was done by the last Legislature, but more remains to be done. The expense of conveying prisoners to the penitentiary, and supporting them whilst there, is an enormous tax upon the people. Whilst the convicts in many of the states are supporting themselves, we are taxed $120,000 per annum to provide for them, and that, too, under a system which allows a large number to escape every year. If you add to this the amount paid for transportation of convicts ($35,000) you will have a sum equal to the whole expenses of some of our sister states, with four times the population?

In the state of Indiana, the whole amount of the ordinary expenses of the government for the year ending in October, 1855, was $147,442; and during the succeeding year was reduced to $59,522, and this with a population of nearly one million and a half!

In the three state prisons of New York, with nearly two thousand convicts, in the year 1855, the expenditures over the earnings were but $35,000.

In California, the expenditures for state prison purposes, and for printing, alone, in the year ending 30th June, 1856, amounted to more than half a million of dollars.

These are certainly crying evils, which demand prompt action on the part of the Legislature.

The thirteenth section, eleventh article of the constitution, declares that "taxation shall be equal and uniform throughout the state. All property in this state shall be taxed in proportion to its value, to be ascertained as directed by law."

It may well be doubted whether our present revenue system is in accordance with either the letter or the spirit of this clause in the constitution. It declares that ALL property shall be taxed; and yet it is notorious that many persons hold property which annually yields—and in all probability will continue to yield for a series of years—a handsome income, on which no taxes whatever are levied. In imposing taxes necessary for the support of the government, the great principle of equity and justice should be observed, and each interest made to contribute its proper share. Those who receive from the government protection in their persons and property, ought to pay their just proportion of the taxes. Nothing short of an EQUAL distribution of the burthens of government can or ought to give satisfaction to the people.

The second section, ninth article of the constitution, declares:

"The Legislature shall encourage, by all suitable means, the promotion of intellectual, scientific, moral, and agricultural improvements. The proceeds of all lands that may be granted by the United States to this state for the support of schools, which may be sold or disposed of, and the five hundred thousand acres of land granted to the new states, under an act of Congress distributing the proceeds of the public lands among the several states of the Union, approved A. D. one thousand eight hundred and forty-one, and all estates of deceased persons who may have died without leaving a will or heir, and also such per cent. as may be granted by Congress on the sale of lands in this state, shall be and remain a perpetual fund, the interest of which, together with all the rents of the unsold lands, and such other means as the Legislature may provide, shall be inviolably appropriated to the support of common schools throughout the state."

The embarrassed situation of our finances and the unsettled position of land titles and public surveys have no doubt prevented the Legislature hitherto from carrying out the patriotic design of the framers of that instrument. By its terms, certain lands donated by the federal government to the state are to be appropriated for school purposes, and if this fund is properly administered, the time is not far distant when every child in the state can receive the rudiments of a good education at the public expense. The ignorant are often vicious, and it is scarcely necessary for me to say that there can be no stability in a government like ours, based upon public opinion, unless the great body of the people are educated. It would be folly to attempt to sustain a republican government amongst an ignorant or depraved people. If we expect our children to transmit our institutions to their descendants, we must take care to provide ample means for their education. We must teach them that without education, without morality, without religion, they must soon become the slaves of despotism. We must enlighten their minds and impress upon them the inestimable value of a free government. And in this connection you will allow me to say, that if we desire to lessen the expenses of our criminal courts and prisons and elevate the moral tone of society, we must send the schoolmaster on his mission of labor and usefulness into every section of the state. A well educated people never can be enslaved. Violence and commotion are the natural fruits of ignorance. Man is only capable of self-government after his head and heart have been cultivated.

How many of those who are now mere sojourners in our state, would bring their children amongst us, if suitable means were provided for their education, and become permanent citizens and useful and honorable members of society. A few friends of education have taken the lead, and much has already been accomplished in establishing a system of schools, and the beneficial effect is being seen and felt in almost every part of the state. In our cities and towns, seminaries and schools have been established, which would reflect the highest honor upon any people. In fact, we can proudly claim to have accomplished more for education in six years than some of our sister states have accomplished in a quarter of a century. I trust that the fund which has been provided may never be diverted from its constitutional channel, and that wisdom may direct all our actions in the administration of it.

The appropriations made at the recent session of Congress will, if properly expended, go far towards giving us good wagon-roads across the Rocky Mountains, by means of which we might anticipate a large immigration this year, if it were not for the difficulties in which the federal government has become involved with the Mormons and Indians. The establishment, too, of an overland mail route, will be of incalculable benefit to us. The financial hurricane which has recently swept over the older states, with such fearful violence, would drive thousands of strong, active and energetic men to our shores, if they could reach us by an overland route, or by sea, at a reasonable expense. The multitude of hard-working men in the eastern cities, who have been recently thrown out of employment, and who are now crying in the agony of their souls for "bread," could find ample and profitable employment in our inexhaustible mines, or comfortable homes in our health-giving and ever verdant valleys. The victims of a villainous paper-money system could here find in our mountains, banks which never issue an irredeemable currency, and seldom, if ever, fail to remunerate the industrious laborer. But the Mormons and Indians on the one hand, and a heartless monopoly, having no sympathy with our people, on the other, may diminish this immigration, so essential in developing the resources of the state. Our people are certainly entitled to protection whilst traveling through American territory, and to secure this, the whole power of the federal government should be invoked. Whenever a government habitually fails to give protection to its people, it must cease to command their confidence or respect. Hundreds of emigrants during the past year, who had abandoned their homes, and whilst wending their way over American soil to our shores, were inhumanly butchered. That government, which claims to extend its protection over its people, (whether native, naturalized, or unnaturalized,) in every part of the world, and is ready to resort to arms in order to secure it, will, we hope, see that such bloody scenes are not reenacted upon our great highways and in our own territory. In my humble opinion, the establishment of a multitude of small military posts between our frontier and the Atlantic states, will never answer the purpose. They are so weak as to provoke assaults from the Indians, and not strong enough to pursue and chastise them. The marching of a full regiment, properly appointed, to and from the Pacific coast, through our own territory every year, would strike more terror amongst the Indians, inspire more confidence amongst the settlers and immigrants, and make the highways more secure than all the small military posts which could be established upon these routes. Besides, troops sent from the Atlantic for this coast, instead of being enfeebled and enervated, as is the case now, by a voyage of six thousand miles, over rough seas and through an inhospitable climate, would be found efficient soldiers, and ready for active service, at once, in the field, should the exigency demand it. The march and the camp duty would transform raw recruits into a disciplined corps.

I make these remarks with great diffidence, because I know but little of military affairs, and have no personal knowledge of the different overland routes which pass through the Indian settlements.

But after all, the federal government will never be able to give Americans residing on the Pacific coast, that protection to which they are justly entitled, until a railroad connection is given to us with our brethren on the other side of the continent; and I am glad to see that our excellent President, whose ability and patriotism are acknowledged by the whole country, has recommended this subject to the especial consideration of Congress. A war with any respectable maritime power would cut us off effectually from our sister states, and leave our trade, our commerce, our material wealth, if not our lives, at the mercy of the public enemy. The surveys which have been made during the past four years, have fully demonstrated its practicability; and its necessity for military and political purposes is no longer questioned.

It is quite probable that the events of the present year will show that economy would have been consulted by commencing a pioneer, or preliminary railroad, for the transportation of troops, munitions of war, etc., through our own territories long since. This would be followed, as soon as the commerce of the country demanded it, by a first-class railroad, over which the traffic between Europe and Asia and America could pass, and thus give California the place to which her natural position entitles her.

Civilization, the arts, and sciences, have for ages been making their way from the East to the West. In the meanwhile, the East has sunk into semi-barbarism, and, in the providence of God, the West is destined to send civilization and Christianity, with all their countless blessings, back to the East. California, situated on the extreme verge of the western hemisphere, through her trade and her commercial enterprise, will contribute largely towards re-establishing in the East that religion which was originally taught in Jerusalem, but which has, for centuries past, found its chief power and most salutary influence in this hemisphere. What a glorious destiny awaits us if we are only true to ourselves, and properly use the means at our command.

Although geographically separated from our sister states by uninhabited mountains and boisterous seas, we feel none the less interest in maintaining that Union which has made the name of an American honored and respected in every portion of the civilized world, and secured to us at home a degree of freedom and prosperity unparalleled in the history of man. Under that constitution which spoke the federal government into existence, we have built up a mighty empire which now attracts the wonder and admiration of the world. It is the bounden duty of every American to brighten, and strengthen, and extend that Union, and transmit it unimpaired to posterity. Different laws and different customs prevail in the respective states, and the only way to secure the peace and tranquillity of the republic, is for each to abstain from intermeddling with the affairs of its neighbor. That fraternal feeling which ought to exist among members of the same family requires more than this. We should avoid, as far as possible, the discussion and agitation of questions calculated to impair the constitutional rights of others. An honest man will not agitate a question, when the effect of that agitation is to infringe upon the rights and lessen the value of his neighbor's property, but leave him to the free and undisturbed enjoyment of it. The people of California, with great unanimity, decided that slavery should not exist in this state. No one denies our right so to decide, nor do any of our sister states attempt to interfere with this question. Other communities, in the exercise of their sovereignty, have seen proper to tolerate slavery. They have a right to enjoy their institutions without being disturbed by us. It is true, the freedom of speech and of the press are guarantied by the constitution to the people, but is there not a moral as well as a political obligation resting upon us to exercise these privileges in such a manner as not to invade or trespass upon the rights of other states? The agitation of the slavery question in the Northern states, while it has in no degree benefited the African race, has engendered a feeling which is now threatening the permanency of the government. These states can never be kept together by force. The tie of affection can alone hold us. Destroy this, and it requires no prophet to foresee that disunion is inevitable. We must live together AS FRIENDS AND AS EQUALS IN ALL RESPECTS, or we cannot live together at all. We cannot live as friends unless we cease slandering and abusing each other. We cannot be equals unless territory acquired by our common blood and common treasure is left free to emigrants from the respective states, with their different species of property. When a state government is organized, then slavery may be sanctioned or prohibited, as the people may direct. If they have not intelligence enough to decide this question without the interference of Congress or any other power, republican institutions can no longer be sustained by Americans.

May He who controls the destinies of nations preserve and protect our national ship from the impending storm which threatens its destruction.

SENATORS AND GENTLEMEN OF THE ASSEMBLY:—Having, in accordance with the established usage, expressed my opinions briefly upon several questions of public interest, let us now proceed to the discharge of our respective duties, and with a fixed determination to consume no more time than is indispensable to the transaction of the public business.

The constitution confers upon the Executive the veto power. I shall regret very much to differ with the Legislature in any case; but if an act should unfortunately be passed which I may regard in conflict with the constitution, or in derogation of the rights and interests of our common constituency, I could not hesitate to exercise this power. The practice of leaving the most important bills to the last days of the session is, in my opinion, a very bad one, and should be abandoned.

Ample time should be given to the Executive to examine every bill passed by the Legislature, for it cannot be expected that I will attach my signature to any until I understand its contents.

In conclusion, gentlemen, let me say, I will cordially co-operate with you in all measures calculated to advance the interests of the state and promote the prosperity of the people.

JOHN B. WELLER.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON AWARD OF STATIONARY CONTRACT.

To the Hon. the House of Assembly of the State of California:

The Committee appointed "to inquire into the manner in which the contract for supplies of stationery for the use of the present legislature was awarded," beg leave respectfully to

REPORT:

That on December 12th, A. D., 1857, the then Secretary of State, General D. F. Douglass, in accordance with section eleven of "an act concerning the Secretary of State," published an advertisement in the papers of this city, calling for proposals to furnish the necessary supplies of stationery for the use of the Legislature now in session.

Accordingly, proposals, accompanied by various samples of stationery, were sent in by G. A. Mendon, G. A. Van Bokkelen, Hodge & Wood and J. Bithell, with a view of competing for the contract, which was finally awarded to G. A. Mendon of San Francisco.

Complaint having been made that the award was not just, the matter was brought to the notice of this House, and the undersigned appointed to examine into the facts of the case. Your committee have carefully investigated the whole subject matter referred to them, and have examined, under oath, all persons known by them to have any knowledge of the transaction.

On the part of the late Secretary of State, they have taken the evidence of the Hon. Ferris Forman, present Secretary of State, and Messrs. Bagley, Lee, Bausman and Gilmore, and herewith submit copies of the same. Mr. Van Bokkelen, the complainant in this case was also placed under oath, that your committee might be satisfied that the box of samples produced by him was the same that he had sent in with his bid to Gen. Douglass.

Certificates of the Alta Express Company, were also offered as evidence to show that said box had not been out of their possession or tampered with in any manner whatever since it was returned to them by the Secretary of State on the awarding of the contract.

Your committee then proceeded to examine and compare the various samples tendered by Messrs. Van Bokkelen and Mendon, with their respective bids for supplying the same, both in regard to quality and price, and find that, while in their judgment there is, in almost every case, but a small, if any difference in the quality of the goods, there is a very great disparity between the prices charged by Mr. Mendon, for goods furnished under his contract, and that asked by Mr. Van Bokkelen for the same quality of articles.

By reference to the accompanying statement, it will be seen that the total amount paid to Mr. Mendon for stationery furnished by him under said contract of which the committee made comparison is $1,667 35, while the same quantity, of a quality not inferior, would have been furnished by Mr. Van Bokkelen for $845 50, making a difference to the state on the amount already paid out, of about $820. Your committee were unable to compare the samples furnished by other bidders, with those of Messrs. Mendon and Van Bokkelen, as the parties offering them had withdrawn them on the awarding the contract to Mr. Mendon.

Your committee deem it proper to state here, that no evidence has been produced before them to show that there was any intentional wrong committed by Gen. Douglass in awarding this contract, but in their opinion sufficient care does not seem to have been taken by him to examine closely the samples sent in with the respective bids.

All of which is respectfully submitted by your committee.

JOHN W. CHERRY, Chairman.

The committee appointed to investigate the stationery contract for the Legislature, consisting of Messrs. Cherry, Ferguson, Street, Smith of San Bernardino and Galbraith, met pursuant to notice, in the office of the Secretary of State, at 3 o'clock, P. M., Saturday, January 9th, Mr. Cherry acting as chairman, and Mr. Street as secretary, and proceeded to take testimony in the case, as follows:

Col. Ferris Forman sworn, and says:

Happening in the office of the Secretary of State, Gen. Douglass, he asked my opinion on the samples of stationery offered by all the different applicants for the contract. I examined the quality of the samples, and the prices, and advised the taking of the bid of G. A. Mendon, in particular reference to quality.

David T. Bagley, sworn, says:

Mr. Edward McGowan called on me and requested me to intercede with Gen. Douglass, to award the contract for stationery to Mr. Van Bokkelen. I declined doing so—stating, as the reason, that Gen. Douglass was not in the habit of being influenced in such matters, but that he would be governed entirely by the bids before him.

R. S. Lee, sworn, says :

I saw all of the samples of stationery and other articles offered by the different parties putting in bids, and considered the bid of G. A. Mendon more advantageous to the state than any other. I considered the quality of the paper offered by G. A. Mendon very superior to that offered by any other person, in accordance with the prices.

J. P. Vaughn, sworn, says :

I was present when the bids of the different parties for the contract for stationery and other articles were put in. I examined the quality of the articles offered by G. A. Mendon, and considered them far superior to any offered by the other parties ; know that there has been heretofore great complaint made that the stationery bought for the state was of a poor quality, and that a better quality is required.

G. W. Gilmore, sworn, and says :

I was interested in the bid of Hodge & Wood ; was present when the different bids were put in, and saw the terms of the bids. The quality of the paper offered by G. A. Mendon was equally good with that offered by Hodge & Wood, and the prices were lower. The stationery offered by Mr. Van Bokkelen was a very inferior article. I consider the bid of Mr. Mendon as low as the articles could be furnished in this city, and lower, for the quality.

W. Bausman, sworn, and says :

I examined the paper offered by Mr. Van Bokkelen and that offered by Mr. Mendon, and consider the quality of the first very inferior to the latter, and think the bid of Mr. Mendon more advantageous to the state to accept than any other. I preferred that Messrs. Hodge & Wood should have the contract, but am satisfied that it is more to the interest of the state to take the bid of Mr. Mendon. If I had been governed by personal considerations, I should have preferred that either Mr. Van Bokkelen or Hodge & Wood should have secured the contract, in preference to Mr. Mendon, as the latter was unknown to me. I read the article in the Bulletin with feelings of indignation, as I regarded it as an aspersion on the fair fame of the most worthy Secretary of State that the government has ever had.

The committee then adjourned, for time for further information.

Committee on stationery contract met in the speaker's room at 3, P.M., January 12th, 1858.

Mr. Cherry, chairman, and Mr. Street, secretary.

Mr. Van Bokkelen, sworn, and says :

The box marked (B) now here in that room, and containing the samples submitted with my bid for the contract to supply stationery and other articles for the state, in accordance with the proposals published by the Secretary of State, is the identical box and contains the identical samples submitted with the above bid.

The committee examined the samples sworn by Mr. Van Bokkelen to be the same he first sent to the Secretary of State with his bid, and likewise examined the articles purchased of Mr. Mendon for the state, compared the same together as to quality, adaptation to the purposes for which required, and the price, and find that the differences in quality and price are in favor of the bid of G. A. Van Bokkelen, as set forth in the appended lists.

The committee adjourned to this place January 13, 1858, at 3 o'clock, P. M.

Report of Select Committee of the House of Assembly, appointed to examine and report the cheapest and best modes for procuring the copying to be done for the Assembly, during its present session :

We, the undersigned, members of the aforesaid committee, beg leave most respectfully to submit the following report :

The number of proposals received by your committee is twenty-two ; many, and almost all of them offering references in the names of some of the best and most successful business men in this city, as well as members of the Senate, state officers, clerks of the Supreme Court, and many members on this floor, as well as former members of the same ; and many of the proposals are also accompanied by offers to enter into bonds in any amount, to the satisfaction of this House, for the speedy and satisfactory performance of the said duties. The bids range in various amounts, from the sum of seven cents to twelve and one-half, as follows, to wit :

One bid for	12½ cents.
Two bids for	12 cents.
Two bids for	11 cents.
Six bids for	10 cents.
One bid for	9½ cents.
Four bids for	9 cents.
Six bids for	8 cents.
One bid for	7 cents.

The last named bid, being made by G. L. Gale, reads as follows :

To Messrs. De Long and others, special committee of the House, on copying.

GENTLEMEN :—I would most respectfully offer to do the whole of the copying for the House for seven cents per folio, to be well executed, and in time, to the full satisfaction of the committee or the clerk of the House, or I will not ask pay. For capacity, and the faithful performance of the same, I have the honor to refer to the Hon. L. W. Ketchum, Hon. W. T. Lewis, senators of the nineteenth senatorial district; Hon. R. M. Briggs, Hon. Homer King, of the Assembly, for Amador county; Hon. W. W. Seawell, late member from the same county.

GEORGE L. GALE.

This being the lowest bid made, and the conditions and references being of such a nature as to fully satisfy the minds of your committee that the said G. L. Gale is competent and responsible to perform all the duties pertaining to the office, thereby making a saving to the state, (as the difference between the sum at present being paid; provided the same amount of copying should be performed at the present session of the House as there was done at the last,) in the sum of thirteen hundred and seventy-three dollars and twelve cents, as is shown by the following table, to wit:

Amount of folios copied at the last session was:
17,164 at 20 cents, amount paid,	.	.	.	$3,432 80
17,164 at 15 cents, amount,	.	.	.	$2,574 60
17,164 at 7 cents, amount,	.	.	.	1,201 48
Balance,	.	.	.	$1,373 12

In view of all these facts, your committee beg leave most respectfully to submit this report, and recommend that the said George L. Gale be appointed as copying clerk of this House, for this session, to do all the business pertaining to the said office in a speedy and satisfactory manner, and that he do the same for and in consideration of the sum of seven cents per folio of one hundred words.

C. E. DE LONG of Yuba, Chairman.

MOSES STOUT of Sacramento.

J. W. SMITH of San Bernardino.

Members of said committee.

Mr. De Long moved to amend the report so that it should read that the said clerk be qualified, and that all provisions relative to giving a bond be stricken out.

Mr. Holladay offered the following resolutions, as a substitute for the whole subject matter:

Resolved, That the clerk be authorized to employ any number of clerks he may find actually necessary, not exceeding six; and that all the committees of this House be authorized, as they need clerks, to apply to the chief clerk, who shall, on such request, detail clerks for the service of such committees.

Resolved, That this resolution shall supersede the appointment of all other clerks already employed by the various committees, excepting the Judiciary Committee.

On motion of Mr. Ballou, the House went into Committee of the Whole, Mr. King in the chair, to consider the report and resolutions.

Committee rose and reported the matter back.

On motion of Mr. Lee, the substitute offered by Mr. Holladay was amended by striking out the last resolution.

Mr. McCoy moved to recommit, with instructions to contract with Mr. Gale, with ample security for his faithful performance, subject to the approval of this House, and under the especial supervision of an auditing committee of three, to be appointed by the chair

Mr. Lee moved the previous question.

Sustained.

On motion to recommit, the ayes and noes were demanded by Messrs McCoy, Holman and O'Brien, with the following result :

AYES—Messrs. So the House refused to recommit.

On the adoption of Mr. Holladay's substitute as amended, Messrs. Edwards, Sheridan and Curtis, demanded the ayes and noes, with the following result :

AYES.—Messrs. Anderson, Aud, Ballou, Banks, Buel, Burbank, Cherry, Clark, Crane, Davis, Gordon, Gray, Graham, Hancock, Havens, Heath, Hill of Sierra, Hobart, Holladay, Howell, Hirst, Lee, Minis, Mitchell, Moses, Neblett, Osgood, Palmer, Parker, Pico, Sherwin, Smith of San Bernardino, Stakes, Street, Thomas, Tuttle, Walker, Ward, Warfield, and Young—40.

The following communication was received from the Governor:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
Sacramento, January 18, 1858. }

To the Assembly of California :

I have been requested by Mr. Oliver Evans Woods, of Pennsylvania, to transmit the enclosed memorial to your honorable body.

Mr. Woods has been for several years laboring with great zeal to perfect a plan for the safe delivery of letters which reach this coast, through the United States mails. In my opinion, the adoption of his scheme would lessen, very materially, the number of dead letters which are now destroyed every quarter at San Francisco, and enable thousands, who are constantly changing their locations in the mining regions, to receive letters from their friends on the other side of the continent. The number of dead letters consumed every quarter at San Francisco amounts to some twenty-five thousand.

A "suspended list," such as Mr. Woods proposes, would certainly save a large proportion of these letters from destruction, and at a very small expense to the department.

You will perceive that his object is, to invoke your aid, through our senators and representatives in Congress. I commend the subject to your careful consideration.

JOHN B. WELLER.

The communication referred to in the above message, was referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

Mr. Parker, from Committee on Elections, made the following report, which was received and made the special order for Monday next, at 12 o'clock.

To the Honorable the Assembly of the State of California :

MR. SPEAKER:—Your Committee on Elections, to whom were referred the contested seat in this House from the county of Sutter, wherein Z. Montgomery was contestant, and James O. Harris respondent or sitting member, have the honor to respectfully make the following report to your honorable body :

Your committee have, with great care and attention, examined all the evidence that has been presented before them, which consisted of documentary evidence in the shape of depositions taken before a commission of justices of the peace of Sutter county. In view of protecting the sacredness of the elective franchise, the highest prerogative of American freemen, your committee have examined minutely and cautiously into all evidence adduced—and here, first, your committee would refer to one of the precincts in said county known as "Orear's Precinct;" there four men voted, who, upon direct examination, stated that they lived in Placer county. Upon cross-examination they stated that if the county boundary line was opposite a point known as "Camp Far West," then they resided in Placer county; but that if above that line then they resided in Sutter county. The only means that your committee had of examining into this boundary line was from the revised statute, where it stated that the boundary line spoken of was opposite this point known as "Camp Far West;" it seems also that these men had been in the habit of voting at this precinct for several years, but that they paid their taxes, or some of them, in Placer county. Your committee consider it fair to presume that men would not pay taxes in a county where the law did not compel them so to do; and as these deponents did not state that they paid taxes in the county of Sutter, your committee think that they knew they were not residents of the county of Sutter, although for many years it seems it was their custom to enjoy the right of suffrage in that county. Because one has been in the custom of casting an illegal vote for several years at a certain precinct, your committee think does not guarantee to him the right to continue so voting, for in this mode of procedure the will of the people might at all times be destroyed, and fraud rewarded for its infamy.

In another precinct, Mokelumne, the polls were closed before sunset, and the votes commenced to be counted; before the counting was finished, two persons came in and voted. This procedure, your committee certainly consider was illegal, while at the same time, if no fraud is shown, your committee do not think that a voter could be prevented from exercising the elective franchise, because of the informality of the judges of election in opening the ballot-box before the time prescribed by law, for in that instance, again, the high prerogative of the people might be destroyed by the willful act of corrupt officers of an election.

Your committee would also state that they find two foreigners voted for respondent; one a Frenchman, the other a German, who had not their naturalization papers, but only their declaratory papers of intention, which are on file among the depositions presented to your committee. There were, also, at Nicolaus precinct, persons who were called up by appellant, who refused to give evidence because of the fear of exposing themselves to a criminal prosecution. It is not shown that their votes were sworn in at the election, and your committee do not think that by giving in evidence of having voted for either contestant or respondent, they would thereby subject themselves to a criminal prosecution; and when a witness, placed upon the stand by a party, refuses or is backward in giving evidence for that party, your committee think that it is fair to presume that the evidence he would adduce would be against the party so offering him in evidence. But they say they were advised not to swear by respondent's attorney, Mr. Ryan, which places the matter in an opposite light. At another precinct, Knight's Landing, where respondent had a majority, it seems that the returns were not properly endorsed. From this precinct they were sent by private hand, and the person delivering them did not endorse on the same that they were not altered, erased, or out of his hand after he received them from the inspectors. Although your committee consider it mandatory on the part of the person so delivering returns, if delivered by private hand, to endorse as above, nevertheless, if there is no cause or reason to suspect that improper conduct has been used in reference to the returns so delivered, your committee think it fair to presume that they are correct. A mere technicality of that kind, unless improper conduct is shown, should not invalidate the returns, and as no such evidence was adduced, or offered to be adduced, your committee consider those returns correct. Also, at Orear's precinct, a boy of sixteen years of age voted for respondent, which was denied by respondent's counsel. Your committee would here state that all the evidence they have of illegal votes having been cast for Montgomery is entirely hearsay—that is that A heard B say that he voted for Montgomery, and your committee do not think it proper to consider such evidence.

Now, by way of recapitulation, so that your honorable body may more fully and completely draw a conclusion in this matter of the contested seat, the following statement is made:

That the four votes first spoken of, at Orear's precinct, for respondent, should be thrown out. Also, the two foreigners, who had only their declaratory papers. Also, the boy of sixteen; making a total of seven illegal votes cast for James O. Harris, the respondent, thus giving Mr. Montgomery a majority of three votes.

In conclusion, your committee would say that they have examined the adjudged cases of former contested seats in this Legislature, and find nothing therein to cause them to draw a different conclusion than that they here arrive at. Therefore, be it Resolved, That the seat in this House, now occupied by James O. Harris, be declared vacant, and that Z. Montgomery be declared the duly elected representative to the Assembly of California from Sutter county.

Mr. Thomas made the following report, which, with the accompanying resolution, was adopted :

The special joint committee, whose duty it was made to examine into the condition of the rooms and vault used by the Treasurer of State for the safe-keeping of the public money, respectfully submit the following report :

In accordance with the duty assigned them, your committee have closely inspected said rooms and vault, and do unanimously agree that they are entirely unfitted for the uses to which they are applied, for the following reasons :

An entrance might easily and in a few moments, be effected from several different points to the outer room, in which the door-way leading to the vault is situated. This door-way is guarded by two thin iron door-shutters, set in iron frames or casings.

Your committee are satisfied, from the examination made, that these frames or casings, might, by the active and expert use of a crow-bar, in a few moments be entirely detached from the surrounding brick wall, so that they, together with the door-shutters, might be removed from their places, thus opening free ingress to the vault.

Another channel of forcible entrance into the vault might be easily effected by digging or tunneling for a distance of a few feet, and raising the floor of the vault, which consists of thin, pine boards, rather loosely laid down, and in a state of incipient decay.

Your committee are of opinion that the safe itself is of good and substantial quality, and in good order. The Treasurer, however, suggests—and in the opinion of your committee with good reason—that the combination or particular manner of using the keys to lock and unlock the safe, be altered,—the secret manner in which it is now done being known to several persons not connected with the treasury.

Your committee would respectfully recommend that the whole interior of the vault, including the floor, be lined with good boiler iron, which should be riveted together and bolted to the walls, so as to make it equally strong as if it were one solid piece.

Your committee would further recommend that the door-shutters between the outer room and vault, together with their frames or casings, be made much heavier and stronger than at present, and perfectly fire-proof, which they now are not, and that the casings be securely bolted to the wall. Your committee would further recommend that strong iron bars be placed in the windows of the outer room, and that the outer door be furnished with heavy movable iron bars, and further, that the present bulk-heads or partitions dividing the treasury rooms from the remainder of the first story of this building be removed, and that the strongest and most secure partitions that the case demands be erected in their stead.

In conclusion, your committee would respectfully offer, for the consideration of the House, the following resolution :

Resolved, By the Senate and Assembly, that the Treasurer be and he is hereby authorized and required to enter into contract with some good workman to carry the foregoing recommendations into speedy effect, and that said contract be subject to the approval of the board of examiners.

GEORGE W. THOMAS,

Chairman of House Committee.

SAMUEL B. BELL,

Chairman of Senate Committee.

The following communication was received from the Attorney General :

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Sacramento, January 23, 1858. }

Hon. J. Walkup, President of the Senate :

Hon. N. E. Whitesides, Speaker of the Assembly :

DEAR SIRS :—The following was handed me on the 19th instant :

“ Resolved, That the Attorney General be requested to give his written opinion to both Houses of the Legislature now in session, upon the legal effect of the vote given at the last election, touching the matter of a constitutional convention.”

I understand the facts to be, that at the last general election, over 93,643 votes were cast for state and county officers; that of those voting, 30,226 voted “for a convention,” and 17,680 “against a convention;” leaving about 45,737 votes not cast upon the question.

My opinion is that the measure of calling a convention was not adopted by the people, and I have learned with surprise that among sensible, well-informed gentlemen, there existed a difference of opinion upon the subject.

Were it not for such differences, I should be content with one or two brief suggestions to answer to your resolution.

But as there are some possessing wisdom who gravely maintain that the measure of calling a convention has been adopted by the vote stated, you will pardon me if I consume more of your valuable time than I otherwise should, in giving my views upon the subject.

The following are given us as the prominent reasons why a convention has been ordered :

First—That at the time our constitution was adopted, a convention might have been called in two-thirds of the states of the Union by a majority of those voting on the question.

Second—That Michigan, with a clause in her constitution like that in ours, called a convention by a vote of 33,193, against 4,095.

Third—That our constitution was adopted by less than half the voters then in the state, and Fourth—That an amendment to our constitution was adopted in 1856, by a vote of only 32,349 in its favor, whilst at the same election 110,221 votes were cast for presidential electors and other officers.

All of which I answer as follows :

The first, in the terms stated, I deny.

At the time spoken of, the constitutions of sixteen states contained no provisions in regard to calling a convention. Eight required a majority of all the votes cast at the election at which the question was submitted, one a two-thirds vote, one a majority of all voting upon the question, in three the Legislature called a convention, and in one a council did so. If in the sixteen states where no provision was made upon the subject, a convention could have been called at all, it could only have been done by act of the Legislature, and I apprehend the provisions of such act would alone have controlled the matter.

As to the second proposition, I have only to say, that the best evidence I can obtain upon the subject brings me to the conclusion that the vote cast in favor of calling a convention was a majority of all the votes cast at the election, and I am fortified in this conclusion by the failure of those who profess access to all the evidence to state differently.

The third and fourth propositions are answered by the sections of the constitution by virtue of which the votes named were taken.

The provisions of those sections will be found to differ widely from that under consideration, which reads as follows: "And if at any time two-thirds of the Senate and Assembly shall think it necessary to revise and change this entire constitution, they shall recommend to the electors at the next election for members of the Legislature to vote for or against a convention, and if it shall appear that a majority of the electors voting at such election have voted in favor of calling a convention, the Legislature shall, at its next session, provide, etc., for calling a convention," etc.

All agree that if a majority voting at such election do not declare in favor of a convention, one cannot be called; but there is a difference of opinion as to what election is meant, (if I may so speak,) whether it is the general election for members of the Legislature, etc., or an election upon the question of a convention.

For the purpose of better enabling us to form a correct conclusion upon this momentous question, gentlemen indulge in learned disquisitions, through the press, as to the rules of interpreting constitutions and statutes, forgetting that "when words are plain and clear, and the sense distinct and perfect arising on them, there is no necessity to have recourse to other means of interpretation, and that it is only where there is some ambiguity or doubt arising from other sources, that interpretation has its proper office."

The section quoted (being all there is upon the subject in the constitution) says the question of calling a convention shall be submitted at the election held for members of the Legislature, and if a majority voting at such election declare for a convention, it shall be called—otherwise it shall not.

Such election must mean some election named before, and you will perceive that the only election previously named is that for members of the Legislature, or to use the term elsewhere employed in the constitution, the general election. Not a word is said about a constitutional convention election.

In construing constitutions, it is sometimes well to compare the sentence under consideration, with other sentences in the same instrument.

We will now do so: In the succeeding part of the same section from which I have quoted, you will find that when a convention has been called, and a constitution adopted, such constitution must be submitted at a special election, and the returns of such election shall be certified, etc., and if, upon examination, it be ascertained that a majority of the whole number of votes cast at such election be in favor thereof, "the new constitution shall be declared the constitution of the state," etc.

Now if a man should assert that such election as last quoted did not mean said special election, or the special election aforesaid, he would be entitled to be voted deranged.

Again, the eighth article of the constitution, in regard to state debt, after providing for the character of law creating the debt, etc., uses this language: "but no such law shall take effect until, at a general election, it shall have been submitted to the people, and shall have received a majority of all the votes cast for and against it at such election."

Will it be thought for a moment that such election means any other than the general election previously named? And yet we might, with the same propriety, say that it meant the state debt election, as to say, that in the other instance constitutional convention election is intended.

That the convention which adopted our constitution intended to be understood as I have interpreted the language used in the sections referred to, I am well satisfied.

This conclusion forces itself upon the mind, when a fair comparison is made of the language employed in the four different sections which provide for votes by the people.

First—The state debt article, which I have commented upon.

Second—The section providing for amendments to the constitution, which contains this language: "And if the people shall approve and ratify such amendments by a majority of the electors, qualified to vote for members of the Legislature voting thereon," etc.,—making a clear distinction between voting "thereon," and "the majority voting at such election voting therefor."

Third—The entire section under consideration, including the two votes provided for therein; and

Lastly—The section which submitted the present constitution to the people. The language in each is clear and explicit.

It was intended that a bare majority of those voting for or against, might create a debt, or amend the constitution, but that a majority of the whole people exercising the right of suffrage at our general elections, (when it was supposed that all would vote,) should be required to declare therefor before an entire change in the organic law of the land should be made.

If contemporary history may be invoked, you will find that in nearly every state where provision was made in the constitution for a vote of the people upon the question of calling a convention, a majority of all the votes cast at the election, and not a majority cast upon the question, was required to call a convention—in several such is even required to amend the constitution.

In this connection, I would especially refer to New Hampshire, New York, Delaware, Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Iowa, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Tennessee, Missouri, and Texas.

I have been asked why, if my views are correct, does the constitution require a vote for and against calling a convention, etc.

I will answer by asking why is it that the same thing is required in other and older states than ours, when the language afterwards used requiring a majority of all the votes cast at the election to be in favor of a convention before it can be called, is even more explicit than ours.

We have followed precedents. There may be many good reasons for such a style of ballot, or there may be none; it cannot affect the question.

Permit me, in conclusion, to call your attention again to the remarks of the late Governor in his last message upon this subject, and to say that I, in his reasoning, agree with him. I also agree that his references to the debates in our constitutional convention and deductions therefrom are correct.

Respectfully, etc.,

THOS. H. WILLIAMS,
Attorney General.

Mr. Lee presented the following petition, which was referred to the Committee on Counties and County Boundaries, and ordered printed :

To the Honorable the Legislature of the State of California :

The people living within that portion of the continent lying between the Goose Creek range of mountains on the east, and the Sierra Nevada on the west, the Oregon and Utah line on the north, and the Colorado river on the south, have appointed us their commissioners to submit the following petition to the honorable the Legislature of California, asking and praying that this state shall cede and transfer all of her real and supposed interest in, and jurisdiction over, territory situated on the eastern side of the main Sierra range of mountains, and supposed to be by some within the limits of the state of California. Our object in asking for this cession and transfer of jurisdiction is for the following reasons :

First—That the said spurs, foot-hills, and valleys, may be incorporated in the proposed new territory.

Second—Because in the winter season the snows on the Sierra Nevadas fall so deep and remain for so long a time as to close all intercourse and communication across the mountains between those residing on both sides, for the space of about four months every year.

There are many considerations why this memorial should receive the approval of the Legislature. The true boundary between the state of California and the territory of Utah, has never been officially determined, and it is to be regretted that this question has been permitted to rest so long in doubt. Up to this day, California has never, by any act of the Legislature, attempted to extend her jurisdiction beyond the main summit of the Sierra Nevada eastward into the Great Basin. Indeed, El Dorado and one or two other counties have, on one or more occasions, excluded votes given by actual residents of the valleys east of the mountains, for state and county officers, on the ground that the said voters were not living within the limits of the state of California. Up to July last, all departments of government, state and county, uniformly considered and acted upon the conviction that the main summit of the Sierra Nevada was the true and lawful boundary line between the state of California and the territory of Utah. Until then, none of the county officials in this state ever sought for any alliance and connection with the people inhabiting any portion of the Great Basin. The people and the government agents of Utah have likewise acted upon the conviction that the western boundary of that territory extended to the eastern slope of the Sierra Nevada.

Heretofore then, there has been a tacit, if not an express understanding that the Sierra Nevada was not only the natural but the legitimate boundary between the said state and territory. Eddy's map was, for many years, the official map of the state of California. This map placed Honey Lake on the western side of the Sierra Nevada—say some forty miles distant from the summit. The present official map of the state, (Mr. Goddard's,) very correctly places Honey Lake on the eastern side of the mountain, but at the same time extends the state boundary line a very considerable distance east of Honey Lake. It is to be presumed that neither of the authors of these maps ever saw Honey Lake or the country adjacent. Thus it will be seen that the official maps of California not only have differed as to the topography of the country—the location of one of the most noted lakes west of the Rocky Mountains—but that the Legislature has never, up to this time had in its possession any correct topographical and geographical account of the country in question, nor any official longitudinal guide for determining the true eastern boundary of the state. The observations taken and the surveys made by Lieut. Beckwith, Mr. Marlette, and Mr. Kirk, however correct, are not binding on the parties interested, and their acts can therefore have no influence upon the question of state boundary and jurisdiction. The true boundary line must be run by commissioners appointed by the state of California and the territory of Utah. This is the way all questions of boundaries are settled. Unless the state of California shall withdraw its jurisdiction over this territory, or the boundary line is amicably settled, we may expect to have endless disputes and difficulties. Nothing good can come from leaving this question undetermined.

The second reason offered in this petition—why the state of California should withdraw or surrender its jurisdiction over the territory—ought, we think to have much favor with the Legislature. Inhabitants residing on both sides of the Sierra Nevada, during three and four months every year have no intercourse or communication with one another. The snows which fall upon the main summit of the Sierra Nevada, as well as the chief spurs of the mountains, are frequently, during the entire months of December, January, February, and March, found to be in many places from twenty to thirty feet deep. These immense fields of snow rarely ever begin to melt until April, and then it requires full one month longer before the main roads across the mountains are sufficiently free from snow, mud, and other obstructions, to afford a safe and easy transit to and from California and Utah. The period of the year when these obstructions effectually close all intercourse between the people on both sides of the mountain is the most important of all others to those on the eastern side. Then the Legislature of this state is in session, and for the reasons above stated it is evident the people living on the eastern side of the Sierra Nevada can have no communications with their representatives, or be heard in favor or against any measure which may concern them. The Legislature might, under such circumstances, unintentionally or through the misrepresentations of interested, venal, and designing men, do great wrong and injustice to those remote people. Indeed, from their position, it is manifest that they can have no voice in the Legislature; we think, therefore, that it would be the part of wisdom as well as humanity, for this state to withdraw its jurisdiction over territory it cannot superintend, and the inhabitants of which it is physically impossible at all times to guard and protect, or ever legislate for safely and intelligently.

There is one other subject connected with this question, which it appears to your commissioners should address itself strongly to the favorable consideration of the Legislature. The boundary line between California and Utah, as laid down on Mr. Goddard's map, (and we believe the official map of the state,) is perhaps the most unnatural and the most unsatisfactory that could be established. If this line is insisted on and adhered to, it will be found that as soon as the valleys on the eastern side of the mountains become generally settled, there will be constant strife and altercation between the people and officers of this state and those of Utah. This line follows no streams or high lands, but along the centre of the valleys. This state of things would often place a man's residence in California, and his farm in Utah, and vice versa. The true boundary line between California and the Great Basin, has been established by nature, and there is perhaps no intelligent man living, who, from a personal examination of this great natural boundary, would not consider it one of the most perfect that could be offered between states and territories.

This natural boundary is the crest of the main summit of the Sierra Nevada. Almost at any point along this vast summit you can behold the waters running east and west down both sides of the mountains. In some places these springs are not over one hundred and fifty yards apart, and many of them are the head waters of large rivers. Those running to the west flow into the Pacific ocean, and those running east flow into the Great Basin of the continent and there sink. Even the waters of Lake Bigler, lying between what are called the first and second, or eastern and western summits of the Sierra Nevada, empty into the Great Basin. At this point, it is said, the great Sierra range of mountains has two summits; but the second summit forms no obstruction to the passage of the waters of lakes Bigler and Smith, as well as other tributaries flowing into the Great Basin. Indeed, none of the waters within the Basin formed by these two summits, flow into the Pacific. What is therefore called the second eastern or Utah summit is nothing more than one of the chief spurs of the Sierra Nevada. As the main summit, then, in all cases forms the dividing line between the waters entering into the Pacific ocean, and the Great Basin, it appears to us that this immense summit chain is, and of right should be, the true, natural and legitimate boundary between the state of California and the territory of Utah.

The right of the Legislature to pass such an act as we have prayed for, is unquestionable. The constitution of the United States, in article 4th, section 3d, provides that "New states may be admitted by the Congress into this Union; but no new state shall be formed or erected within the jurisdiction of any other state; nor any state be formed by the junction of two or more states, or parts of states, without the consent of the Legislatures of the states concerned, as well as of the Congress."

This section clearly points out the manner in which a state may withdraw its jurisdiction from a portion of its territory, in order that a new state or territorial government may be formed. It is understood, however, that the consent of Congress shall be procured, by which the government of such territory shall pass immediately under the jurisdiction of the United States. This section was incorporated into the federal constitution, so as to afford full protection to the inhabitants who were residents of the country ceded to the United States by the state of Virginia, and also that new states might be formed with the consent of the Legislature of the state concerned, out of territory the property of the state. Thus Georgia, by the Legislature, in 1802, granted territory to the federal government; and Virginia, by her Legislature, in 1789, passed an act, consenting, with the concurrence of Congress, that a new state might be formed out of her territory, to be called "Kentucky." The authority to exercise this right was of much more consequence to the states, than can be the satisfaction of the people residing in the Great Basin, to obtain from the Legislature of this state the privilege of incorporating a few valleys into our proposed new territory. The Legislatures of Virginia, Georgia, etc., in the examples above referred to, did more for and gave more to the young and rising states and territories which surrounded them, than we dare ask or ever expect from the Legislature of California. They not only yielded up all jurisdictional control over the territory, but they parted with their title to the property, and conferred it, along with the political jurisdiction, to the general government, to be sold for the common benefit of the whole Union. Since these examples were set, all states have been admitted into the Union under the express condition, that the lands within the state boundary that are the property of the United States, shall be free from all legislative control.

That portion of territory from which your petitioners desire the Legislature to withdraw her jurisdiction, is still the property of the United States. The amount of territory is small, and California can lose nothing by parting with it. Nearly all the country out of which we propose to establish a new territory is within the limits of Utah and New Mexico. The Legislatures of these territories, however, it is not necessary for us to consult, as Congress has the undoubted right to repeal, amend, or in any other manner qualify or change the organic law of these territories. As the proposed new territory lies just in the rear of this state, and must—from position as well as from the people who are to settle in it, work its rich mines, and cultivate its productive valleys—soon become “bone of her bone and flesh of her flesh,” it is to be presumed that California should feel a strong interest in its prosperity.

The new territory must ever be a helpmate to this state—must contribute much to her revenues, and internal and external commerce. The young and rising states and territories on this side of the continent have much to expect from California. She is a settled and an established state, and withal, young and vigorous. Let her give proper aid and encouragement to those who are seeking admission among the family of states in this part of the country.

Trusting that our petition may find favor in the wisdom and patriotism of her Legislature, we beg to subscribe ourselves

Your much obliged fellow-citizens,

W. M. ORMSBY, }
MARTIN SMITH, } Commissioners.

Mr. Clark presented the following petition of supervisors of Sierra county, asking the passage of certain laws relating to Sierra county, which was referred to Sierra county delegation :

MEMORIAL.

To the Honorable the Members of the Senate and Assembly of the State of California :

The undersigned, composing the board of supervisors in and for Sierra county, respectfully represent to your honorable bodies that by law they are charged with the care and disbursement of the revenues of the county of Sierra, and have a supervisory control over the collection of the same, and, incidentally, over the revenues of the state that should be collected therein.

And your memorialists show that on entering upon the discharge of their duties at their first regular meeting, in the month of November, A. D., eighteen hundred and fifty-seven, they proceeded to find the amount of the indebtedness of the said county, and found that the expenditures largely exceeded its revenues from all sources, and it became necessary to find out the cause of such a condition of the finances of the county, and to provide ways and means to discharge the said indebtedness.

And your memorialists, after giving due care, investigation, and consideration to the subject, have found that one great source of costs and expenses to the county, is the expense of the numerous terms of the courts of session, county court, and probate court of said county, and that they are entirely uncalled for by the legal wants of the people of the county, and that four terms in each year, of each of those courts, are amply sufficient.

And we further state, that the expenses of these courts now exceed twenty-six thousand dollars annually, and by the proposed change, the same will be reduced to less than fifteen thousand dollars; thus saving to the county the burthen of eleven thousand dollars, for which no corresponding equivalent is received; and we therefore pray your honorable bodies will enact the law herewith presented, or some other one that your wisdom may direct, and thereby relieve the good people of this county of a useless burthen and serious grievance.

We further represent to your honorable bodies, that we have carefully investigated the operation of the present system of assessing the value of the real and personal property in the county, and the collection of the taxes on the same, and of collecting the foreign miners' license taxes, and the poll-taxes, and the state and county licenses, and have found that the state, as well the county revenues, suffer large losses under it annually; and that in the aggregate, not over fifty per centum of the lawful dues of the state or county, from foreign miners' licenses, and poll-taxes, and state and county licenses and dues, are at present collected by the officers who are appointed and required by law to collect the same; and this arises mainly from the system when applied to a county like Sierra, divided, by rivers deeply imbedded in the mountains, into four natural districts, difficult of access, even in the summer season, and almost without communication with each other in the winter for six months, and with innumerable cañons and gulches in each, where one officer has the charge of the collection of taxes on real and personal property, and of the foreign miners' licenses, and another officer has the assessing of the real and personal property of the county, and the collection of the poll-taxes, and another officer collects the revenue from state and county licenses, and all county dues—and this last officer, the county treasurer, collecting at his office only—and where all of them are without any thorough local knowledge of each and every cabin, camp, village and town, in all the various gulches, flats, hills and mountains, in the county.

We, therefore, for the purpose of insuring the payment of the taxes and licenses by all instead of a part, when all should pay, and for the further purpose of a full and complete assessment of the real and personal property of the county, and to insure a thorough and complete collection of the taxes on real and personal property, and all other taxes and licenses and dues whatsoever, and that the state and county may receive the revenue that they are entitled to by law to receive, do most respectfully submit for your consideration the accompanying acts, providing for the more efficient assessment of the real and personal property of the county, and the thorough collection of said taxes and revenues by township officers; and pray that the same, or some other that your wisdom may suggest, may be enacted for the county of Sierra.

It will be seen that in said proposed laws the fees for collections are reduced, and we confidently assert that, under the laws as proposed, a far greater revenue will be produced, both for the state and county, than is now collected, and, of course, without any increase of taxes, a surplus will be found in the treasury of the county; and when the county indebtedness is paid, the object of taxation being for the support of the government and not for the purpose of accumulating and hoarding money by taxation, of course the taxes on real and personal property for county purposes can be proportionately reduced.

Local officers know the township better than county officers can, and it is impossible to evade or avoid them; or that owners of real and personal property, or tax-payers, should be overlooked by them, as they may be by a county officer, or his deputy; and besides, deputies, as experience here has demonstrated, are inefficient.

And we respectfully suggest that the local township officers, as provided for in said acts, chosen directly by the people for assessors and collectors, will have their confidence and support to an extent not to be expected towards a deputy who holds his office of collector oftener for partisan services than he does for integrity and fitness for the position he occupies.

We do not wish to be understood as reflecting upon the existing officers of this county, but we mean to be understood that, owing to the system of assessing and collecting in a county like Sierra, with the natural obstacles herein set forth and stated, it is next to impossible for one man, or his deputies, unacquainted, to make thorough assessments or collections; and we state the further fact, that the revenue for foreign miners' licenses and poll-taxes fell off in the financial year from June 12th, A. D., 1856, to June 12th, A. D., 1857, about the sum of fifteen thousand dollars, without any reason therefor, that we are able to discover; in fact, it should have been largely increased. There were five thousand four hundred and four votes polled in this county at the general election in 1856, and beyond all doubt there were that number of persons in the county liable to pay poll-taxes, and yet, for the fiscal year above stated, the poll-tax collected, was only three thousand dollars, and the foreign miners' license taxes collected, were only three thousand, and those who know Sierra county best, know that the revenue from foreign miners' licenses should have increased instead of diminished, and that the revenue from poll-taxes should have been doubled if not trebled.

The same evil may exist in other counties, but we only state facts in our own county, and earnestly and respectfully pray for relief.

But our troubles do not end here, for we are satisfied that a larger annual loss occurs in the manner of collecting state and county licenses under the present revenue law. Persons engaged in business requiring licenses are required to procure the same from the county treasurer, at his office, and large numbers neglect to take the licenses, or to have them promptly renewed; all of which evils and losses would cease to exist by collecting the same in townships by local officers.

And we further represent, that the public security and a just regard for the rights of the creditors of the county of Sierra, that they may be paid in the order in which their warrants on the treasurer are registered, and that the public moneys are not used for any purpose whatever not by law allowed, call for further enactments concerning the office of county treasurer, and we submit the accompanying act, intending to effect the foregoing object, to your consideration.

And, in conclusion, we respectfully ask your early consideration of the facts set out in this memorial, and that you will enact the laws herewith submitted, or others to secure the same results.

And, as in duty bound, your memorialists will ever pray.

M. J. GOODFELLOW,
A. C. WHIPPLE,
Of Board of Supervisors.

The following message was received from the Senate:

SENATE CHAMBER,
January 27, 1858. }

MR. SPEAKER:—I am directed to inform the Assembly that the Senate have this day passed Assembly bill No. 46, an act to issue duplicates for certain lost war bonds.

THOS. N. CAZNEAU, Sec'y of Senate.

At quarter past 2, P. M., on motion of Mr. Stakes, the House adjourned.

IN ASSEMBLY.

THURSDAY, January 28, 1858.

House met pursuant to adjournment.

The speaker in the chair.

Roll called, and all present except those absent on leave.

Journal of yesterday was read and approved.

Mr. Ballou, from the Committee on Accounts and Expenditures. had leave to withdraw documents submitted by the late Secretary of State.

Mr. De Long, from the Committee on Elections, made the following majority report:

MAJORITY REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON ELECTIONS.

We, the undersigned, members of your committee, to whom was referred the contested election case of Montgomery vs. Harris, have had the matter under consideration, and from the additional evidence produced before us since our former report was laid before this House, we have been compelled, by a stern sense of duty and right, taking the evidence adduced as a guide, to report the same back to the House, and recommend that the seat be declared vacant, and a re-election for the said office be ordered by this House, and in explanation of this change produced upon our minds, in duty to ourselves, we deem it proper to briefly lay before this House the causes, or rather the particular evidence adduced before us that has produced this change.

The following points upon the former investigation of the case were deemed established by your entire committee, viz. :

That at Orear's precinct, four men voted for James O. Harris, who were at that time citizens of Placer county, and consequently were not entitled to a vote. Also, the evidence formerly before your committee established the fact of three other illegal votes having been cast, two of which were for Harris, and one for contestant. By excluding all of said votes, it established contestant's right to the seat by a majority of one, which was further supported by the consideration your committee gave to illegality and informality proven to have been practiced at a precinct known as Yocolumne, at which precinct the incumbent received a majority of sixteen votes. The majority of your committee, now, as before, consider the illegality proven at this precinct, should render the return from the same ineligible to be counted for either party, but your committee further consider that, (to use the language of the report of the Committee on Elections, in the case of McCann vs. Cook,) no illegality or informality on the part of any officer of an election, should disfranchise the voters at that precinct, (where such returns would affect an election.) The whole matter should be again submitted to the people. Therefore, in view of this state of facts, if we should consider the four votes at Orear's precinct as legal, this would still give to the incumbent a majority of one; but the illegal returns made from Yocolumne influence the majority of your committee in recommending that the whole subject matter be again referred to the people.

At the former sitting of your committee, the affidavit of one Miller was produced, in which he stated that he, in connection with the three others, viz. : Magraw, Shuster, and McLaughlin, all lived on Bear River, above Camp Far West, and that they voted in Sutter county, and for incumbent; and further, the affiant unqualifiedly stated in said affidavit that if Camp Far West was the line between Placer and Sutter counties, that they all did live in Placer county, no evidence being adduced at that time on the part of either party to prove where the county line was. Your committee were referred to the statutes as authority, and they there found that Camp Far West was declared to be the line. This, your committee considered as conclusively establishing the fact of the residence of the said four voters, and upon this evidence the former report of your committee was predicated, but your committee further state that upon the re-examination of this matter a number of witnesses were introduced, and amongst the number, the affiant Miller, who, when called upon, stated in explanation of his former affidavit, that he used the term Camp Far West on his former examination in reference to the barracks situated upon the encampment ground of Camp Far West. He further stated that the reservation of a mile square was there located and known as Camp Far West, and that he lived within the boundaries of said reservation, upon the opposite side of the river, as did also the other three mentioned voters, and that there was an unsettled difference of opinion existing in the minds of all men residing in the vicinity of the said county boundaries as to whether the statute, in defining the boundaries of the said counties, and in referring to the said camp, meant the upper, lower, or middle portion of the said reservation, or whether they meant the barracks thereon situated; and witness further stated that if the upper boundaries of the said reservation was the line intended by the statute, that he and the voters mentioned did, at the time of the election, live in Sutter county, but that if either the barracks or the lower boundary of the said reservation was intended, that he and they then lived in Placer county; and further he, the said witness, stated that he had lived there for five years, and voted at the same precinct, and two or three times acted as clerk at the polls at the said precinct, and that the most general opinion in the minds of all the residents thereabout was that the upper boundary of the reservation was the line as referred to in the statute; which portion of said evidence, was fully corroborated by the evidence of a witness by the name of Justice, who swore that he was, and is, at the present time, an acting magistrate of Sutter county, and that he does exercise jurisdiction to the extent of the upper boundary of said line, believing from all the best information he has been able to obtain, that he has an undoubted right to do the same.

The present Lieutenant Governor, Mr. Walkup, was then called upon, and he avers that he is a resident of Placer county, and resides within ten or thirteen miles of the boundary line of the county; that business has often called him in the vicinity of Camp Far West; that to the best of his information, the line is undefined for two or three miles, and further, that the citizens and property-holders in that vicinity are so undetermined relative to the boundary of the said county, that they pay their taxes indiscriminately to the officers of either county.

And further, the certificate of the county clerk of the county of Sutter was offered in evidence, by which the fact was proven that the boundary line between the two counties has never been surveyed, and is, therefore, undefined in any other manner, except by the statement set forth in the statute defining counties and county boundaries, which says, that the southern boundary of said county commences at a point in the middle of the Sacramento River, running thence to Bear River, and up the middle of said stream to a point opposite Camp Far West.

Now the committee beg leave to recall the attention of the House to the evidence relative to this locality, by no less than six witnesses, who were personally present before your committee, all of whom testified that they had resided either at the place in dispute, or near said place, (averaging from five to eight years each,) all of whom swore positively that the barracks on the reserve were not known or distinguished, by either themselves or any resident there, of their knowledge, as Camp Far West, as a place distinct from the said Reserve; but all agree, that the entire Reserve was known and distinguished by the said appellation.

Now, in view of this state of facts, inasmuch as the statute, in defining the boundaries of said counties, makes use of the term Camp Far West, and as the line has been unsurveyed, and as the four men who voted are admitted to have resided, at the time of said election, within or below the upper boundary of the said Reserve, your committee are unwilling to take upon themselves the responsibility of determining whether the upper, the lower, or the middle portion of the said Reserve was intended as the point of boundary by the Legislature of this state, in describing the same; therefore, there remains, at least, a reasonable doubt in the minds of your committee, whether the said four voters were entitled to a vote in Sutter county or not; and further presuming, as a principle of law, that all legal intendments are in favor of the incumbent, and as your committee feel compelled to give to the said incumbent the benefit of said doubt, therefore the committee decide the said votes to be legal, and for a further reason for the said action, your committee suggest the following proposition:

The incumbent comes here with the proper certificate of election, certified to by the proper officers of the county, setting forth that he was the duly elected officer of the said county, the same attested to, and sealed with the seal of the county. This, your committee deem to be at least prima facie proof of his election, and can only be successfully rebutted by positive and undoubted proof of fraud or illegality in said election; in this, your committee deem the contestant has failed, (as relative to the precinct known as Orear's,) inasmuch as fraud has not been charged, and therefore cannot be inferred; and your committee deem the proof of illegality in said precinct at least doubtful, whereby they feel compelled to admit the votes of the said Miller, Shuster, McLaughlin, and Magraw, as legal voters; but, as aforestated, your committee deem the election held at the precinct known as Yoculumne, (at which precinct the incumbent received a majority of sixteen votes,) to have been illegally and informally conducted on the part of the officers of said election, so much so, as to render the same ineligible to be counted in favor of either party, and the same directly varies the result; yet, deeming, as aforesaid, that the said informality should not disfranchise the voters of the said precinct, therefore, they submit the aforesaid report, and recommend the adoption of the following resolution; viz.:

Resolved, That this House deem, and hereby declare, the seat in this House belonging to the county of Sutter, and at present occupied by J. O. Harris, to be vacant.

DE LONG, of Yuba.
MITCHELL, of Tulare.
U. EDWARDS, of Sonoma.
CLARK, of Sierra.

Mr. Parker, from the same committee, made the following

MINORITY REPORT:

MR. SPEAKER:—We the undersigned, a minority of the Committee on Elections, have the honor to make the following report in reference to the evidence we were instructed to receive by this House, as explanatory to that which was adduced previously, before your committee, and upon which your Committee on Elections made a unanimous report declaring the seat in this Assembly, now occupied by James O. Harris, vacant, and declaring Z. Montgomery the duly elected representative from Sutter county, instead.

As a majority of the committee, with whom we have had the honor to be connected, have made a report to this House, we would respectfully beg leave to offer this in reply:

The report of that Committee opens with the following language:

"We have had the matter under consideration, and from the additional evidence produced before us since our former report was laid before this House, we have been compelled by a stern sense of duty and right, taking the evidence adduced as a guide, to report the same back to the House and recommend that the seat be declared vacant, and a re-election for the said office be ordered by this House.

We would state this additional evidence adduced before your committee only referred to the four votes cast at Orear's precinct, as admitted by the report of the majority; but they may exclude them, and the incumbent, Harris, is elected by a majority of one vote, because of three other illegal votes having been cast, two for the incumbent, Harris, and one for contestant, Montgomery. By referring to the former report will be seen the following: "Your committee would here state that all the evidence they have of illegal votes having been cast for Montgomery is entirely hearsay, viz.: that A heard B say that he voted for Montgomery, and your committee do not think it is proper to consider such evidence." There was no evidence adduced explanatory of this when your committee met to take explanatory evidence of this contested seat.

Also, in the latter clause of the former report, reference is made to the following language, viz.: "Now, by way of recapitulation, so that your honorable body may more fully and completely draw a conclusion in this matter of the contested seat, the following statement is made: that the four votes spoken of at Orear's precinct, (votes for respondent,) should be thrown out; also the two foreigners; also, the boy of sixteen years of age; making a total of seven illegal votes cast for James O. Harris, respondent, thereby giving Montgomery a majority of three votes."

We would also allude to the Yoculumne precinct. Here we would again respectfully refer to the former unanimous report of your committee, viz.: "In another precinct, Yoculumne, the polls were closed before sunset, and the votes commenced to be counted. Before the counting was finished, two persons came in and voted. This procedure, your committee certainly consider illegal, while at the same time, if no fraud is shown, your committee do not think that a voter could be precluded from exercising the elective franchise because of the informality of the judges of election in opening the ballot-box before the time prescribed by law; for in that instance the prerogative of the people might be destroyed by the willful act of corrupt judges of election." In this precinct the respondent had a majority, and here there was no explanatory evidence to change the former conclusions of your committee; indeed, there was no evidence offered to be adduced in reference to that matter, and as further upholding the position taken by your committee, we would refer to the concluding paragraph of the former report, viz.:

"In conclusion, your committee would say, that they have examined the adjudged cases of former contested seats in this Legislature, and find nothing therein to cause them to draw a different conclusion than that they have here arrived at." There has been no additional evidence offered to change this conclusion of the former unanimous report.

According to the instructions of this House, your committee, on the evening of January 26, 1858, proceeded to take, and did take, such evidence as was offered before them, which evidence was adduced for the purpose of explaining away the conclusions your committee arrived at in the former report, with reference to the boundary line of the counties of Sutter and Placer. And while we entertain the highest regard for the integrity of the witnesses produced on that occasion, we do not think the evidence adduced sufficiently clear to induce us to change our views from the conclusions arrived at in the former report, now on file with the clerk of this House. The boundary line, as defined by statutes, is a point on Bear River, opposite Camp Far West. From the testimony of the witnesses introduced on the above-mentioned evening, it seems that Camp Far West was formerly a military reserve, of a mile in extent, or a mile square; on this reserve were built log-houses or barracks, the most conspicuous objects upon the reservation. The general acceptance of the word camp, in this state, is a place where there are buildings for persons to reside, particularly in the mining districts; and, most, if not all, the witnesses testified that, although they considered that whole mile as Camp Far West, yet if there was a particular portion of that mile that they would style Camp Far West, it would be the barracks or houses. It seems that there is no record in the recorder's office, of one of the above-mentioned counties, of a boundary line between the two counties. County officers frequently fail to perform their duty, and if there is no evidence in the county of one actual survey having been made, and the same properly recorded, we must endeavor to discover the boundary line from some other source. We turn to the statute, and find it there defined as a point on Bear River, opposite Camp Far West, this camp being where the barracks are situated on the reservation referred to. These barracks being the most prominent object on that reservation, we believe that the statute understandingly designated that point as a boundary line between the counties of Sutter and Placer.

We respectfully submit this as a minority report of the Committee on Elections, referring this House to the former report, to which we adhere.

Respectfully,

EUSTACE PARKER,
E. J. LEWIS.

Mr. De Long offered the following resolution, which was adopted :

Resolved, That the matter of the contested election case, pending before this House, wherein Z. Montgomery is the contestant, v. James O. Harris the incumbent, be and is hereby made the special order of this day at one o'clock, and that the said parties be allowed to appear before this House, either in person or by attorney, for the purpose of arguing the said case, and that they, or their attorneys, be restricted in time thus occupied, as follows, viz.: the contestant shall be allowed to open the case in an argument of fifteen minutes, the incumbent to be then allowed one hour in replying; and the contestant then be allowed one hour in replying to the same.

Mr. Lee made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER:—The Committee of Ways and Means, to whom was referred Assembly bill No. 6, entitled an act to regulate the compensation of the members of the Legislature, beg leave to report, that after a careful examination of the same, and a comparison of its provisions with those of the state constitution, they find the same to conflict so materially as to make the objection a fatal one; they, therefore, respectfully recommend the rejection of the bill. All of which is respectfully submitted,

H. LEE,

Chairman Committee of Ways and Means.

Mr. Crane, from the Committee on Counties and County Boundaries, made the following reports :

MR. SPEAKER:—The Committee on Counties and County Boundaries, have had under consideration Assembly bill No. 24, for an act to establish the boundary line between the counties of Humboldt and Klamath, and beg leave to report the same back to the House, and recommend that it be rejected. The committee deem it a dangerous practice to appropriate money out of the state treasury for surveys of county boundaries, inasmuch as there are but few counties, if any, in the state whose boundaries are not more or less undefined, and an immense sum of money would be required to make all the surveys which would be deemed necessary by the various counties; and upon examination, they find that the law has already amply provided for surveys, to be made whenever the counties may deem them necessary, by the Surveyor General, or a deputy, by requiring such surveys; the law further providing that the expense thereof be a county charge.

CRANE, Chairman.

MR. SPEAKER:—The Committee on Counties and County Boundaries have had under consideration Assembly bill No. 58, for an act to authorize the board of supervisors of Santa Cruz county to levy a special tax for building purposes, and beg leave to report the same back, without amendment, and recommend its passage.

Also, Assembly bill No. 49, for an act to extend the provisions of an act entitled an act concerning hogs found running at large in the counties of Colusa, Tehama, Butte, Sonoma, and Napa, and beg leave to report the same back, together with a substitute therefor, and recommend the passage of the substitute.

CRANE, Chairman.

Mr. Young, from the Committee on Enrollment, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:—The Committee on Enrollment have examined and found correctly enrolled Assembly bill No. 1, an act to regulate the fees of certain county officers of Contra Costa county.

Also, Assembly bill No. 5, an act to change the name of William Wilson Smith to William Wilson Lawton.

Mr. Ballou made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:—The Committee on Public Expenditures and Accounts, to whom was referred Senate bill No. 51, for an act to appropriate money for expenses of state library, have had the same under consideration, and herewith report the same back, with the recommendation that it do not pass, for the following reasons, viz.:

Your committee find upon examination, that there is at the present time the sum of seven hundred and seven dollars in the library fund, subject to draft, upon application of a board of directors, composed of the Governor,

Treasurer, and Comptroller of State, president of the Senate, and speaker of the House of Assembly; which said board of directors were created by section third of an act entitled an act to provide a fund for the use of the state library, passed May 1, 1852, and have ample power in the premises to dispose of all funds in the state treasury, belonging to the library fund, for the use and benefit thereof.

Your committee find, by the last annual report of the Secretary of State, that the sum of four thousand seven hundred and seven dollars and thirty-three cents, is in the hands of a purchasing agent, in the city of New York, to be expended in the purchase of books; this, taken in connection with the fact, that upon the adjournment of the Legislature, quite an addition will be made to the library fund, has induced your committee to conclude that a prudent economy will be best subserved by making a draft upon the library fund to defray the expense of furnishing the library rooms, and the general fund left to be expended in matters of absolute necessity, and the payment of the honest debts of the state.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

S. A. BALLOU, Chairman,	} Committee.

And whereas, It is known that the Chinese population have been much imposed upon, through their ignorance of our language, and the government has been imposed upon through our ignorance of their customs, that it is necessary for the protection of the Chinese, that all tax receipts and other papers affecting the interests of that people, should be translated and printed in both languages, by a duly authorized officer; that for the protection of the government it should be ascertained whether Chinamen are not now enjoying the fruits of slavery denied to American citizens, and contrary to the provisions of the constitution; and that, for all the purposes of their government, it is necessary to establish a Chinese bureau ;

Resolved, That a committee of six (three from the agricultural and three from the mining counties,) be appointed to inquire into the propriety of the establishment of such an office in connection with one of the departments of state, and report the result to the House at an early day.

MR. SPEAKER:—The Committee on Claims have had under consideration Assembly bill No. 94, an act appropriating money to pay H. C. Peck and Theo. OPINION OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL.

The following communication was received from the Attorney General:

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Sacramento, February 3d, 1858. }

Hon. Joseph Walkup, President of the Senate:

Hon. N. E. Whitesides, Speaker of the Assembly:

GENTLEMEN:—Concurrent resolutions of the Senate and Assembly, forbidding the drawing of warrants by the Comptroller of State, in favor of James M. Estell, on account of his contract as lessee of the state prison, and asking my opinion upon the subject, were handed me last evening.

According to the letter of the resolutions mentioned, I am required to give an opinion in regard to the prohibition contained therein, against the issuance of warrants by the Comptroller in favor of Estell.

But, from reading the remarks of gentlemen made whilst they (the resolutions) were under consideration, and from conversation with others who took an active part in their passage, I conclude that my opinion is desired in regard to the contract made between the Board of State Prison Commissioners and Estell, by which the state prison grounds and property, together with the convict labor of this state, was leased to the latter for the period of five years, which I cheerfully give Assuming that the contract spoken of was fairly made, and is not tainted with fraud, (in regard to which I am not informed,) and that it is regular upon its face, I am compelled still to maintain that it is, and always has been, void for want of constitutional power or authority in the board of commissioners to execute it on behalf of the state. This contract was made under and by virtue of the provisions of an act entitled an act creating a board of state prison commissioners, and defining their duties, approved March 21st, 1856, which act authorizes the board of commissioners to lease the state prison grounds and property, together with the convict labor of this state, for a period of five years, at a price not exceeding $15,000 per month; and authorizes the Comptroller to draw his warrants on the Treasurer of State, for such sum per month as may be agreed in such contract.

In other words, the act authorizes the contraction of a debt or monthly liability against the state of a sum not exceeding $15,000 per month, for a period of five years.

Now, at the time said act was passed, and at the time the contract with Estell was entered into, the state had but little if any money in her treasury, and was indebted in a sum exceeding $3,000,000, not contracted in case of war, to repel invasion, nor suppress insurrection, no part of which indebtedness has been submitted to and ratified by a vote of the people as required by the constitution, neither did this act require the question of an appropriation for the purposes therein specified to be submitted to a vote of the people. Then the question is presented as to whether the act of March 21, 1856, referred to, is in contravention of the eighth article of the constitution.

I think it is. It will be observed that the language of said article is that the Legislature shall not in any manner create any debt or debts, liability or liabilities, which singly or in the aggregate, etc., exceed the sum of $300,000. This language is too plain to be misunderstood, and too comprehensive for evasion; it embraces every liability of every kind and nature whatever; the necessity or importance of the object to be obtained cannot in the slightest affect it. Even though the wheels of government should thereby be stopped, yet the Legislature cannot go beyond the bounds and the limits fixed in the article from which I quote, except in the manner pointed out therein.

This subject has been so fully and ably discussed by our Supreme Court in the cases of the People v. Johnson et al., October Term, 1856, and Nougues v. Douglass et al., January Term, 1857, (to which I refer you,) that further comment at present is unnecessary.

In the case of the People v. Johnson, we are told a debt or liability may be created in many ways. It may be done by express statute, by contract, by appropriation when there is no money to meet it, by drawing on a fund which has not been set apart, or which in fact does not exist, etc., etc.,—in a word, whenever the faith of the state is pledged, either directly or indirectly, to the payment of a certain sum at a given time, or when the money may be in the treasury, for a service rendered or to be rendered, then a debt or liability has been created within the meaning of the eighth article of the constitution. And it seems to me that no argument is required to bring the act and contract under consideration within the rule which I have stated.

On Monday last, the claim of Mr. Estell, for $10,000, for his monthly payment under his contract as lessee, was presented to the board of examiners. We declined allowing it, upon the ground I have stated, and for the additional reasons, that, first, we had serious doubts as to whether an appropriation had been made by law for that purpose; and second, if an appropriation was made by the act of March 21, 1856, whether it did not exceed the constitutional limit, independent of any other indebtedness, by creating a liability for a sum exceeding $300,000.

An appropriation under the constitution, laws, and financial system of this state consists in setting apart a specific fund for a particular purpose, a named amount, which is capable of being exhausted, a fixed sum against which an account by the proper officers may be kept. (See B. B. Redding v. Sam. Bell, 4th Cal. Rep., page 333.) The general appropriation law made no provision for Estell's contract, and as to whether the act under which such contract was made makes an appropriation under the rule given, is questionable.

Again, this act authorized a contract for five years, at $15,000 per month, making a sum total of $900,000, and according to the reasoning in the People v. Johnson et al., it would seem that it thereby provided for the creation of a liability in that sum. If the act of March 21, 1856, operates as an appropriation at all, it in my opinion appropriates the sum of $900,000.

It is true, that the language used is "the sum of $15,000 per month, or such sum, etc., is hereby appropriated."

But the act is for a single object or purpose, and authorizes but one contract to be made, which contract is to continue through a series of years, and the payments thereon to be made monthly.

Now suppose that such act had created a board of commissioners, and authorized them to make a contract, which contract should run for five years, and for the sum of $900,000, and had further provided as follows: "The sum of $900,000 is hereby appropriated out of any moneys not otherwise appropriated by law, for the purposes of the contract aforesaid, and the Comptroller is hereby required to draw his warrant for the sum of $15,000 at the end of each month, etc., and the Treasurer is hereby required to pay the same," would such an act be constitutional? I apprehend not. Then let me ask you, if a mere change of terms, which in fact means the same thing, and accomplishes the same purpose, can render that constitutional, which otherwise was not? In other words, can the Legislature constitutionally do that indirectly which it can not directly? Can it do by commissioners that which it can not do by express act? Can it, by the passage of an act shrewdly drawn by some one having a particular affection for the state treasury, secure an end or object which plain, honest, straightforward English could not possibly accomplish? If so, then constitutional restrictions will have no force or effect whatever.

Respectfully yours,

THOS. H. WILLIAMS,
Attorney General.

MESSAGE OF THE GOVERNOR.

The following communication was received from the Governor:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
Sacramento, February 4th, 1858. }

To the Senate and Assembly of California:

GENTLEMEN:—The developments made by the recent joint committee appointed to visit the state prison, impose upon me the necessity of recommending some changes in our criminal code. There are now some thirty-seven persons confined in the penitentiary, under the age of twenty-one years, in a room with some two hundred and fifty other convicts, many of whom are amongst the most accomplished villains in the world. Their exploits and adventures in infamy and crime in various countries through which they have traveled, are detailed in exaggerated terms to these youths, and make impressions upon their minds which must exercise the most baneful influence upon their future career.

This prison, as at present conducted, is the most efficient school for villainy that can be found in any country. The boy who has perhaps been influenced by older persons to commit larceny, or who, in a moment of ungovernable passion, has stricken his fellow with a deadly weapon, but whose heart is still warm to honest impulses, will leave the institution, graduated in all that the most hardened villains can teach. They enter novices in crime, but come out masters of all the arts practiced in the school of infamy. Such an institution is not only disgraceful to the state, but disgraceful to the age in which we live.

Some provisions ought to be made at once for a house of refuge—a place where juvenile offenders can be kept by themselves, and freed from the destructive influences which now surround them—a place where proper efforts could be made to reclaim them from the paths of vice, and by education and suitable training, restore them to society, qualified to discharge the duties of good citizens. The alarming increase in the number of juvenile offenders in our state admonishes us that the public interest demands a prompt movement in this direction. In the meanwhile I recommend that the criminal code be so modified that all persons convicted of felonies, under the age of eighteen years of age be imprisoned in the county jail.

In this connection, I also recommend the passage of an act making it a criminal offence for a person of full age to bet or hazard money, or anything of value, with a minor, and authorizing the parent or guardian, as the case may be, to sue for and recover back any money or valuable thing so lost.

Whilst upon this subject, I deem it proper to inform you that the board of examiners have decided that it will require a specific appropriation before the monthly allowance made by the act of March 21st, 1856, to the lessee of the prison can be paid.

As this whole subject is now occupying the attention of the Legislature, I refrain from saying anything more upon it at the present time.

JOHN B. WELLER, Governor.

The rules were suspended, and sixteen hundred and eighty copies of the opinion of the Attorney General, and message of the Governor, were ordered printed in English, and two hundred and forty copies in Spanish, both to be printed in one pamphlet.

The following message was also received from the Governor:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
Sacramento, February 3d, 1858.

To the Assembly of California:

I have this day approved an act to authorize the guardian of Minna C. Buchanan to sell and dispose of her real estate and chattels real, approved March 14th, 1856.

JOHN B. WELLER, Governor.

Assembly bill No. 40, an act to legalize the acknowledgments of certain conveyances and other instruments in writing, the special order for this day, was considered in Committee of the Whole, Mr. McCoy in the chair, reported back, with recommendations to recommit the bill to the Judiciary Committee,

Which was adopted by the House.

Assembly bill No. 18, an act to authorize the administrator of Juan Antonio Vallejo, deceased, to sell the real estate of his intestate at private sale, (special order,) was taken up, and laid on the table.

On motion of Mr. Stakes, at two o'clock, p. m., the House adjourned.

IN ASSEMBLY.

FRIDAY, February 5th, 1858.

House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker in the chair.

The roll was called, and all present except Mr. Marshall and those absent on leave.

Journals of yesterday read and approved.

The following resolution was offered by Mr. Young, which was referred to State Prison Committee:

Resolved, By the Assembly, the Senate concurring, that the state prison board of directors be empowered, and are hereby authorized to appoint one person to take charge of the state prison for the safe-keeping and care of prisoners contained therein until such time as the present Legislature shall take further action on state prison affairs.

Mr. Willson presented a petition of board of supervisors of Santa Cruz county, for an act authorizing the county treasurer to become purchaser for benefit of county or state.

Referred to Committee on Ways and Means.

Mr. Banks presented a petition for a Sunday law, from citizens of San Francisco.

Referred to Committee on Public Morals.

Mr. Lee made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :—Your committee, having had under consideration Assembly bill No. 451 of the last session of the Legislature, entitled an act to provide for the liquidation and payment of claims against the state for deficiencies in appropriations heretofore made to defray the civil expenses of government prior to the first day of January, A. D., 1857, respectfully represent, that after a careful examination of the whole matter, they find the claims included in said act to have been passed upon by a former committee of this House as equitable and just, but that the bill was not passed at the last session of the Legislature for the following reasons, contained in the report of the Committee of Ways and Means, which will be found in the House Journal of the eighth session, page 844, and signed by J. Lancaster Brent, chairman :

"The Committee on Ways and Means concur in the views of that committee, (the Committee on Accounts and Expenditures) relative to the justice and validity of the claims provided for in said bill, and think that the same should, in honor and good faith be liquidated, but cannot join in the recommendation for the passage of the bill for the following reasons: These claims stand on the same footing as other past indebtedness of the state, the payment of the interest on which, as well as the principal, has been decided by the Supreme Court to be unconstitutional until allowed by a direct vote of the people. Under these circumstances, the Legislature has just passed an act entitled an act to provide for paying certain equitable claims against the state of California, and to contract a debt for that purpose, in which act provision is made for authorizing the Legislature to allow and audit claims of the nature contained in this bill.

"If the people should not adopt this act, it is deemed inexpedient to issue more repudiated evidences of indebtedness, to the increased scandal of the good name of the state, and if the said act should be ratified, then the next Legislature will be empowered to make provision for the bonding and payment of these claims."

For the purpose of preserving the proofs of the justice and equity of these claims, said committee further reported the following resolution, which was adopted :

"Resolved, That Assembly bill No. 451, together with the report of the Committee on Accounts and Expenditures and of Ways and Means, together with the Comptroller's report, and vouchers filed—be sealed up in a package by the clerk and directed to the speaker of Assembly of the ninth session of the Legislature of California, to be by him delivered to the Committee of Ways and Means of that Assembly, and that said package be deposited in the office of the Secretary of State, to be by him delivered to the speaker."

The disabilities acting as a bar to these claims, having been removed by the direct vote of the people at the last election, and by a subsequent decision of the Supreme Court, would therefore report back the bill providing for the bonding and payment of said claims, and recommend the same for the consideration of the House.

Your committee would also respectfully represent that they have had under consideration Assembly bill No. 54, entitled an act to amend an act to provide for issuing license to passenger brokers, passed March 25th, 1857.

Also, Assembly bill No. 22, entitled an act to make county warrants receivable in payment for county taxes, and after mature deliberation, recommend the indefinite postponement of the same.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

H. LEE, Chairman,
Committee of Ways and Means.

Mr. Groom made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :—The Committee on Commerce and Navigation, to whom was referred Senate bill No. 59, an act entitled an act to authorize James G. Denniston to construct a wharf at Half Moon Bay, in San Mateo county, have had the same under consideration, and beg leave to report it back to the House, without amendment, and recommend its passage.

R. W. GROOM, Chairman.

Mr. Safford made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :—The Committee on Education have had under consideration Senate concurrent resolution No. 8, relative to appropriating lands for school purposes, so as to allow townships not provided with school lands to locate two sections of land upon any of the unappropriated agricultural lands of this state, and report the same back to the House, and recommend its adoption.

A. P. K. SAFFORD, Chairman.
J. C. WILLSON,
C. S. HOWELL.

Mr. Ballou made the following report :

The Committee on Public Expenditures and Accounts, to whom was referred the report of the Superintendent of Public Instruction of the disbursement of the contingent fund of his office, beg leave to report back the same, and state that the same is correct, according to the vouchers on file in the office of the State Comptroller.

S. W. BALLOU, Chairman.
D. B. CURTIS.

Mr. Stratton made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :—The Committee on Public Morals, to whom were referred concurrent resolutions sustaining the President, relating to filibustering, have had the same under consideration, and the majority of said committee respectfully submit the following report :

We have the utmost confidence in the ability and patriotism of the President of the United States, and we believe that his past experience qualifies him for the high position he now holds, and that he will faithfully execute the neutrality and all other laws of the United States, in doing which he will be sustained by good citizens of all parties.

But as the duties of legislation do not require us to endorse or censure the course of the President, in relation to filibustering or any other matter, we believe the passage of the said resolutions would be not only productive of no good, but a departure from the regular course of legislation.

The time of the Legislature can be more profitably employed in acting upon such matters as are of interest to the people of the state, than in meddling with the affairs that pertain to the duties of the President and Congress of the United States.

And we are of the opinion that the Legislature of California is not required or authorized to legislate for the United States, or for "our weak and distracted southern sister republics;" nor do we think, according to the language of the resolutions, that the people of California would love to witness the extension of republican "empires," or the extension of monarchical empires.

The committee would respectfully call the attention of the House to the fact that we have assembled to legislate for the whole people of the State, and not for any particular party; and party questions should not be allowed to disturb our deliberations, nor to consume the time that should be occupied in attending to the business which has called us together.

And after a careful examination of the whole matter, the committee have concluded that the Legislature has no authority or power to pledge the Democracy of the state in support of any action that has been, or may be, taken by the President, in relation to filibustering, as the Democratic party promulgates its principles through conventions, the delegates to which are elected for that purpose, and that party would not be bound by any political resolutions which might be adopted by the Legislature; and any such resolutions would not be the expressed opinion of the Democracy of the state, but merely the opinion of the members voting for them.

In consequence of the political nature of the resolutions, and their not pertaining to the legitimate business of legislation, the committee recommend that they be indefinitely postponed.

W. C. STRATTON,
J. A. HOBART,
SOLON S. SIMONS.

And the undersigned, a minority of the committee, most respectfully beg leave to suggest to the members of the Assembly, that those whose Democracy is of so doubtful a nature that they deem it necessary to introduce political resolutions calculated to embarrass legislation and distract the party, for the purpose of proving their Democracy, had better postpone the introduction of the same until after the adjournment of the Legislature, and then hold an informal extra session for the purpose of legislating for the United States, "our weak and distracted southern sister republics," all "republican empires," and the rest of mankind generally.

W. C. STRATTON,
SOLON S. SIMONS.

Mr. Heath made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:—The select committee, to whom were referred Assembly bills No. 33 and 98, amendatory of an act entitled an act to regulate rodeos, have had the same under consideration, report the same back with a substitute, and recommend the passage of the substitute.

RUSSEL HEATH.

Mr. Havens, from special committee on Assembly bill No. 24, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:—Your committee respectfully beg leave to report back substitute for Assembly bill No. 24, entitled an act to establish the boundary line between the counties of Humboldt and Klamath, and recommend its passage.

Your committee believe that the interest of the state, as well as that of the counties named, will be promoted by the establishment of the boundary line between them. Said line is a parallel of latitude, and cannot be settled without a careful survey, and when settled, should be plainly marked by visible monuments. Upon this line are settlements and valuable improvements, which now, to a considerable extent, escape taxation, by reason of disputed jurisdiction of the revenue officers of either county; and your committee think that the increase of revenue derived by the state from a settlement of this question, will more than reimburse her for the amount expended in the survey; at the same time, the counties in question will be equally benefited by the settlement of the same question, and should contribute their share towards the expense of the survey. This division of the expense is provided for in the bill.

There are other considerations which your committee might specify in favor of the passage of the bill, but deem it unnecessary.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

H. W. HAVENS, of Humboldt,
R. P. HIRST, of Klamath, Committee.

U. EDWARDS.

By Mr. Young :

MR. SPEAKER :—The Committee on Enrollment have examined, and found correctly enrolled, Assembly bill No. 136, an act to extend the time for the collection of taxes in San Bernardino county ;

Also, Assembly bill No. 157, an act to legalize and confirm the assessment roll, the publication of the same, and to extend the time for the collection of revenue in the county of Sonoma ;

Also, Assembly bill No. 81, an act concerning lawful fences in the county of Contra Costa.

GEO. A. YOUNG, Chairman.

By Mr. Moses, of minority of the El Dorado delegation :

MR. SPEAKER :—We, the undersigned members of the El Dorado delegation of the House of Assembly, beg leave most respectfully to submit the following minority report relative to Assembly bill No. 180, and recommend herewith the indefinite postponement of the same, for the following reasons, to wit :

At the last session of this honorable body, to wit : in 1857, a law was enacted separating the office of tax collector from the office of sheriff of the said county, and defining the duties and requirements of the said officer. In accordance with the requirements of the said law, the people of the said county elected M. R. Elstner to fill the said office, and for the performance of said duties said Elstner has filed his bonds, as required by law, in the sum of forty thousand dollars. And your committee would further state, the bill at present before the House, upon which this report is based, purposes to take from the duties of the said office that of the collection of foreign miners' license tax, without reducing the amount of the bonds required by law, whereas your committee beg leave most respectfully to state that said collection of foreign miner's licenses is worth more to the officer than all the other duties of the said office, as a source of revenue and profit to him. Upon this showing of facts, as one of the reasons, your committee base their report.

But further, your committee beg leave to suggest whether there is not a constitutional objection existing thereto, for the following reasons : Your committee consider that in the election by the people of a man to an office, the duties and requirements are at the time provided for by law, and known both to the individual and the people ; that this act creates in fact an implied contract between the two parties, and that unless the said officer shall fail to enter upon the duties of the said office, by neglecting or refusing to file his official bonds, or in any other manner becomes disqualified from filling the said position, that it is at least inequitable, if not unconstitutional, to take from the duties or emoluments of said office any part thereof during or previous to the occupancy of the said office by the officer duly elected according to law, as well as it would be equally unjust to add to the duties of an officer after the election of an incumbent, without adding a recompense for said duties ; more particularly illegal does it appear when the bonds required by the act sought to be amended are allowed to remain the same. In consideration of the above reasons, your committee, being a minority, respectfully submit this report, and recommend the indefinite postponement of the bill.

H. A. MOSES,
D. E. BUEL.

Mr. Moore, of special committee appointed to investigate affairs of San Francisco county officers, presented the report of the committee, which was referred to San Francisco delegation, and ordered printed.

CALDWELL, Chairman pro tem.

MR. SPEAKER :—The Committee on Federal Relations, to whom was referred Assembly bill No. 173, to authorize the city and county of San Francisco to convey to the United States sites for light-houses, respectfully report the same back, and recommend its passage, without amendment.

BEN. E. S. ELY, Chairman.

By Mr. Thomas :

MR. SPEAKER :—The Joint Committee of the Senate and Assembly, appointed to visit the state insane asylum, at Stockton, respectfully offer the following report :

That, in accordance with the duties assigned them, the committee visited the asylum, and, during two days, devoted that time to its examination that was necessary to a full understanding of its management and wants. This examination resulted in an unqualified approval, on our part, of the whole management. Every attention is bestowed on its unfortunate inmates, that the most humane could desire. The resident and visiting physicians, in our opinion, possess, in an eminent degree, all the qualities necessary that one should have in their position, and cannot be too highly commended for the faithful manner in which they have discharged their arduous duties. Indeed, it can be said of all connected with this institution, that they seem to fully appreciate the importance of the trust imposed upon them, and to endeavor, by a faithful performance of their duties, to make this place a spot where only kindness and genuine sympathy should reign, and where all that is possible to be done should be done to mitigate the sufferings of their unfortunate fellow-beings. For the improvements and changes that have been made under the present administration of the asylum, we would respectfully refer your honorable body to the reports of the trustees and resident physician, all of which we found had been truly laid before you in their reports.

The committee entirely agree with that portion of the report of the physician where he says: "The insane asylum of California has never been supplied with the fixtures, conveniences, and accommodations necessary to the well-being of its patients."

The wants of this institution have been very fairly set forth by him in his report, to all of which we would call your earnest attention, and the reasons there assigned why we should meet those wants. We would, without going into details, earnestly recommend an appropriation, for the following measures: For the construction of a brick wall; two mad-houses for the male and female patients; the houses for the males should contain at least forty cells, and that for the females, fifteen; bathing-rooms and privies for each of the wards; store-house; iron bars for the windows, and a thorough repair of the southern wing. The inner portion of this wing is in so dilapidated a condition, that there is absolute danger of its falling entirely in. The iron bedsteads now in use are of so frail a structure, that they can be easily torn to pieces by a maniac, and furnish him with a very formidable instrument of destruction. We would recommend their entire substitution by others of a more substantial make.

Appropriations for the above purposes, we deem absolutely necessary for the safe-keeping and comfort of the patients. Insanity prevails to an alarming extent in this state. The statistics show that it is steadily on the increase. We believe that the causes of it operate more strongly here than in any other portion of the world. It is no respecter of persons; it falls alike upon the high and low, and we know not how soon one of ourselves, or some dear friend, may be the victim of this dreadful malady. We should not, then, be parsimonious in our efforts to relieve and ameliorate their condition. California has already just cause to be proud of this institution. It stands as a lasting monument of her philanthropy and humanity. Let us so manage it, then, that it may ever continue to be the pride and boast of our state.

We would suggest here, that in the event of the state coming in possession of the state prison, the expenses in making these improvements could be considerably lessened. The bricks, iron bedsteads, and bars, could all be made at the prison, at a comparatively little cost. We unanimously agree in recommending that the act of 1853, establishing an insane asylum, should be so amended as to extend the term of office of the physician from two years to the full constitutional limits. In most, if not in all other institutions of this kind, these offices are held during good behavior, because more experience and practice are needed to fill them efficiently than in probably any other vocation. We would have recommended a similar practice, but for the barrier our constitution imposes, which limits the term of office to four years.

For the purpose of carrying out the various recommendations of this report, we will, at an early day, introduce a bill, and will earnestly recommend it to your favorable consideration.

GEO. W. THOMAS, Chair. House Com.
J. S. ORMSBY,
J. B. WARFIELD.

Mr. Davis, from the Committee on Swamp and Overflowed Lands, made the following report:

And the committee also report, and recommend the passage, without amendment, of Senate bill No. 104, an act to provide for the authentication of certain evidence in relation to swamp and overflowed lands heretofore sold by this state.

The following message was received from the Governor :

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
Sacramento, February 25, 1858. }

To the Assembly of California :

I herewith return, without my approval, an act entitled an act to extend the time for the collection of taxes in San Bernardino county.

The county of San Bernardino was organized under an act passed on the 26th of April, 1853. On the 29th of March, 1856, the time of collecting taxes was extended to the first of June, 1857. This included the delinquent taxes which had accrued since the organization of the county, and all that is now required is to extend the time still further to the first of May next, to which time sales will be deferred.

But my principal reason for returning the bill is because the clerk, in enrolling it, has written the words "eighteen hundred and fifty-seven," and also the words "eighteen hundred and fifty-six," twice. This is evidently a mistake. The bill also assumes that there is an existing law extending the time for the collection of taxes in the year 1858. I know of no such act.

JOHN B. WELLER.

Action on this message was postponed until to-morrow morning.

The following message was received from the Senate :

MR. SPEAKER :—I am directed to inform the Assembly that the Senate, on yesterday, passed Assembly bill No. 192, an act to legalize the assessment, and enforce the collection of taxes within the city of Sacramento, for the municipal year commencing April, 1857.

Mr. Crane reported as follows:

MR. SPEAKER:—The Committee on Counties and County Boundaries, to whom were referred Assembly bill No. 225, entitled an act granting the privilege to Charles Talcott and others to erect a wharf at Point San Quentin, in Marin county, and collect wharfage, beg leave to report the same back, and recommend its reference to the Committee on Commerce and Navigation.

CRANE, Chairman.

Mr. Ballou, from the Committee on Public Expenditures and Accounts, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:—The Committee on Public Expenditures and Accounts, have had under consideration Assembly bill No. 94, for an act appropriating money for the payment of specimen school books, furnished an ancient superintendent of public instruction long anterior to the days of special appropriations, and, after mature deliberation, have unanimously concluded that the parties asking relief have been unfortunate and are justly entitled to sympathy. Therefore, your committee report the bill back, with a recommendation that this House commiserate the unfortunate, and indefinitely postpone the bill or allow its withdrawal.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

S. A. BALLOU, Chairman.
WM. J. MARKLEY,
D. B. CURTIS,
S. B. GORDON.

Mr. Walker reported as follows:

MR. SPEAKER:—Your committee, to whom were referred Assembly bills Nos. 77, 135, and 154, have had the same under consideration, and beg leave to present a substitute, embracing all the provisions of said acts.

Your committee find that by the provisions of an act approved April 25, 1857, appropriating the sum of four hundred and ten thousand dollars for the payment of expenses incurred in the suppression of Indian hostilities in this state, prior to the year 1857, that the whole amount is already appropriated to certain counties therein named; and that the provision required in Assembly bill No. 77, could not be complied with without an additional appropriation.

And your committee find, from information derived from the board, that no further appropriation is required to satisfy losses sustained prior to 1857, that being ample to cover all claims prior to said year. And to enable Shasta to have the benefit of said act, as contemplated in Assembly bill No. 77, the losses being prior to 1857, namely, in 1852, your committee have amended the act reducing the amount appropriated to the county of Siskiyou, sufficient to cover the just demand of Shasta, thereby avoiding the increase of amount originally set apart by act of April 25, 1857, and doing justice to those persons in Shasta county heretofore shut out of the benefits of said act.

Your committee also recommend, and have so amended sections four and five of said act, as to authorize the Treasurer to issue bonds for the whole amount allowed by the board, and to specify upon their face that amount, thereby doing away with the issuing certificates for fractional sums, which, in the opinion of your committee, is an evil which threw into the hands of speculators those awards for fractional amounts, for which bonds could not be issued under the provisions of the act of April 25, 1857.

For the above reasons, your committee have drawn up the accompanying substitute, and recommend its passage.

A. B. WALKER, Chairman.

Mr. Moses, chairman of the Committee on Engrossment, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER:—The Committee on Engrossment have examined, and found correctly engrossed, Assembly bill No. 169, for an act to provide for funding the debt of the city of Placerville, and for the payment thereof.

H. A. MOSES, Chairman.

Mr. Lee, chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER:—The Committee on Ways and Means, to whom was referred Assembly bill No. 86, entitled an act to create the office of township assessor, and to abolish the office of county assessor, beg leave to report, that on account of the impracticability of its provisions, they recommend its indefinite postponement.

The same committee having had under consideration Assembly bill No. 172, entitled an act providing for the examination and settlement of the accounts of S. A. McMeans, late State Treasurer, recommend the passage of the same with the following amendments :

For the words "one thousand," in line three of section four of said bill, insert "five hundred," and for "Attorney General," in lines six and seven of said section, insert "the board of examiners of the state of California."

All of which is respectfully submitted.

H. LEE, Chairman.

Mr. Stakes, chairman of the select committee, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER:—The Select Committee, to whom was referred Assembly bill No. 103, an act for the support and government of the state prison, etc., with accompanying documents and resolutions, have had the same under consideration, and ask leave to report—that they have in part performed the duties assigned them, and herewith report a bill for the temporary government of the state prison, and recommend its passage.

A. G. STAKES, Chairman.

of the Whole, Mr. Shepard in the chair, under the operation of an order of the House that no member should speak more than once, nor for a longer time than five minutes, amended, considered engrossed, read third time, and passed, Messrs. Safford, Aud, and Sherwin, demanding the ayes and noes, as follows :

AYES—Messrs. Anderson, Aud, Ballou, Banks, Buel, Burbank, Caldwell, Cherry, Clark, Crane, Curtis, Davis, De Long, Edwards, Ely, Ferguson, Galbraith, Gordon, Gray, Graham, Groom, Haldeman, Hamlin, Hancock, Harris, Havens, Heath, Hill of Nevada, Hitchens, Hobart, Holladay, Holman, Howell, Hirst, Kabler, King, Lee, Lewis, Loofbourrow, Markley, McCoy, Minis, Mitchell, Moore, Moses, Neblett, O'Brien, Osgood, Palmer, Parker, Pico, Safford, Shepard, Sheridan, Sherwin, Simons, Smith of Nevada, Smith of San Bernardino, Spilman, Stakes, Stocker, Stout, Stratton, Street, Tatman, Thomas, Tipton, Tuttle, Walker, Ward, Warfield, Warmcastle, Willson, Young, and Mr. Speaker—75.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
Sacramento, February 26, 1858.

To the Assembly of California:

I respectfully invoke the attention of the Legislature to a letter, a copy of which is herewith transmitted, received on yesterday from the Attorney General. I have no doubt that the public interest demands such legislation as he suggests, and I therefore recommend speedy action.

JOHN B. WELLER.

Sacramento, Cal., February 25, 1858.

SIR:—I have been informed, and have reason to believe, that an estate in San Francisco, worth about ten thousand dollars, has escheated to the state, but as no appropriation has been made for that purpose, I am unable to institute and maintain proceedings to enforce the rights of the State in the premises. Let me therefore suggest that a fund, subject to the order of the Governor, should be set apart for the prosecution of actions to recover escheated estates.

Permit me to call your attention to another subject: judgments have been rendered in favor of the state upon the defalcation of Henry Bates, late State Treasurer, and it is to be hoped that others may yet be obtained; but it seems almost folly to execute property unless a sale could be forced, and the property sold made to bring something near its value. These ends cannot be accomplished, unless the state is placed upon an equal footing with the plaintiffs and parties interested, by authorizing some one to bid in her behalf.

Again, it is quite probable that some of these defendants, in the suits mentioned, have now or may hereafter have property in another state, and in such cases, it occurs to me that the Governor should have the power to institute an action in such states, for which purpose, a fund should be set apart.

Respectfully, etc.,

THOS. H. WILLIAMS, Attorney General.

His Excellency, JOHN B. WELLER, Governor California.

On motion of Mr. De Long, at three o'clock, p. m., the House adjourned.

Resolved, That the Committee on Ways and Means be instructed by this House to so amend the present revenue act, by bill or otherwise, in such a manner as will enable a tax payer, when assessed upon his taxable property for revenue purposes, to deduct, or have deducted from the same by the assessor, all legal indebtedness that may be due from him at the time the assessment is levied, by lien, mortgage, or in any other manner, upon which revenue may be collected in this state, from his creditors, making it the duty of the party so assessed to furnish proof to the assessor of the amount of his indebtedness, to whom due, and in what form it exists, in order to enable that officer to know whom to assess for the same.

REPORTS.

Reports were made as follows—By Mr. Moses :

H. A. MOSES, Chairman.

By Mr. Thomas :

MR. SPEAKER :—The special committee, to whom was referred the petition of citizens of Stanislaus county, praying for a donation from the state for the purpose of improving the navigation of the San Joaquin River, submit the following report :

The committee, after mature deliberation, are unanimous in the opinion that the sum necessary to render the San Joaquin River, above the city of Stockton, navigable for steamboats of light draught, could scarcely be better applied.

The state is the owner of immense bodies of land, lying on and immediately contiguous to that part of the San Joaquin River, which is sought to be improved by the donation asked for.

It would require no great sum to render the river navigable for steamers of light draught, such as now ply on the waters of the upper Sacramento and Feather rivers. One certain result of this would be, that those lands would be eagerly sought after, and the state would be enabled to sell every acre of them readily, and at fair prices, which would be directly a great benefit to the state. It is, moreover, a fact, within the positive knowledge of the committee, that the most of these lands are susceptible of ready reclamation, and should the San Joaquin River be made navigable for steamers, they will all soon be converted into flourishing farms, and thereby become, indirectly, a source of great gain to the state.

This measure would further be a great public utility, by assisting to develop the natural resources of the state ; so many of which are now slumbering for want of a little aid from the fostering hand of the state.

Among these natural resources, the committee would mention the discoveries of coal of good quality, which have been made, and are yet being made, in the coast range of mountains ; and should the state lend a helping hand to carry out the wishes of the petitioners, a ready channel will be open to a good market.

Whilst the committee are aware of and readily admit the necessity of a proper degree of caution in making donations from the public treasury, they hope that this body will bear in mind, that opulent citizens make a rich government, and that money judiciously expended for the purpose of benefiting a large class of citizens, is that much capital safely and profitably invested.

The committee unanimously recommend to the favorable consideration of the House of Assembly the prayer of the petitioners.

GEO. W. THOMAS, Chairman.

The following message, with accompanying communication, was received from the Governor, and referred to the special committee, consisting of the Judiciary Committee and Committee on State Prison :

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
Sacramento, February 27, 1858. }

To the Assembly of California :

I send herewith a communication, received this day from John F. McCauley, claiming to be the sub-lessee of the state prison. As the interests of the state demand that all controversies in regard to this subject should be settled as speedily as possible, I invoke the early action of the Legislature. If Mr. McCauley has any equitable claim against the treasury, growing out of the legislation of yesterday, it ought to be paid at once.

As the facts in regard to the prison have all been reported by a joint committee to the Legislature, I can only commend the subject to your earnest consideration.

JNO. B. WELLER.

To His Excellency, John B. Weller, Governor of the State of California :

The undersigned, sub-lessee of the state prison, begs leave respectfully to submit to your Excellency, and through you, to the Legislature, the following proposition :

The undersigned is sincerely desirous, on account of public and private considerations, to terminate all differences and controversies between himself and the state.

He is aware of the injurious consequences which must result from a protracted and embarrassing litigation in the courts, in reference to the management and control of the penitentiary, and to the contract which the Legislature has taken action upon.

A just deference to the legislative will, would make it extremely unpleasant to him to continue the contract and retain possession of the public property, if he could legally do so.

He desires to give full effect to the legislative will, if he can without a ruinous sacrifice of his private interests. He is largely loser by his connection with the institution. He has expended his time and means in endeavoring to support the establishment; and if the act just passed takes effect without any additional appropriation in his favor, he will be utterly ruined in his fortune, the little provision he had made for his family by years of laborious industry, would be destroyed.

The undersigned cannot believe that the Legislature would be disposed to do an act of such hardship and unmerited wrong. He asks only to be reinstated to the position he occupied before his connection with the establishment, and to be permitted to receive the instalments accruing before the act passed to repeal the contract.

He is largely indebted, and has had to pay heavy interest on money he has borrowed to carry on the prison. He purposes to effect a complete settlement with the state of all matters connected with the state prison. To release for himself, and to procure from the first lessee, a full relinquishment and discharge of all claims and demands of every sort, arising from the connection of either with the institution or the contract; this discharge to embrace as well the claims released by General Estell to the state or its officers, for forty-eight thousand dollars; and the bricks mentioned in the contract, as everything else in any manner pertaining to the state prison, or his conduct by the undersigned or his predecessor; the prison to be surrendered with the property belonging to the state, reasonable time and assistance being afforded to the undersigned for the removal of his property from the prison.

The state will thus be enabled to commence the new system, free from embarrassments arising from the past, or to arise in the future; a protracted and ruinous litigation prevented, and some measure of justice done to the undersigned, who has done nothing to deserve the ruin which threatens him.

The undersigned takes this occasion to say to your Excellency, that he shall oppose no resistance to the act of the Legislature, nor seek to enjoin any act of your Excellency in pursuance of its terms, contenting himself with a protest to save his rights, in case the Legislature shall not see fit to agree to what he considers so reasonable and just a proposal.

The undersigned begs of your Excellency to transmit this proposition to the Legislature, asking, if consistent with your Excellency's sense of propriety, the early action of that body upon it.

The undersigned has the honor to be,

With great respect,

Your Excellency's ob't serv't,

JOHN F. McCAULEY.

Mr. Ballou made the following minority report of the special committee appointed on the Assembly concurrent resolution, relative to the admission of Kansas :

MR. SPEAKER:—The undersigned, a minority of your committee to whom was referred Assembly joint resolution relating to Kansas, and also a substitute therefor, beg leave to dissent from the opinion expressed by a majority of the committee, for the following reasons :

The preamble adopted and recommended by the majority of your committee reads as follows :

"Whereas, The people of the territory of Kansas did, on the seventh day of November, 1857, by a convention assembled for that purpose, form for themselves a constitution and state government, which constitution and state government, so formed, is republican."

The undersigned respectfully urge that the statement contained in the above, that the constitution and state government so formed is republican, is entirely conjectural and gratuitous, not one of the whole committee being prepared to say that they had seen and read more than a brief synopsis of that instrument (the Lecompton constitution). In the absence, therefore, of positive evidence, the undersigned are of opinion that the majority are not warranted in making such a statement. The undersigned are clearly of the opinion, from all the information that they have been able to glean, taking the statements of Governor R. J. Walker and Secretary Stanton—parties whom all must concede, from their position and relation to the people of Kansas, to be the most competent judges of the action of the citizens of Kansas in the premises, and the character of the instrument framed at Lecompton—state that a large majority of the people of that territory are opposed to the said organic act in toto; but, independent of other considerations, the undersigned plant themselves firmly upon the heaven-born, impregnable Democratic doctrine of popular sovereignty, declaring that, inasmuch as the people of any state are those most affected by their organic law, therefore no constitution should become the supreme law of a state until fairly submitted to and endorsed by a majority of all those voting thereon. Much as the undersigned regret differing from our present venerated Chief Magistrate, in whom we recognize an eminent statesman and an ardent patriot, they yet feel that they have duties to perform towards themselves and to their own consciences, one of which is to think and act for themselves upon all occasions; and when they differ honestly in opinion with any party, no matter how exalted, to express their convictions openly and boldly, believing that not only the people at large, but the President himself, will commend a manly independence upon all questions where there does exist an honest difference of opinion. The undersigned are of the opinion that the attempt, in this instance, to force a constitution upon the citizens of Kansas, to which a large majority of them are most unqualifiedly opposed, as is clearly shown by the vote cast on the fourth of January, is not only a gross violation of the principles of the original Kansas-Nebraska act, passed in May, 1854, which says that “the people of Kansas shall be perfectly free to form and regulate their domestic institutions in their own way,” but violative of the great and paramount issue of popular sovereignty upon which the present administration went into power. We assert that it was, and always has been the understanding, that the Democratic party planted themselves upon this ground during the campaign of 1856; that the party, in conventions assembled, and through the President, in his instructions to Governor Walker, and also through the public journals, have always maintained this cardinal maxim of Democracy, that the “people are capable of self-government;” and that, whatever constitution might be framed for the government of Kansas, should be submitted, as a whole, for ratification; in pursuance whereof we quote from the Cincinnati platform, one plank of which reads as follows:

“That we recognize the right of the people of all the territories, including Kansas and Nebraska, acting through the legally and fairly expressed will of the majority of actual residents, whenever the number of their inhabitants justifies it, to form a constitution, with or without domestic slavery, and be admitted into the Union upon terms of perfect equality with the other states.”

Not one year subsequent to the adoption of the above, the President, in his inaugural, says :

“It is the imperative and indispensable duty of the United States to secure to every resident inhabitant the free and independent expression of his opinion by his vote. This sacred right of each individual must be preserved. This being accomplished, nothing can be fairer than to leave the people of a territory free from all foreign interference to decide their own destiny for themselves, subject only to the constitution of the United States. The whole territorial question being thus settled upon the principle of popular sovereignty—a principle ancient as free government itself—every thing of a practical nature has been decided, and no other question remains for adjustment.”

Clearly showing that the Chief Magistrate, at that period, stood upon the doctrines enunciated in the Cincinnati convention. Following this chain of evidence further down, as corroborative of our position, we find that Governor Walker, in his reply to the President, upon assuming the office of governor of the territory of Kansas, says :

“I understand that you and all your Cabinet cordially concur in the opinion expressed by me, that the actual bona fide residents of the territory of Kansas, by a fair and regular vote, unaffected by fraud or violence, must be permitted, in adopting their state constitution, to decide for themselves what shall be their social institutions.”

He states further :

“I accepted, on the express condition that I should advocate the submission of the constitution to a vote of the people for ratification or rejection.”

Governor Walker having been appointed under this understanding, made use of the following language to the people of Kansas, when he entered upon the duties of his office as governor of that territory, on the 27th of May, 1857. Let it be kept in view, that this inaugural had been prepared in Washington City, submitted to the President and Cabinet, and by them approved. Says Walker, in the message alluded to :

“Indeed, I cannot doubt that the convention, after having framed a state constitution, will submit it for ratification or rejection by a majority of the then actual bona fide resident settlers of Kansas. With these views well known to the President and Cabinet, and approved by them, I accepted the appointment of governor of Kansas. My instructions from the President, through the Secretary of State, under date of the third of March last, sustain the ‘regular legislature of the territory,’ in ‘assembling a convention to form a constitution, and they express the opinion of the President, that ‘when such a constitution shall be submitted to the people of the territory, they must be protected in the exercise of their right of voting for or against that instrument ; and the fair expression of the popular will must not be interrupted by fraud or violence.’ I repeat, then, as my clear conviction, that unless the convention submit the constitution to the vote of all the actual resident settlers of Kansas, and the election be fairly and justly conducted, the constitution will and ought to be rejected by Congress.”

And further, in the same document :

“It is not merely, shall slavery exist in or disappear from Kansas, but shall the great principles of self government and state sovereignty be maintained or subverted?”

For slavery, as a practical issue, had passed away long before the assembling of the Lecompton convention, as was evidenced in the election of Mr. Parrott, the Free State delegate to Congress. The submission of the slavery clause alone was a base means of compelling the people of Kansas to submit to other features of the organic law, more obnoxious to many of them than slavery itself.

It was well known, as before stated, that these views were entertained by Governor Walker, and the President endorsed them. Walker says :

“In that inaugural, I proceed further to say, that the people ‘may, by subsequent vote, defeat the ratification of the constitution.’ I designate this as a ‘great constitutional right,’ and add, ‘that the convention is the servant and not the master of the people.’ In my official dispatch to you of the second June last, a copy of that inaugural address was transmitted to you for the further information of the President and his Cabinet. No exception was ever taken to any portion of that address. On the contrary, it is distinctly admitted by the President in his message, with commendable frankness, that my instructions in favor of the submission of the constitution to the vote of the people, were ‘general and unqualified.’ By that inaugural, and subsequent addresses, I was pledged to the people of Kansas, to oppose, by all ‘lawful means,’ the adoption of any constitution which was not fairly and fully submitted to their vote for ratification or rejection.”

In the month of August, 1857, the President, in his celebrated reply to the forty-three clergymen, says :

“The convention will soon assemble to perform the solemn duty of framing a constitution for themselves and their posterity; and, in the state of incipient rebellion which still exists in Kansas, it is my imperative duty to employ the troops of the United States, should this become necessary, in defending the convention against violence whilst framing the constitution, and in protecting the ‘bona fide inhabitants,’ qualified to vote under the provisions of this instrument, in the free exercise of the right of suffrage when it shall be submitted to them for their approbation or rejection.”

The President also—as if the above was not sufficiently conclusive—in his recent message, says :

“I trust, however, the example set by the last Congress, requiring that the constitution of ‘Minnesota should be subject to the approval and ratification of the people of the proposed state,’ may be followed on future occasions. I took it for granted that the convention of Kansas would act in accordance with this example, founded, as it is, on correct principles; and hence my instructions to Governor Walker, in favor of submitting the constitution to the people, were expressed in general and unqualified terms.”

And we state boldly that it was not only taken for granted, but unqualifiedly maintained by the Democracy at large, that the people of Kansas should have an opportunity to vote upon their constitution as a whole. And one of the most potent and obvious reasons why a constitution should always be submitted for endorsement by the people of any territory, is to be found in the following language, used by the President in his last annual message, to wit :

“The election of delegates to a convention must necessarily take place in separate districts. From this cause it may readily happen, as has often been the case, that a majority of the people of a state or territory are on one side of a question, whilst a majority of the representatives from the several districts into which it is divided, may be upon the other side. This arises from the fact, that in some districts delegates may be elected by small majorities, whilst in others, those of different sentiments may receive majorities sufficiently great not only to overcome the votes given for the former, but to leave a large majority of the whole people in direct opposition to a majority of the delegates. Besides, our history proves that influences may be brought to bear on the representative, sufficiently powerful to induce him to disregard the will of his constituents. The truth is, that no other authentic and satisfactory mode exists of ascertaining the will of a majority of the people of any state or territory, on an important and exciting question like that of slavery in Kansas, except by leaving it to a direct vote. How wise, then, was it for Congress to pass over all subordinate and intermediate agencies, and proceed directly to the source of all legitimate power under our institutions !”

Can any sane mind require or ask for a more cogent reason for submitting the instrument formed at Lecompton, (which the majority of the committee have pronounced republican, upon hearsay,) to the people of Kansas? But it is further maintained by the only authority who could be best informed upon the matter (Governor Walker), that owing to express design on the part of those who were determined to steal a march upon the people, one-half of the counties in the territory of Kansas were disfranchised. Governor Walker, who was there during the whole time, says :

“On reference to the territorial law under which the convention was assembled, thirty-four regularly organized counties were named as election districts for delegates to the convention. In each and all of these counties, it was required by law that a census be taken, and the voters registered, and when this was completed the delegates to the convention should be apportioned accordingly. In nineteen of these counties there was no census, and therefore there could be no such apportionment there of delegates based upon such census. And in fifteen of these counties, there was no registry of voters. These fifteen counties, including many of the oldest organized counties in the territory, were entirely disfranchised, and did not give, (by no fault of their own,) could not give a solitary vote for delegates to the convention. This result was superinduced by the fact that the territorial legislature appointed all the sheriffs and probate judges in all these counties, to whom was assigned the duty, by law, of making this census and registry. These officers were political, dissenting from the views and opinions of the people of these counties, as proved by the election in October last. These officers, from want of funds, as they allege, neglected, or refused to take any census, or make any registry in these counties, and therefore they were entirely disfranchised, and could not, and did not, give a single vote at the election for delegates to the constitutional convention. And here I wish to call attention to the distinction which will appear in my inaugural address, in reference to those counties where the voters were fairly registered, and did not vote. In such counties, where full and free opportunity was given to register and vote, and they did not choose to exercise that privilege, the question is very different from those counties where there was no census or registry, and no vote was given, or could be given, however anxious the people might be to participate in the election of delegates to the convention. Nor could it be said these counties acquiesced; for wherever they endeavored, by a subsequent census, or registry of their own, to supply this defect, occasioned by previous neglect of the territorial officers, the delegates thus chosen were rejected by the convention. I repeat, that in nineteen counties out of thirty-four, there was no census. In fifteen counties out of thirty-four, there was no registry, and not a solitary vote was given, or could be given, for delegates to the convention in any one of these counties. Surely, then, it cannot be said that such a convention, chosen by scarcely more than one-tenth of the present voters of Kansas, represented the people of that territory, and could rightfully impose a constitution upon them without their consent. These nineteen counties, in which there was no census, constituted a majority of the counties of the territory; and these fifteen counties, in which there was no registry, gave a much larger vote at the October election, even with the six months' qualification, than the whole vote given to the delegates who signed the Lecompton constitution on the seventh of November last. If, then, sovereignty can be delegated, and conventions, as such, are sovereign, which I deny, surely it must be only in such cases as when such conventions are chosen by the people, which we have seen was not the case as regards the late Lecompton convention. It was for this, among other reasons, that, in my inaugural and other addresses, I insisted that the constitution should be submitted to the people by the convention, as the only means of curing this vital defect in its organization. It was, therefore, among other reasons, that when, as you know, the organization of the so-called Topeka state government, and, as a consequence, an inevitable civil war and conflict must have ensued, these results were prevented by my assuring, not the abolitionists, as has been erroneously stated—for my address was not to them, but to the people of Kansas—that, in my judgment, the constitution would be submitted fairly and freely for ratification or rejection by their vote; and that, if this was not done, I would unite with them, (the people,) as I now do, in lawful opposition to such procedure."

Will any one have the temerity to deny this? We deduce them briefly:

First—That the President understood, as every other Democrat did, at the time of his nomination, that the entire constitution was to be submitted to the people.

Second—That he so understood it, and so expressed it in his inaugural on the fourth of March, 1857.

Third—That he so understood it, and so expressed it on the fifteenth of August, 1857, in his letter to the Connecticut clergymen.

Fourth—That he admits this construction in his message of the seventh of December, 1857.

Fifth—That during all this time, the Democracy understood it just as we now do; and that they now so understand it.

Sixth—That the Lecompton constitution was not an emanation from the people, for nine-tenths of the people were disfranchised and not allowed to vote.

Seventh—That, inasmuch as the Lecompton constitution was not the will of a majority, it is consequently not "republican;" and hence it is the imperative duty of Congress to reject it.

Eighth—That the campaign of 1856 was fought on the principle of popular sovereignty.

The question of slavery has been lost sight of in this question, and the issue involves rights far more holy and important than any question of property. It is the right of free suffrage. The right of the people to make their own laws is at stake; and on those questions it would be an insult to the intelligence of American freemen to doubt the character of the verdict. When the rights of a bogus minority are to be permitted to trample in the dust the will of a majority, then, indeed, is it time to account our government a solemn and dangerous failure.

The reason urged, on the part of some, that the President has made the acceptance of Kansas under the Lecompton constitution an Administration measure, and, for that reason alone, makes it incumbent upon all Democrats to support him, is, in the opinion of the undersigned, intended for those who possess no personal political identity, and who are ready at all times to pin their faith upon the sleeve of another; for if we are to be absorbed into the central power in this manner, we might as well dispense with reason and individuality at once. The undersigned, conceiving that this is a question upon which men may honestly differ, do not feel it their right to question the Democracy of those who differ from them in opinion; and neither, on the other hand, do they conceive that those differing from the undersigned are authorized to question the purity of our intentions. The minority take this occasion to reprehend, in most unmeasured terms, the uncalled for, silly, and foolish attempt made by some, to drive men from the support of a principle dearer to them than life itself, by crying out, that others who have been their hereditary political opponents have come up and endorsed the platform of popular sovereignty, upon which we stand. We believe it to be the duty of all to accept good, come from whatever quarter it may. Therefore, the man who would sacrifice a principle, or be driven from the support of a measure, because some party or person obnoxious to him endorses the same, is, in the opinion of the undersigned, unworthy the confidence of a confiding constituency. Carry this principle a step further, and we shall all be obliged to abandon the President upon his filibustering policy; for it is patent that the Republican party, to a man, both in Congress and out, endorse him in his policy upon that question, while a majority of Democratic members, particularly from the southern states, do not. This fact alone should caution men against attempting to place men in antagonism to the Administration because they happen to differ with him in one or two particulars. The undersigned are of the opinion that the doctrine of popular sovereignty will and must ultimately prevail against all combinations, factions and isms. Therefore they can scarcely conceive of an exigency under which they would feel justified in deserting this principle; they certainly see no cause to in the present instance. They therefore most cordially and earnestly recommend the adoption of the substitute, believing the doctrine therein contained, correct, and endorsed by the lion-hearted Democracy and honest yeomanry of California.

The undersigned conclude with expressing a sincere conviction that, so long as our government adheres to the immutable principle of popular sovereignty, faithfully carried out, the timid, wavering, and time-serving, need have no fear of a dismemberment of this, the only free government on earth.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
Sacramento, March 3, 1858.

To the Assembly of California :

I have this day approved the following bills, viz. : an act to extend the time for the collection of taxes in the county of San Bernardino ;

Also, an act supplementary to and explanatory of an act to appropriate money for advertising, approved February 27, 1858 ;

Also, an act to authorize the executors and administrators of the estate of John Ellüg, deceased, to sell real estate of said deceased at public or private sale.

JOHN B. WELLER.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
Sacramento, March 4, 1858.

To the Assembly of California :

I beg leave to transmit to your honorable body, a communication received to-day from the Superintendent of Public Instruction. I concur in the view which he takes of the question, as to the right of California to the five per cent. on the sale of public lands within our limits. This has been given to other states, and I know of no reason why California should not be placed on an equal footing with her older sisters. As sales have been advertised for May, I hope a vigorous effort will be made at once, in order to procure prompt action upon the part of our federal representatives in Washington.

JOHN B. WELLER.

Which last, together with the accompanying communication from the Superintendent of Public Instruction, was referred to the Committee on Federal Relations, and ordered printed :

To His Excellency, Governor John B. Weller :

From a careful investigation of previous legislation by Congress, I am satisfied California is, in justice, entitled to five per cent. of the proceeds of the public lands within her limits.

The subject seems to have been entirely overlooked.

Permit me to call the attention of your Excellency, and through you, of the Legislature, to the grounds upon which our claim is based.

I am satisfied a memorial from that body will induce Congress to grant us this fund, as it has done to every other state admitted into the Union.

Ohio.—The policy was inaugurated in 1802, in the act authorizing the people of Ohio territory to form a constitution and state government.

That act granted to Ohio, "one-twentieth part (five per cent.) of the net proceeds of the lands lying within the said state, sold by Congress, from and after the thirtieth day of June next [1802], after deducting all expenses incident to the same;" and stipulated that this fund should be applied to the laying out and making public roads leading to and through said state.

The act of March 3, 1803, admitting Ohio into the Union, further declares, "that the Secretary of the Treasury shall, from time to time, and whenever the quarterly accounts of the receivers of public moneys of the several land offices shall be settled, pay three per cent. of the net proceeds of the lands of the United States, lying within the state of Ohio, to such person or persons as may be authorized by the Legislature of said state to receive the same; which sum, thus paid, shall be applied to the laying out, opening, and making roads within the said state, and to no other purpose whatever." The remaining two per cent. was applied by the United States to the construction of roads leading to the state.

This grant was not made without a valuable consideration.

It was expressly on condition that the state should exempt every tract of land, sold by Congress within her limits, from every tax, whether for state, county, township, or any other purpose whatever, for the term of five years, from and after the date of sale. See U. S. Stat. at Large, ii, 175, 226.

The policy thus inaugurated was uniformly adhered to on the admission of each successive new state.

Louisiana.—A similar grant was made to Louisiana by act of February 20, 1811, except, that the whole five per cent. was directed to be "applied to laying out and constructing public roads and levees in the said state, as the Legislature thereof may direct." U. S. Stat. at Large, ii, 648.

Indiana.—The act of April 19, 1816, admitting Indiana into the Union, section six, submits certain propositions, of which the third declares, "that five per cent. of the net proceeds of the lands lying within the said territory shall be reserved for making public roads and canals, of which three-fifths shall be applied to those objects within the said state, under the direction of the Legislature thereof, and two-fifths to the making of a road or roads leading to the said state, under the direction of Congress." See U. S. Stat., iii, 290.

The consideration here, was the same as in the case of Ohio; that the lands sold by the United States should be exempt from all taxation by the state for five years after sale.

Mississippi.—The act of March 3, 1817, makes the same donation to Mississippi, in the same terms.

In addition to the usual condition, that United States lands shall not be taxed, it is stipulated that non-resident land-owners shall not be taxed higher than residents, and that the river Mississippi shall be a common highway, and no tax, duty, impost, or toll, shall be imposed upon the navigation thereof, by the state. U. S. Stat., iii, 349.

Illinois.—The Act of April 18, 1818, admitting Illinois, makes a similar grant, with this variation, that two-fifths of the five per cent. fund are to be disbursed in making roads leading to the state; the residue to be appropriated by the Legislature for the encouragement of learning, of which one-sixth part shall be exclusively bestowed on a college or university. The conditions are the same as in the case of Indiana.

Alabama.—The act of March 2, 1819, providing for the admission of Alabama, makes the same grant: three-fifths for building roads within the state, and two-fifths for roads leading to the state. Conditions same as before. Stat. at Large, iii, 491.

Missouri.—Act of March 6, 1820, same grant to Missouri, in same terms, and on same conditions. U. S. Stat., iii, 547.

Indian Lands in Mississippi and Alabama.—The act of July 4, 1836, reserves five per cent. of the proceeds of Chickasaw lands to Mississippi and Alabama. U. S. Stat., v, 116.

Florida.—The act of March 3, 1845, supplemental to the act for the admission of Florida and Iowa into the Union, declares: "That in consideration of the concessions made by the state of Florida in respect to the public lands, there be granted, etc., five per centum of the net proceeds of the sale of lands within said state, which shall be hereafter sold by Congress, after deducting all expenses incident to the same, and which said net proceeds shall be applied by said state for the purpose of education." U. S. Stat., v, 788.

Iowa.—Act of March 3, 1845, makes same grant to Iowa. The whole five per cent., however, is to be applied to making roads and canals within the state.

The usual conditions are imposed, with the addition, that the state is not to interfere with the primary disposal of the soil within the same by the United States. U. S. Stat., v, 790.

Arkansas.—Act of June 23, 1836, makes same grant for same purposes, and on same conditions. U. S. Stat., v, 58.

Michigan.—Act of June 23, 1836. Same throughout. U. S. Stat., v, 60.

Wisconsin.—Same throughout. U. S. Stat., ix, 179.

Minnesota.—Act of February 26, 1857. Same throughout.

It will thus be seen that from the admission of Ohio, in 1802, to that of Minnesota, in 1857, Congress has uniformly granted this five per cent. fund to the new states, with the single exception of California.

The act admitting our state into the Union, approved September 9, 1850, carefully omitted this grant, while it as carefully imposed all the conditions which had, in the case of other states, formed the consideration for the grant.

It stipulated that our people, through their Legislature or otherwise, shall never interfere with the primary disposal of the public lands within our limits; that they shall never lay any tax or assessment, of any description whatsoever, upon the public domain of the United States; shall not tax non-resident proprietors higher than residents; and that all the navigable waters within the state shall be common highways and forever free, as well to the inhabitants of the state as to the citizens of the United States, without any tax, impost, or duty therefor.

This is a consideration amply sufficient to entitle us to demand of the United States five per cent. of the proceeds of the public lands within our limits.

We have refrained for eight years from taxing these lands, and can receive no equivalent except this five per cent. fund. The taxes, if imposed as upon private lands, would have realized more to the state than this fund is likely to amount to.

It is hardly to be supposed that Congress deliberately intended to make an invidious distinction in our case—to do us the rank injustice of excepting us from the benefits of a rule of universal application before and since our admission. The failure to make us the usual grant must have been an oversight, which I have not a doubt will be promptly corrected as soon as the attention of Congress is called to the subject by a memorial from our Legislature. This fund will prove of no little importance to our state.

The United States has advertised for sale, in May next, nearly two millions five hundred thousand acres of public lands.

Should all these be sold at the minimum price of one dollar and twenty-five cents per acre, they will realize three millions one hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars; five per cent. upon which will amount to one hundred and fifty-six thousand two hundred and fifty dollars.

Allowing the largest margin for expenses, the proceeds of the sale ought to reach two millions of dollars; five per cent. of which would be one hundred thousand dollars; amply sufficient to justify the immediate establishment of our university or military institute.

This is a subject coming peculiarly within the province of the Department of Instruction, inasmuch as our state constitution has expressly provided, article ix, section 2, that "such per cent. as may be granted by Congress on the sale of lands in this state, shall be inviolably appropriated to the support of common schools throughout the state."

Here the framers of our constitution evidently took it for granted that Congress would make the usual donation of the five per cent. fund to us on our admission into the Union. They wisely devoted it, in advance, to the cause of education.

Congress cannot object to this, inasmuch as that body has set the precedent, in two instances at least, in the grant to Illinois, and in that to Florida, before quoted.

May I suggest to your Excellency, the propriety of urging our Legislature to memorialize Congress at once upon this subject.

I am, very respectfully,

ANDREW J. MOULDER,
Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The following message was also received from the Governor, and referred to the special committee, consisting of State Prison and Judiciary Committees, and ordered printed :

Mr. Aud gave notice that he would, on to-morrow, move to have an additional number of copies printed.

Mr. Simons, to have a number printed in the Spanish language.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
Sacramento, March 4, 1858.

To the Assembly of California :

In compliance with the act of the Legislature, passed on the twenty-seventh ult., I proceeded, on Monday last, to take possession of the state prison. To effect this, contrary to expectation, I was compelled to use a little force. Some changes were at once made, which, in my judgment, the public interest demanded.

C. W. Robinson, who had been connected with the institution for several years, and who had proved himself a faithful officer, was assigned the position of superintendent; Major McKay, who has had much experience in the quartermaster and commissary departments of the United States army, was placed in charge of the commissary stores. The guard was increased by the appointment of two additional men, and rendered more effective at the prison by directing that no guard under pay of the state should leave the grounds. I also directed the superintendent to allow a small number of prisoners, within the limits fixed by law, to go on the boats and assist Mr. McCauley in delivering bricks, upon his furnishing a guard entirely satisfactory to him, the guard to be sworn in, as other officers, and paid by McCauley.

An inventory was taken of the commissary stores, and arrangements made for the support of the convicts. I found the prison in a much better condition than I anticipated. I understand that great improvements have been made in feeding and clothing the prisoners since the report of the joint committee of the Legislature. I did not think it necessary to make any changes in this respect.

Finding that the large hall, in which upwards of two hundred convicts are lodged, is so constructed that it could not be converted into cells, orders were given to throw partitions across it, so as to make six rooms. As soon as this is accomplished, some classification of the prisoners can be made, which the interest of the institution imperiously demands. I do not see, however, any way in which this prison can be properly managed, without additional buildings. There are already a great many more at San Quentin than can be accommodated, and unless a branch prison is established at some other point, additional buildings should at once be constructed. In my own opinion, a site should be selected for a new prison, and a portion of the convicts employed in putting up the necessary buildings during the present summer.

I found the convicts wholly unemployed upon my arrival, and as there is much to be done in placing the grounds in proper order, directions were given to use the whole available force, for the present, in this work ; employment, of some character, must be found for them.

Whilst on this subject, you will allow me to suggest, that the practice of the courts in sending men to prison for long periods, will defeat any attempts, no matter how well directed, at what is regarded as one of the great objects of all human punishments—reformation. There are a number of convicts, who have, for the first offence (grand larceny) been sentenced to imprisonment for ten years, and some fifteen. If a reformation cannot be effected within the first two years of confinement, there is scarcely any hope of it. He begins to look upon the officers as his enemies, selected by an unfeeling people to torture and oppress him. His heart becomes callous, and all the warm and generous impulse of his soul, are annihilated ; he broods upon the wrongs which he thinks society has inflicted upon him, until at length, after years of suffering, he is thrown back upon the world a hardened wretch. Under our system, at the expiration of his term, he is driven from the doors of the prison in rags, and without a cent to purchase a meal of victuals. He has been in the state prison, and men are unwilling to employ him.

The world too often force men back into the paths of vice, because of an unwillingness to afford them an opportunity to reform. How few of us observe the golden rule, "Do unto others as we would that others should do unto us." The unfortunate man, ragged and filthy,—without money, without friends, and with the mark of the prison on him, is almost forced to leave the paths of rectitude, and seek aid and comfort amongst his old associates in crime. Humanity demands that some provision should be made to give each one, on his discharge, a good suit of clothes, and a small sum of money. This is done in all the prisons of our sister states.

I also suggest that the better plan would be, in ordinary cases of burglary, larceny, and felonies of that character, that for the first offence, five years should be the maximum of punishment. There is scarcely a convict who enters the prison, who does not cherish the hope that he will either escape or be pardoned. It is the certainty, rather than the severity of punishment, which is found most potent in deterring men from the commission of crime, and, when sentenced for short periods, the Executive ought not, except in extraordinary cases, interpose his clemency.

In consequence of the severity of many sentences pronounced by the courts of sessions, oftentimes under popular excitement, I may be compelled in the future, as I have been in the past, to pardon several who belong to this class.

The pardoning power is vested in the Executive for wise purposes, and will be used by me whenever, in my opinion, justice demands it. I shall not stop to count the number, or take the opinion of the community on the subject. I will guard as faithfully as I can the public weal, but if I err, I prefer erring on the side of mercy.

As it is exceedingly desirable that a permanent organization of the state prison should be effected at an early day as possible, I respectfully request that prompt action may be had on this subject. In the multiplicity of my public duties, which properly appertain to the Executive office, it will be impossible for me to discharge those imposed by the act of 27th ultimo.

One other remark, and I have done. Whenever I receive satisfactory proof that a convict who has served out his time, behaved himself properly during his imprisonment, and has given evidence of reformation, I will encourage him by restoring him to citizenship.

JOHN B. WELLER.

Mr. Lee made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :—The Committee on Ways and Means, to whom was referred Assembly bill No. 170, entitled an act to provide places of deposit for the safe-keeping and return of all moneys, gold-dust, and other valuables of individuals, beg leave to report the accompanying substitute for the same.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

H. LEE, Chairman of Committee on Ways and Means.

Mr. Stakes made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :—The Judiciary Committee, to whom was referred Senate bill No. 134, an act to amend an act entitled an act concerning the eighth, ninth, and fifteenth judicial districts of this state, and the judges thereof, approved March 31, 1857 ;

Also, Assembly bill No. 248, an act to give to the proceedings of courts of probate the same effect as courts of general jurisdiction ;

Also, Assembly bill No. 255, an act to repeal sections fifty-five, fifty-six, and fifty-seven of an act entitled an act concerning courts of justice and judicial officers, passed May 19, 1853 ;

Have had the same under advisement, report the three bills back, and recommend their passage.

Assembly bill No. 249, an act amendatory of and supplementary to an act entitled an act to exempt the homestead and other property from forced sale in certain cases, passed April 21, 1851, is herewith reported back, with the recommendation that it be indefinitely postponed, for the reason that the bill provides for no improvement on the law now in force ; and, furthermore, it is the opinion of the committee that it will open the door to fraud, should the bill become a law.

The committee have also had under consideration Senate bill No. 119, an act to provide for a more thorough distribution of the laws of this state.

Independent of the errata, omissions, and defective punctuation in Wood's Digest, to which said bill refers, the committee deem it inexpedient for the state to appropriate the sum of five thousand dollars, or any other sum, for the purchase of said work, at the present time.

In view of the increasing necessity for an early revision of the statutes of the state, the committee are of the opinion that an appropriation for such purpose would be more beneficial to the people, and therefore recommend that the bill be indefinitely postponed.

A. G. STAKES, Chairman.

Mr. Ely made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :—The Committee on Federal Relations, to whom was referred the message of the Governor, transmitting a communication from the Superintendent of Public Instruction in relation to a donation by the general government of five per cent. upon the sales of public lands in this state for school purposes, respectfully report that they have had the same under consideration, and concur most cordially in the suggestions therein contained. Believing that the prosperity and perpetuity of our commonwealth may be best served by the education of the citizen, and that, in asking this grant for the state of California, we do but ask to be placed on an equality with other states, who have received for state purposes similar grants, in consideration of their exempting from taxation the public lands within their territories, which exemption is made in the act of Congress under which California was admitted into the Union, although, from an apparent oversight, said act fails to grant the same consideration, therefore, which has been secured to other states, your committee would, therefore, recommend the adoption of the accompanying concurrent resolution.

BEN. E. S. ELY, Chairman.

Concurrent resolution asking of Congress a donation of five per cent. upon the sales of public lands for school purposes, above reported, was adopted.

Mr. Moses made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :—The Committee on Engrossment have examined, and found correctly engrossed, Assembly concurrent resolutions relative to the admission of Kansas ;

Also, Assembly bill No. 212, for an act concerning artesian wells ;

Also, Assembly bill No. 110, for an act supplementary to and amendatory of an act entitled an act to regulate proceedings in criminal cases, passed May 1, 1851 ;

Also, Assembly bill No. 137, for an act to extend the terms of office of the boards of supervisors of certain counties of this state ;

Also, Assembly bill No. 173, for an act to authorize and empower the city and county of San Francisco to convey to the United States a site for a light-house ;

Also, Assembly bill No. 185, for an act to amend an act concerning the office of public administrator in the counties of Nevada, Sacramento, Monterey, and Amador, approved April 5, 1856 ;

Sacramento, March 5, 1858. }

To the Assembly of California :

In approving an act entitled an act to authorize J. R. Munson to remove the remains of deceased persons, I take occasion to recommend to the consideration of your honorable body the propriety of amending the law of February 16, 1854, in relation to grave-yards, so as to vest the power in the board of supervisors, or some other tribunal, in the respective counties, to authorize the removal of deceased persons whenever the public interest requires it. This will supersede the necessity of special legislation on this subject.

Whenever a general law can be provided, the time of the Legislature should not be occupied upon bills of this character.

The following communication was received from the Comptroller, which was read and referred to the Committee on Swamp and Overflowed Lands :

COMPTROLLER'S OFFICE, }
March 6th, 1858. }

To the Hon. the Speaker of the Assembly :

SIR :—The following concurrent resolution has been duly received at this office :

Resolved, By the Assembly, the Senate concurring, that the Comptroller of State and Treasurer of State be, and they are hereby, requested to furnish to both branches of the Legislature, a statement of the number of acres of tule and overflowed lands which have been surveyed in the different counties of the state, and the amount of money received, whether as principal or interest, for the same.

In answer to the above, I have the honor to state, that the books in this office do not show whether the moneys that have been received for swamp and overflowed lands, were paid as principal or interest. The county auditors' reports to this office give the moneys received from that source in the aggregate.

It is made the duty of the county treasurer to transmit to the State Treasurer a certificate showing the name of the purchaser or purchasers, the amount of land purchased, and also stating whether the money paid therefor were paid as principal or interest. See Wood's Digest, page 518, art. 2723, sec. 7.

The amount of moneys received from the different counties for swamp and overflowed lands, appears in the annual reports of the Comptroller; I, nevertheless, hereunto, again furnish the information called for, to your honorable body.

I have no means of knowing the number of acres of swamp and overflowed lands that have been surveyed; the law requires that information to be furnished to the Surveyor General.

I have the honor to be, sir, your most obedient servant,

G. W. WHITMAN,
Comptroller of State.

IN ASSEMBLY.

WEDNESDAY, March 10, 1858.

House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker in the chair.

Roll called.

All were present except those absent on leave.

Journal of yesterday read and approved.

Mr. Crane had leave to change his votes on the adoption of the amendments to the constitution, on yesterday, and presented the following protest:

MR. SPEAKER:—I desire that my votes on yesterday, on the proposed amendments to the constitution, (amendments one, two, and three,) be changed, and that my vote be recorded, on amendments one, two, three, and four, in the negative. I must, however, in justice to myself, protest against being required to vote on the passage of said amendments, and also against their passage, for the following reasons:

First—Because I believe that the act to call a constitutional convention, submitted by the last Legislature to the people, was by them legally adopted.

Second—Because, while I am not opposed to these particular amendments, except in reference to some immaterial matters, I do not approve of the mode designated to amend the constitution; and, further, because I believe that submitting amendments to the people will not accomplish the desired end, and will only procrastinate any revision of the constitution.

Third—Because I believe that, if this Legislature should decide that the act submitted to the people, at the last election, was not by them adopted, that they should at this time resubmit the said act to the people for their action.

Fourth—Because I believe that the only mode to revise and correct the many radical defects in our constitution, is by a convention of delegates elected for the single purpose of a revision or framing a constitution, and although in favor, as stated before, of these amendments, I deprecate their passage, believing that it will prevent any action being taken to resubmit the constitutional convention question to the people.

GEO. W. CRANE.

Mr. Palmer presented the claim of F. D. Gilbert, for lumber, etc., furnished state prison.

Referred to the Committee on Claims.

REPORTS.

Have had the same under consideration, report both bills back, and recommend their passage.

The majority of the committee have also directed me to report Senate bill No. 60 back to the House, and recommend the passage of the same, without amendments.

MAJORITY REPORT

Of the Select Committee appointed to investigate the facts concerning the Non-Payment of the Indebtedness alleged to be due the State by the Auctioneers of San Francisco:

MR. SPEAKER:—The undersigned, members of the select committee appointed by resolution of the House on February 26th, to proceed to San Francisco, to inquire into the amount due the state from auctioneers in that city on account of auction duties and licenses under the provisions of an act to provide revenue for the support of the government of this state, passed May 15, 1854, and to ascertain the reasons why such duties and licenses have not been paid, respectfully beg leave to

REPORT:

That they proceeded to San Francisco, and immediately entered upon the discharge of their duties by summoning before them a number of the auctioneers, (whose names and testimony are fully set forth in the report of the chairman of the committee, now in possession of the House,) for the purpose of eliciting all the facts in relation to those matters. The auctioneers immediately responded to the call, but your committee found it impossible to obtain from them the necessary information, for reasons which they fully set forth in a communication addressed to your committee, and which has been appended to and made a part of the report of the chairman, marked "C," and for the further reason that the witnesses declined to give any testimony which might, at a subsequent period, be made the basis of a criminal prosecution against themselves.

By reference to an abstract of the books of the State Comptroller, we have ascertained, that for the years 1854 and 1855, there was paid by the auctioneers of San Francisco for state duties, about forty thousand dollars; being about twenty thousand dollars per year; which statement will also be found appended to the report of the chairman. And in December, 1855, as appears from testimony adduced before us, they paid to the county treasurer of San Francisco, by his deputy, T. A. Lynch, a further sum of eleven thousand dollars, in full of all demands of the state for auction dues to date, taking his receipt therefor, which settlement was made by the consent and with the knowledge of the district attorney of said city and county, E. R. Carpentier; that on April 9, 1856, the law levying the tax of one-half of one per cent. was repealed, and that it was not reenacted until April 29, 1857; that for the portion of the year 1856, previous to the repeal of that section of the revenue act, the auctioneers paid a portion of said duty, amounting to eight hundred and fifty-seven dollars, and since then have not paid either duties or license, for the reasons set forth in the answers aforesaid. Taking the present and recent depression of business into account, the undersigned are of the opinion, that upon the basis of the sums collected in 1854-55, not more than fifteen or twenty thousand dollars can be due the state on account of such auction duties, in addition to the amount due for state license since January, 1856, which may amount to fifteen thousand dollars more, (assuming the statement in regard to the state license contained in the report of the chairman to be correct,) provided the law is valid and binding.

The undersigned dissent entirely from the report accompanying the documents submitted by the chairman of the committee; as in their judgment the evidence does not substantiate the assertions contained therein, and respectfully suggest that these reports be referred to an appropriate committee for examination.

In conclusion, the undersigned would recommend that the present laws relating to auctioneers be repealed, and a new law framed, classifying the various branches of the business, and requiring a specific tax in the form of a license, instead of the duties now demanded. This the auctioneers would cheerfully pay, and a large and certain revenue would accrue to the state therefrom.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JOHN W. CHERRY,
WILLIAM HILL.

SACRAMENTO, March 5, 1858.

Answer.—Since that time, I have not been in the business.

TESTIMONY OF MR. MIDDLETON.

Answer.—I have paid none.

Question 2.—State your reasons for neglecting to take out a license according to law?

Answer.—None, none.

Question 8.—What is the average amount of your auction sales since January, 1856, per month?

Answer.—I consider it unnecessary to answer, as the law does not make real estate dutiable, which business I am engaged in.

Question 9.—What amount of sales have you made other than by auction, during that period?

Answer.—None, except real estate.

Question 10.—What amount of goods have you struck off, which were not sold during that period?

Answer.—None, that I recollect.

Question 11.—Do you collect any of the state duty from your customers?

Answer.—None.

Question 12.—Do you not collect the state duty from sales made for account of underwriters?

Answer.—None; I did not bring an abstract of my books, because the accounts I keep are so trifling that they would give the committee but little satisfaction.

TESTIMONY OF MR. CARPENTIER.

I was acting district attorney of San Francisco in the latter part of 1855; I was requested by the county treasurer to enforce the payment of duties from auctioneers; I caused inquiries to be made as to the amount due from the principal auctioneers, and proceeded to make out papers to bring suits; a committee of the auctioneers, consisting of Messrs. Smiley, Poulterer, and Gregory, called to see me on the subject, and Mr. Smiley referred me to some legal authorities which he said had been furnished by his counsel to convince me that I could not maintain the suits; I told him I was of a contrary opinion, and that I should proceed to sue; they then proposed to pay, I think, sixty per cent. of the amount due under the statute, by way of compromise; I told them I could not compromise the claim, but would state their offer to the treasurer; I informed the deputy treasurer, Mr. Lynch, and he was of the opinion that the offer should be accepted; I think Mr. Woods, the treasurer, was absent at the time; I afterwards communicated to the auctioneers that the treasurer was willing to compromise the claims, and referred them to him; there was a diversity of opinion as to the right to recover by suit, and taking into consideration the great number of persons necessary to be sued, and other circumstances, I then thought the compromise favorable to the public treasury, and I am still of that opinion; I declined settling the claims myself, or to determine the amount due, but left that to the treasurer; the money did not pass through my hands, nor was I present at the settlement of the accounts or payment of the money to the treasurer, and I do not know how much was ever paid to him; I think the treasurer's receipts were brought to me, and that I approved them; my impression is, they were brought to me by one of the auctioneers, but I am not certain.

E. R. CARPENTIER.

TESTIMONY OF MESSRS. SNEATH AND LUDLOW.

Messrs. Sneath and Ludlow appeared, bringing with them the minutes of the proceedings of the finance committee, to make inquiries into the affairs of county treasurer's office of San Francisco; which said minutes went to show that the committee have now in their possession vouchers for receipts issued from the treasurer or his deputies to the auctioneers, for state duties paid, to the amount of nearly nine thousand dollars.

R. G. Sneath sworn:—

States that he was one of said finance committee, and is certain that the committee had in their possession vouchers for such receipts to the amount of nearly nine thousand dollars. He also referred this committee to the printed report of said finance committee, which goes to show that about eleven thousand dollars had been paid on account of auctioneer duties.

The chairman of the committee propounded the above interrogatories separately, to which categorical answers were demanded, but your committee failed to elicit any facts which would go to show the actual amount due the state. The auctioneers evidently having had an understanding with each other, in order to prevent your committee receiving any information touching their indebtedness to the state.

In lieu of answering the interrogatories above related, a committee of the auctioneers presented a written document, skillfully drawn up, which is a labored apology for their non-compliance with the law, abounding in sophistry and special pleading, and is of itself a strong argument against themselves.

We append this document, marked "C," to this report.

Though your committee have failed to elicit any reliable information from the witnesses before them; enough, however, has been elicited to base a calculation on, so as to enable the committee to approximate towards a reasonable calculation of the amount due the state for auction duties and state licenses.

We find from a transcript from the Comptroller's books marked "D" that the auctioneers paid into the state treasury, on account of state duties, in the year 1855, twenty thousand four hundred and sixteen dollars, 41-100, (20,416 41.) In December of the same year, they claim to have paid to T. A. Lynch, deputy county treasurer of San Francisco county, the further sum of eleven thousand dollars, ($11,000,) as a compromise calculated at sixty per cent. of what they admitted was due by them at that time to the state, or in other words, for eighteen thousand three hundred dollars, ($18,300,) which, added to the twenty thousand four hundred and sixteen 41-100 dollars, ($20,416 41,) previously paid in 1855, makes the gross amount of revenue arising from auction duty in that year, thirty-eight thousand seven hundred and sixteen 41-100 dollars, ($38,716 41.) Add to this, the amount paid for auction license in 1855, seven thousand eight hundred and thirty-two dollars, ($7,832,) and we make the revenue arising from auction duties and state license, forty-six thousand five hundred and forty-eight 41-100 dollars, ($46,548 41,) for the year 1855. Taking this calculation for data to determine the amount of money due the state of California to this date, for the years 1856, 1857, and 1858, to date, we have the enormous sum of one hundred thousand eight hundred and fifty-four 88-100 dollars, ($100,854 88,) now due the state from the auction duty and license tax.

On examination of the evidence taken, which accompanies this report, it will be found that some of the auctioneers admitted that, in some instances they collected the state duty of one-half of one per cent. from their customers. These same auctioneers find it convenient to urge the unconstitutionality of the revenue act. This is rather a singular excuse, when it is known that in some instances they collect this tax from their customers. They further allege that competition in their trade prevented them from collecting the state duty. This reason would, if admitted to be a valid reason for the evasion of the revenue act, deprive the state of its entire revenue.

They urge that they did not pay the license tax, as the judge of the court of sessions could not, under the ruling of the Supreme Court, approve their bonds.

Your committee have no evidence which goes to prove that their bonds were refused by the proper tribunal.

If we add to the amount estimated above, the auction duty arising from goods struck off to fictitious buyers, and on goods sold at private sale, the amount now due the state from this source of its revenue would not fall short of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, ($150,000.)

If your committee have erred in their estimate of the amount due the state by the auctioneers, it arose from the refusal of the auctioneers to give the committee any information. By answering the interrogatories we could have given facts instead of hypothesis. In the calculation made by your committee they believe that they have done full justice to the auctioneers; as it is based on what they admit was paid in 1855, it is fair to presume that they did not overrate the amount due by them.

Your committee recommend that the Attorney General be instructed to bring suit, without unnecessary delay, for the recovery of the amount due the state by the auctioneers, as it is a matter of great importance to the state to know the power the Legislature has to tax the auctioneers; which question must be determined by a Supreme Court decision.

Your committee further recommend that a special law be passed to regulate the auction trade in the state, levying a tax or duty on all goods sold at auction, and establishing a license tax, with sufficient bonds to insure a compliance with the law.

There should be a heavy penalty for selling goods by auction, without a license. Licensed auctioneers should be protected from any interference in their business by the "Peter Funks," who conduct their business in defiance of law.

Your committee recommend that sales made by auctioneers who have failed to comply with the auction laws, shall be illegal. That no auctioneer, unless regularly licensed, and not indebted to the state, shall maintain a suit at law for any claims arising from sales made by them, either at private sale or public outcry. Nor should their evidence be taken in any suit of law, or their certificate of sale be binding, unless they complied with all the provisions of the law regulating auctioneers. If the law to levy a duty on all goods sold by auctioneers was in operation during the year 1856, then there would be a deduction of $46,548 41 for that year, still leaving, however, the sum of $54,306 47 unpaid by them. Believing ourselves a legislative committee, and not a judicial one, we deemed it our duty to report the entire amount owing the state, embracing the years 1856, 1857, and 1858, to date, leaving this nice legal distinction to the proper judicial authorities for their decision.

We further ask to direct the attention of the Legislature to that class of auctioneers calling themselves "Cheap Johns." This class, by a very nice distinction between regular auctioneers and themselves, evade the payment of a very large amount of revenue to the state. We therefore recommend that any law which may hereafter be enacted, may be so formed as to embrace within its provisions this species of auctioneers.

We would further represent that, if the auctioneers could be compelled to make an exhibit of their books, (if kept as the law requires,) they would, we honestly believe, show an indebtedness of twice the above estimated amount to the state.

Your committee have good reasons to believe the law was evaded in every possible manner, by persons working under its provisions. In an official report of this kind, we refrain from giving those details.

Your committee would also recommend that suit at once be brought against the county treasurer of San Francisco, Mr. Woods, for $11,000 paid by the auctioneers in the latter part of December, 1855, as the result of a compromise. We are pretty well informed, if this is done, there is property enough to be found belonging to Mr. Lynch, the deputy, to make good this delinquency, as this amount is in the hands of those county officials, not one dollar of which was ever paid into the state treasury.

In conclusion, we would say, that if we have over estimated the indebtedness of the auctioneers, it is not done through a spirit of malice or revenge. On the other hand, if we have fallen far short of the amount owing by them, it is an error of judgment, without an intention to do wrong, as it must be obvious to every person how difficult it is to arrive at a correct conclusion, when the innumerable obstacles are considered that were thrown in the way of your committee by the very persons who ought to be prompt and explicit in giving such information.

We are confident that we have investigated the matter to its foundation, and have arrived at a sufficient amount of data and facts to bring this unhappy difficulty to a speedy termination.

J. S. ORMSBY, Chairman.

COMPTROLLER'S OFFICE, February, 1858.

CITY AND COUNTY TREASURY, }
San Francisco, February 18, 1858. }

Hon. Humphrey Griffith, Chairman of Senate Committee, etc., etc. :

DEAR SIR—Your most esteemed communication of the sixteenth instant reached me this morning, and I hasten to reply to it.

On taking charge of this office in October last, the failure of the auctioneers to comply with the law governing them, was one of the first matters coming under my notice. I immediately addressed to them notifications, reminding them of their obligations. I enclose you one of the blanks.

I received for reply that the auctioneers considered the law oppressive, despotic, and unconstitutional. That they had paid the tax for a time, rather than involve themselves in legal difficulties with the government, but that they had long since resolved to contest the question, if prosecuted. That they had so replied to my predecessors, Messrs. Wood and Hooper, and that they were ready to meet the threatened actions. I accordingly furnished the district attorney with a list of the delinquents, a copy of which I herewith accompany, as also a copy of my letter to him on the subject.

I have reminded him of the matter several times, and have been informed that he would give his attention to it as soon as possible. As yet, I believe, nothing has been done.

Comptroller Whitman will inform you that I have repeatedly conversed with him about the business, suggesting to him the propriety of instructions being sent to the district attorney, by the Attorney General, for his government and aid in the prosecution of the parties. The very critical state of Mr. Osborne's health has, no doubt, prevented him from devoting his personal attention to the suits.

I would remark, in connection with this subject, that the auction license referred to in section seventeen of article five of the revenue act, cannot be exacted separately from the tax levied by section forty-nine, and that the auctioneers oppose both sections on similar grounds.

The arrearages are, of course, very heavy, and no expense will be spared by the delinquents to defend their position. I would suggest, therefore, that if the prosecution be urged, an appropriation be made by the Legislature to provide additional legal assistance in support of the district attorney.

It must be borne in mind that a number of auctioneers have given up business during the past year or two, and will, of course, escape from arrearages.

In conclusion, I have only to say, that on reference to the books of this office, I find that the last entry to the credit of the accounts of "State Auction Duties," was one of five dollars and twenty-eight cents, on March 17, 1856, and that the account was closed on June 30, 1856, by payment and debit to the Treasurer of State, of total amount at credit,

Say,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	$853	22
Less commission of R. E Woods,	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	25	60

The previous payment you can obtain readily from the books of the Comptroller, or from the treasurer's settlement with him.

Without further offering,

I am, dear sir, yours, respectfully,

WM. H. TILLINGHAST, Treasurer.

CITY AND COUNTY AUDITOR'S OFFICE, }
San Francisco, Feb. 20, 1858. }

Hon. Humphrey Griffith, Chairman of Committee:

SIR:—I am in receipt of your communication, requesting information as to the cause of the failure of the auctioneers of this city to pay their license tax, as required by law.

The treasurer has communicated all the information on this subject in my possession; it would, therefore, be useless for me to say anything further on that matter.

I would, however, respectfully remark, that it has been and always will be difficult to collect licenses requiring the parties to expose, monthly, the state of their business; and I am convinced that, for the purpose of revenue, it would be better to classify both auction and commission merchants the same way that other kinds of business are. I am satisfied that there would be no difficulty in collecting, from the auctioneers and commission merchants, the amount to be paid for license—being fixed at a much higher rate than other kinds of business.

Respectfully, yours, etc.,

E. MICKLE, Auditor.

W. K. Osborne, Esq., District Attorney, etc., present:

DEAR SIR:—I beg to wait on you with the annexed list of auctioneers in this city upon whom I have served notices, such as the blank enclosed, and I would take the liberty of urging upon you the necessity of instituting the necessary proceeding against them, under the provisions of article five of the revenue act, and amendments.

They are all prepared for action in the premises, and are as desirous of having the matter settled as we are.

My predecessor and yours were both censured for delaying this process, by the state officers, and you will, no doubt, soon have the subject agitated by the Attorney General.

Your ob't serv't,

To Messrs. Ormsby, Hill, and Cherry, Committee :

GENTLEMEN :—The auctioneers of the city and county of San Francisco respectfully represent to the Legislature of the State of California, through the committee appointed to examine into the matters entrusted to their care, the following statement of their reasons for an apparent neglect of their duties to the state, and an apparent violation of law.

The auctioneers as aforesaid are and have ever been willing to contribute their just proportion of taxes and obligations resting upon them as good citizens of the state they have selected for their homes; with permanent business relations, and permanent business connections, they have never desired to shrink from the performance of any duties imposed on them by law; but when, under cover of law, an onerous, unjust, and unequal imposition is laid, they consider that they are only obeying the first law of human nature (self-protection,) by invoking the aid of law to establish and define their personal and pecuniary rights.

The auctioneers of San Francisco, since 1849, at various intervals, have endeavored to induce the Legislature of the state to pass such laws as would be well defined, not susceptible of equivocation or of debate, and yet so carefully framed, as to give them some protection in return for the heavy charges in which they are assessed—at the same time, always professing their ignorance of any just reasons for their profession being singled out as the object of special legislation and special legislative prosecution.

The auctioneers of San Francisco, in reply to the inquiries as to the reasons for non-payment of licenses, respectfully represent, that a perusal of the law, with their explanation, will satisfy all, that under any circumstances, and with the best desire to fulfill the requirements of the law, they could not and can not become legally licensed auctioneers. Section 14, article 154, of the Laws of California, provides, "that bonds must be given before any person can be qualified to act as an auctioneer." Article 158, section 15, provides that their bonds shall be approved by the court of sessions.

Article 160, section 17, provides, that "after (not before) these bonds are approved, the county treasurer shall issue a license on payment of the sums prescribed."

In the case of Burgoyne v. the Supervisors, Cal. R., p. 22, Murray, C. J., ruled, "that the eighth section of the ninth article of the constitution necessarily limits the jurisdiction of these courts (courts of session) to criminal business. The approval of auctioneers' bonds is not criminal business—the bonds cannot be approved by the court of sessions, and without the bonds, no license can be obtained. The law is inoperative in its character, and under its operations, there is not, and can not be, a legally licensed auctioneer in the state.

In regard to the imposition of the state duty of one-half of one per cent., we beg leave to call your attention to the discrepancies of the present law; uncertain in their character, capable of being evaded in their provisions, in their operations, they afford no protection to the honest auctioneer, and he is obliged to submit to the business competition of his neighbor, who, less scrupulous in regard to his oath, hesitates not to exempt, in his own mind, the goods he may offer for sale from the payment of the state duty. Article 165, section 49, Laws of 1857, provides, that all goods "offered for sale," shall be subject to the payment of state duties, and yet in the oath in the same law, article 167, section 51, no provision is made by which goods offered are included. We submit to your consideration the impropriety of the present law; many goods offered are not sold; sample lots are sold; the balance are offered at the same price; there being no buyers for the increased quantity, the auctioneer is obliged to and does legitimately withdraw the goods offered, and proceeds to others that his customers need; thus, the honest auctioneer is obliged to pay duties on the goods offered, while the dishonest auctioneer fails in his duty to the state or to his competitors in business.

In this connection, it may be remarked that the provisions of the law make an unnecessary exposure of private business and its extent. The disadvantages of the law, in this respect, are too apparent to require any further notice at our hands. Why should the state embarrass auctioneers, in the pursuit of their profession, more than the lawyer, physician, or mechanic? The money of each is equally earned by labor—hard labor—and no man's profession, in our opinion, is a fit subject for legislative action.

Our consignors, as a body, will not and do not pay us the state tax. An attempt, on our part, to collect it, will inevitably amount to driving us from business. Our consignors already, under the operation of law, claim that their taxes are paid on these very goods. Under the operation of law, in addition to state and municipal taxes, a state tax of one-half per cent. is imposed on consigned goods; if sent to auction, another tax of a half per cent. is levied, and when they desire to remit the proceeds to their owners, still another (stamp) tax is imposed before the money is permitted to leave the state;—thus taxing the property when it comes to the state, taxing it while in the state, and taxing it to get it out of the state. They will not pay us the tax—refuse to do it; and yet the state says we shall do it, and not only does not offer to pay us for doing it, but claims that we should pay a license for the privilege of collecting the state dues for the state. If not collected by us, and if we are obliged to pay the same, the charge of one-half per cent. actually amounts to an assessment of from sixteen and two-thirds to sixty per cent. of our net earnings or profits, and of our gross earnings, must be from ten to twenty per cent., as we may charge five or two and a half per cent. for selling goods intrusted to our care.

The amount due the state has, we understand, attracted the attention of the Legislature, and fabulous sums are mentioned as being due. The facts are these:—In 1854 and 1855, the state duties, as per returns on file, were paid in full, (in amount, about twenty thousand dollars each year,) on April 9, 1856, (Stat. Cal., p. 116,) the law imposing the state duty was repealed, and was not renewed until April 29, 1857, (Cal. Stat., 1857, p. 342). The auctioneers then paid to R. E. Woods, county treasurer, after this date, over eleven thousand dollars, in full to date. The money was paid to R. E. Woods, county treasurer, through his deputy, T. A. Lynch; (the money, we believe, has never reached the state treasury.) The law prescribes that we must make our returns to the county treasurer, and must take his receipt therefor. We have obeyed all the forms, all the substance, and all the spirit of the law, and have the receipts for the payment thereof. We are at a loss to conceive how or why we should again be called upon to pay the state, by reason of the faithlessness of her own appointed agent. The Legislature will perceive that the only indebtedness of the auctioneers, admitting the constitutionality of the law, has accrued since April 29, 1857, to the present time.

The constitutionality of the law, we doubt; and are confirmed in this opinion by eminent counsel whom we have consulted. Unequal in its operation—incongruous in its details—varied in its penalties—excessive in its punishments, and oppressive in its operation—we do not avoid a trial of its merits by law, at the same time willing and anxious not to be driven to this extremity.

If, then, it is the determination of the Legislature to tax our profession, we would submit to your honorable body a bill, correct in its details, and not oppressive in its character;—one that will give the auctioneer the protection he so much needs, in return for his contributions to the coffers of the state, and one which, thinking we have a right to demand at your hands, we respectfully solicit your co-operation in its passage.

Mr. Simons made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:—The Committee on Military Affairs, to whom was referred Assembly bill No. 201, an act to provide for the pay of troops called out by the Governor of this state to quell insurrection in the year 1856, have spent some time in its consideration, and, while fully agreed as to the propriety, justice, and even necessity of paying, to the uttermost farthing, every claim of the citizen soldier, when called into service under the laws of the state, we are as deeply sensible that the treasury should not be depleted without even the form of law.

The bill provides for the pay of troops, which, from the vouchers before us, it appears, were volunteer or independent companies, assumed to have been called into the service of the state in 1856. If they were called into service by the commander-in-chief, under the provisions of section seventeen of an act concerning the organization of the militia, passed April 25, 1855, the commanding officer of each company received an order from the commander-in-chief to muster his company into service, mentioning likewise the time and place of rendezvous, and the officer to whom to report.

We have been unable to ascertain the existence, either in the past or present, of any such order.

This first link in the chain of evidence necessary to the establishment of this claim is, at present, absolutely wanting.

True, they may be in existence, and be produced in time to secure the favorable action of the present Legislature upon this subject, in view of which, your committee beg leave to report the bill back to the House, and recommend that it be laid, for the present, on the table.

SIMONS,

REPORTS.

The following report was made by Mr. Havens, which was ordered printed :

MR. SPEAKER :—The Committee on Corporations, to whom was referred Assembly bill No. 138, entitled an act to amend an act concerning corporations, passed April 22, 1850, herewith present the following

REPORT :

Your committee have had the subject presented in this bill under careful consideration, in reference to the importance of the principle involved, both as a question of public policy, and as it affects the rights and interests of corporations, formed or to be formed, under the act as proposed to be amended.

The essential feature of the bill under consideration, limits the right of all corporations, formed under it, to a fixed price for freight, and also a fixed price for passengers. There is no provision by which this rule may be varied under any circumstances.

Your committee conceive that this provision is unwise, for the reason which must be apparent to every person at all conversant with the subject of steamboat navigation, and particularly on our fresh water streams, that the same price per mile which would be an adequate compensation for a long distance, would not be adequate for a short one; that a sum which would be adequate for freight or passage to a point up to which there existed no material impediment, would not justify the investment of capital at the same rates, to navigate the upper sources of a stream where its greater rapidity and more frequent shoals and bars would involve greater difficulties to overcome, and a greatly increased expense of navigation. Again, it is obvious that a different rate would be applicable to freight and passage ascending a fresh-water stream from that which would be proper for descending; and still a different rule should prevail as between ocean navigation and the navigation of fresh-water streams generally.

It is a conclusion, therefore, your committee cannot avoid, that, assuming the rates fixed in the bill as proper for either branch of navigation spoken of, they cannot, in justice, be equally applied to all; and in this respect the bill is materially defective. But your committee have had no evidence before them that the rates fixed in the bill are proper, under any circumstances. In order to arrive at a sound conclusion upon this subject, it would be necessary to institute a careful and thorough investigation of the whole subject of steam navigation, the capital embarked therein, and the necessary expenses attendant thereon; as well as the quantity of freight and number of passengers passing annually over the several routes to be affected. In regard to all these matters, your committee are not in possession of reliable facts sufficient to enable them to form a correct judgment. And they are of opinion that every rule of sound legislation forbids that, in matters of such grave importance, we should act without a clear conviction that we are acting right.

There is another and more comprehensive view of this subject, which in this connection should not be overlooked.

The principle of this bill is directly opposed to another principle of trade: that all capital and labor should be left free for competition, in subjection only to the great rule of supply and demand.

Your committee cannot see why the Legislature should not undertake to reduce or regulate the price of labor, as to fix the rate of freight and passage on steamboats. It is no answer to this to say that this bill applies to corporations, and not to natural persons. Corporations, it is true, are the creatures of law, and it may be claimed that the law should regulate them. This is true to a degree; but not universally. If corporations were of no public benefit, and intended solely to advance the interests of corporations, it is a forced presumption to claim that the Legislature would pass general laws for their formation; and it is equally clear that if those laws violate the great principles of trade, and hamper associations formed under them, by rules unknown to commerce, they must be ex vi termini inoperative; and any benefit the public might otherwise derive from their enactment, would be virtually lost.

Laws of this character, therefore, while so guarded as to protect the community from frauds, and compel the rigid performance of contracts, should not be fettered with such provisions as to materially impair their vitality. But your committee, while considering these objections to the bill upon general grounds, cannot dismiss the subject without adverting to the avowed fact, that the bill in question is intended directly to affect the California Steam Navigation Company. Two questions present themselves in this connection:

First—Have the company in question charged such exorbitant and oppressive rates as to warrant legislative interference?

Your committee have had no facts submitted to them sufficient to enable them to arrive at an affirmative answer to this question. In fact, no evidence whatever to sustain this position has been laid before them. In the absence of such testimony, your committee would be compelled, in conformity with the principles they have adopted for the government of legislation on this subject, to conclude that this bill is inexpedient; but your committee have received, from the agent of said company resident at this place, a statement showing the condition of the company, and the rates of freight and passage charged by them at the time of their organization and at the present time, and also presenting certain other facts and arguments upon the question involved, which your committee believe are entitled to consideration, and which statement your committee have appended to this report, as a schedule, marked A.

The other question presenting itself, in considering this bill as it affects the California Steam Navigation Company, is a question purely of constitutional law, and involves the power of the Legislature to pass laws affecting the rights of corporations, formed under previous laws of a general character, retroactively. This question is one of great practical importance, and its determination, in either way, must seriously affect legislation of that character. Your committee are informed that this precise question is now before the Supreme Court on appeal, and it would be premature and inexpedient so far to anticipate their decision as to express a decided opinion on that point. For the reasons above assigned, therefore, and without expressing an opinion upon the legal question involved, your committee are compelled to report back Assembly bill No. 138, and recommend its indefinite postponement.

H. W. HAVENS, Chairman.

SCHEDULE A.

At the period of the organization of the California Steam Navigation Company, an amount of steamboat property had accumulated far beyond the legitimate requirements of commerce, and between the clashing interests to which they belonged, a rivalry had sprung up, that threatened pecuniary ruin to all concerned.

The idea was then conceived of forming a community of interests, and by a concentration of the business, and employment only of such means of transportation as the requirements of trade demanded, to effect a profit in reducing the expense attendant upon running a large number of superfluous boats, many of which were old, worthless, and unsafe. A law, already on the statute book, invited the formation of such associations, and, accepting its provisions, the company commenced its existence on the twenty-second of February, 1854. At that time, its stock sold freely at its par value of one thousand dollars per share. Its present market value is four hundred and fifty dollars per share. For about twenty-six months out of the forty-eight since its organization, no dividends were declared, and the entire amount of its cash profits will not quite average one per cent. per month for the entire period named. Were the company a monopoly, with the power and disposition to extort exorbitant rates, would they have been content with this low rate of interest on their capital, or suffered their stock to depreciate in the market? The rates fixed at its organization have since undergone a gradual and regular reduction, until now, on all the routes, they are at least one-half, and in some instances less than one-third, what they were at the first-named period. No one uniform rate can, with justice, be made to apply to routes so different in their nature as the various waters in this state. From San Francisco to this city is a broad channel, comparatively free from danger, with a depth of six feet water on the shoalest places. Should there not be a much greater equivalent for the transportation of freight and passengers on a route like that from this city to Red Bluffs, when during a large portion of the year steamers are unable to carry anything in themselves, but are obliged to convey their freight in barges, which are towed several hundred feet behind the steamers, and rendering necessary, at a great additional expense, the employment of crews for both steamboat and barges? It would require five times the rate on the Bluff route to be remunerative that might be applicable to the trade between San Francisco and Sacramento. The same remarks will also apply to the navigation of Feather River, the character of which is similar to that of the Upper Sacramento. The boats plying above this city are required to land small lots of freight at the intermediate ranches on their entire route. We will suppose a person living five miles above, desires to send up one ton of freight, the compensation for which, at three cents per mile, would be fifteen cents, while the drayman, who hauled from the store to the boat, would receive one dollar for his services. Until the company commenced its operations, the navigation of the Sacramento, above Colusa, during low water, was considered impracticable. For an average of over six months in the year, no boat attempted to ascend above that point, deterred by the myriads of snags that, accumulating for ages, presented barriers that in many places prevented the passage even of a canoe. At an expense of over thirty thousand dollars, not one cent of which has ever been reimbursed, the company fitted up a boat for the purpose, removed the snags, deepened the channel on the bars and shoals, cut down the timber on the banks that was in danger of falling in, and have opened a broad navigable channel at all seasons of the year, accomplishing a work far beyond the reach of private enterprise, and giving the advantage of steamboat navigation to a vast extent of country previously dependent upon the uncertainties and expense incident to land carriage.

The company has, also, expended large sums in the improvement of Yuba and Feather Rivers. But the laws of trade are imperative, and regulate prices, beyond the control of companies or legislative enactments. In the transportation of freight from San Francisco to the cities of Stockton and Sacramento, fleets of sailing-vessels enter into direct competition, and the amount conveyed is almost equally divided between the said vessels and steamers. The speed and regularity of the steamers command a preference, so that when their rate is five dollars per ton, the schooner's rate is three dollars, and the same ratio has been maintained at the reduced rate for which it is now carried. Any enactment, therefore, fixing the price on steamers from San Francisco, as directly regulates and controls that of sailing-vessels as if their rates were fixed by law.

Again, there has always existed a strong rivalry between the towns on the northern coast of our state and those on the Sacramento River, for the trade of an intermediate section of country, which is now about equally supplied by the coast and river routes. The reduction to a ruinously low rate by the river would direct almost the entire transportation from the seaboard, and affect in an unnatural and disastrous manner, large interests on the coast of this state. There is no limit to which legislation on this subject may not be extended. The hours of departure may be changed, and thereby subject the company to heavy forfeitures for violation of mail contracts, which have been entered into for years, and which prescribe fixed times of departure.

The company has no exclusive right, and claims no privilege not enjoyed by all. The only advantage in organizing under the general laws of the state is that it requires two-thirds of the stockholders to disorganize the company under said laws, while, by a trusteeship, any individual could draw out his interest at pleasure.

Steamboat property is perishable in its nature, requiring constant repairs, which cause long delays. The efficient management of the company requires that there should be a large number of extra boats, ready for service, to take the place of those, that, through any contingency, may be disabled. These boats constitute a reserve fleet that, though apparently idle and useless, are really as essential a part of the steamboat interest of the country as those in active service.

There is no demand by the people for legislation on this subject. If the company had oppressed the community by unreasonable exactions, would not public indignation have found voice through the press, or would not parties aggrieved have assembled in mass-meetings, or made known their grievances by petition. But where, within the confines of our state, excepting in a certain limited locality has there been a voice raised in censure or condemnation.

The stock of the association is held by boatmen of every station many of them men of very limited means, driven to associate together for self-preservation. They hold out the hand of fellowship to all who wish to unite with them in good faith, and invite all to join them on equal terms. There is no pretence that the company, in its organization, did not comply with all the provision of the general law, nor since that period, in the prosecution of its business, has there been a failure to observe its requirements in all its details.

It would be officious to offer any suggestions in regard to the constitutionality of the proposed enactment, to a committee comprising so much legal ability, but I would respectfully refer them to a report of Attorney General Wallace, which can be found in the House Journals for 1856, p.735.

In conclusion, the advantages derived by the state at large, in the organization and operation of said company, are clearly shown in the improvement of the navigable waters of the state, which individual capital could not have effected; the gradual reduction in price of freight and passage; the safety of life and property consequent upon running only the best boats, and the laying up a large number that were old and dangerous; and the avoidance of the fluctuation in rates consequent upon the former irregularity of business, thereby establishing a uniformity highly desired by the mercantile community.

Appended, is a list of rates at different periods which, if desired, will be verified by affidavit:

Mr. Crane, of the Committee on Ways and Means, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:—The Committee of Ways and Means, to whom was referred Senate bill No. 36, entitled an act supplementary to and amendatory of an act to provide revenue for the support of the government of this state, passed April 29, 1857, beg leave to present the following minority report:

For the subjoined, as well as numerous other reasons, we object to the passage of this bill:

First—Because its provisions transfer from the state to the county treasuries a large amount now paid into the former by said counties—to wit: the counties in which said licenses are collected to any amount, while in a large number of the counties of this state, the revenue is almost exclusively derived from direct taxes upon property.

Second—Because the passage of this bill is calculated to produce a further inequality of taxation throughout the various counties of this state.

Third—Because the benefits of the bill accrue to populous and wealthy counties, which pay but a small portion of the revenues derived from direct taxation, and no provision is made for any equitable set-off in the smaller and more sparsely settled counties, which almost exclusively pay into the state treasury a direct tax much greater in proportion to their wealth, population, and representation in the legislature. This class, if they wish to derive a greater revenue for county purposes, are compelled to resort to an additional property tax. The burden of both state and county taxation in these counties, is already sufficiently onerous; far more so than in the mining districts of the state; their county debt is proportionately quite as heavy, while their resources are much less in the elements of wealth, population, and adequate representation.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

CRANE,
McCOY,
MOORE,
GROOM.

Mr. Clarke, of the Committee on Mines and Mining Interests, made the following report, which was ordered printed:

MR. SPEAKER:—The Committee on Mines and Mining Interests, to whom was referred Assembly bill No. 76, an act to protect the owners of growing crops and other improvements in the mining districts in this state, and to repeal a similar act, approved April 25, 1855, having fully considered the same, report it back to the House, and recommend that it be indefinitely postponed, for the reason, that the expenses provided for in said bill are too great for the object to be obtained, and it provides that the measure of damages shall be ascertained, fixed, and paid, before the miner shall be entitled to enter and destroy such growing crops, etc. And your committee are of the opinion, that it is time enough for the payment of damages after they have accrued, and that it is impossible for a miner to know how much damage he will commit in working a mining claim, as he is unable to tell where the paying lead will terminate. And your committee are of the opinion, that the bill is altogether too unwieldy in its proportions for the purpose for which it was intended.

Also, have considered Assembly bill No. 19, an act to amend an act entitled an act to protect the owners of growing crops, buildings, and other improvements in the mining districts of this state, and recommend its passage, without amendment.

Your committee have also considered Assembly bill No. 57, an act to regulate the manner of recording and conveying quartz mining claims, and recommend that the same be indefinitely postponed; for the reason, that the laws of the state, as they now stand, give to the miners in each mining district the right to make their own rules and regulations, and to prescribe the mode in which mining claims of every nature shall be held and conveyed. And your committee believe that the present policy in that regard, is one founded in great wisdom, and with great regard to the best interests of the people of the whole state. And your committee believe that state legislation, in reference to the manner of holding and conveying mining claims, should be carefully avoided.

Your committee have also considered Assembly concurrent resolution, relative to mining-canals or water-ditches for mining purposes, and recommend the indefinite postponement of the same, for the following reasons:

The owners of water-ditches and canals are protected by law to the same extent that other claimants of the public domain are; that is to say, they have the right to take up, claim, and appropriate the water in any of the natural streams in the mining districts of this state which is unclaimed and unappropriated, and the right to divert the same from its natural channel; and they have also the right of way over any and all unclaimed public domain for their water-ditches and canals, and the right to use the unclaimed public domain for reservoir purposes, and the right to use and consume all timber necessary for the construction and erection of their canals and ditches. They can also support and maintain actions at law to protect themselves against wrongs and trespasses committed upon such ditches and flumes.

Again, if such right of way be granted to all such canals or ditches as may have been, or shall be hereafter constructed, your committee are fearful that it will result in a great monopoly—that capitalists will purchase all of the ditches and canals already constructed which are of any value, and will claim and occupy all of the available water in the mining districts, and thus control the whole mining interests of the state, by having it within their power to fix the price of water in the mines, which can be rated so high that miners will be compelled to abandon their claims for the want of the means of a subsistence, and the claims so abandoned become the prey of the moneyed water-monopolist, who, by means of hired labor, is thus enabled to reap a much greater profit from the use of the water in such ditches than could be obtained by a direct sale of the same to the independent miner at a reasonable rate.

Again, it is claimed by those who favor the resolution, that ditch-owners know not how soon riparian rights may be enforced against those who have heretofore, or may hereafter, divert the water from the natural channels. In reply to this proposition, the committee say that the resolution does not reach that question at all, as there is nothing therein asking that riparian rights shall not be enforced against ditch-owners, and that such rights could be enforced to the same extent, after the passage of a law in strict accordance with the resolution, as could be done without it—as the resolution only asks for the easement of the right of way, use of timber, and reservoir privileges, and your committee have no right to consider proposed laws which have not been submitted to them.

And, finally, your committee hold the opinion that all legislation in relation to the title to the mineral lands in this state is wholly inexpedient, and should be carefully guarded against and avoided; and that the policy pursued by the general government and this state, for nine years past, is one founded in great wisdom; and that no system of legislation can be devised which will tend to develop the mineral resources of this state with greater speed and profit to individuals than the present wise and just policy.

J. A. CLARKE,
Chairman Committee on Mines and Mining Interests.

Mr. Edwards, chairman of the Committee on Public Lands, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :—The Committee on Public Lands, to whom was referred Assembly bill No. 256, an act authorizing the Governor to issue patents to certain parties who have heretofore located school lands, have had the same under consideration, report it back, without amendment, and recommend the passage of the same.

Assembly concurrent resolution relative to mining-canals or water-ditches for mining purposes, made the special order for Wednesday next, March twenty-third, at twelve o'clock, M.

Mr. Hancock made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :—As a member of the special committee, to whom was referred that portion of the inaugural address of Governor Weller, which relates to the matter of the equalization of taxation, and to whom were also referred Assembly bills Nos. 205 and 206, I am constrained to dissent from the opinion of the majority, and to make the following minority report :

Firstly—I cannot agree with the majority in recommending the indefinite postponement of bill No. 206, for the reason that I am of the opinion that some general law, similar to it, and in accordance with what is enunciated by its title, ought to be spread on the pages of our statute. I do, however, disapprove the bill, so far as it limits the extent of the claim and time of possession, and do further object to section three of said bill, the provisions of which would admit of persons holding a claim for an entire year, without expending labor on it, to the detriment of others who might wish to work it; would be injudiciously curtailing the chances of the miner, and denying, perhaps, hundreds of migratory explorers the privilege of making the tests which they might be desirous of doing, greatly to the prejudice of the speedy development of the hidden wealth of our mineral lands; besides, for aught this bill provides, a miner might buy up of other miners, who might be leaving the mines, or a particular locality in the mines, an innumerable number of mining claims, and thus by such a speculation materially clog the mining enterprise to a ruinous extent. I deem it meet that miners, under such a bill, should be allowed different classes of claims, according to the season of the year, or extraneous circumstances which may surround them, and at the same time to be limited to one of each class.

In fact, miners unquestionably ought to be allowed to make their own local laws, according to the wants and peculiar adaptation of the respective localities, and to be left to alter and amend them, just as the various stages of, at one time, an evanescent, and at another an overwhelming incoming population, may justify and require.

The only justifiable legislative intervention being such as may be found absolutely necessary to enforce the mining population to obey the general laws of the land, and to bear their due proportion of the burden of the expense of sustaining the government and in administering the laws, I would deprecate every species of taxation which would tend to trammel operations in the mines, by saddling a tax on the worthy explorer and experimenter, and would, therefore, have the constables of the different precincts collect a certain per centage on all sums raised by the successful miner over and above his actual expenses, and have the same paid over to the respective county treasurers as a state and county tax, and have a portion of the same constitute a sinking fund, for the purpose of liquidating the state indebtedness. It is true that such a thing cannot be until the mineral lands shall be ceded to the state by Congress; and also true, that at the same time all other property in the mines should be moderately taxed, but policy would dictate that the same should only be had to an extent sufficient to meet the requirements of the constitution.

Secondly—I disagree with a majority of the committee concerning bill No. 205, inasmuch as I have to insist that in lieu of a tax being paid on the net cash valuation of the annual product, or revenue, it should be paid on the actual cash, or market value, of any possessory right in a pre-emption or mining claim; for, in such a case there would be a discrimination made between pre-emptors and miners, and the commercial and all other kindred classes, which would be in conflict with section eleven, article one, of the state constitution, which requires that all laws of a general nature shall have a uniform operation, and that portion of section thirteen, article eleven, of the same constitution, which declares that taxation shall be equal and uniform throughout the state, and that all property throughout this state shall be taxed in proportion to its value, for in the one case the principal or amount of investment would be taxed, and in the other the naked income. I regret to differ in opinion with my associates, but have to confess that I shall ever be slow to believe that one class of citizens ought to be taxed to govern another, or that one citizen should be taxed on the amount of his investment, while another is only taxed on the amount of his annual income; to believe that any member of the body politic can be possessed of a lucrative species of property, in the enjoyment of which he is protected by the laws, without being under obligations to defray his proportion of the necessary expense of enacting and administering such laws ; and also slow to concede that the general government has a right to interfere with the exercise of a sovereign right within the limits of a state relative to its domestic policy.

HENRY HANCOCK.

The following messages were received from the Governor :

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
Sacramento, March 16, 1858.

To the Assembly of California :

I have this day approved the following bills, viz. :

An act to provide for the maintenance of the indigent sick of the county of Trinity ;

Also, an act legalizing the assessment roll of Tehama county for the year 1857, and extending the time for collecting the revenue in said county ;

Also, an act to provide for the transcribing and transferring certain records, in Sonoma and Solano counties, to the county of Napa ;

Also, an act in relation to the office of the county assessor of the county of San Joaquin.

JOHN B. WELLER.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
Sacramento, March 16, 1858.

To the Assembly of California :

I have this day approved an act to provide for a monthly statement of receipts and disbursements by the county treasurer of the county of Sierra. In approving this act, I deem it proper to say that, in my opinion, it will have a salutary effect, and I can see no reason why its provisions should not be extended to the other counties of the state. The information which the people of Sierra county require, in regard to their treasurer, would be equally desirable in other localities. The guard which this bill provides for the safe-keeping and proper disbursements of the public money ought not to be confined to that county alone. I therefore recommend the passage of a general act, similar in its requirements to the one now before me. I am aware my efforts to reduce the number of special or local acts have not met with much favor, but a sense of public duty will compel me to continue.

JOHN B. WELLER.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
Sacramento, March 16, 1858.

To the Assembly of California :

I beg leave to call the attention of your honorable body to the enormous amount paid yearly for the transportation of prisoners to San Quentin. The act of May 15, 1854, defines the legal distances from each county seat to the prison. Since the passage of the act, so many improvements have been made in the construction of roads and in the facilities of traveling, that the distances have been materially diminished. Besides, I think it will be found, upon examination, that the grossest inaccuracies and inequalities exist in that law. Indeed, it cannot be considered correct in any particular. As this is the basis on which the sheriffs are paid for the transportation of prisoners, I respectfully recommend that the actual distance usually traveled be made the legal distance.

The act of April 21, 1856, fixing the fees for transportation of prisoners, allows the sheriffs seventy-five cents per mile for the first convict, and fifty cents for each of the others whom he may convey at the same time. This is certainly extravagant and unreasonable. With the present facilities for traversing the state, and reaching the prison, in my opinion these fees should be reduced forty per centum. The amount annually appropriated for this purpose is thirty-five thousand dollars. A reduction of at least twenty thousand dollars in the expenses of the government can here be made, without doing the slightest injustice to any one. The prison has been a very heavy tax upon the people, and I think sound policy demands an entire reform in this, as in other respects. The people are no doubt willing to pay all the necessary and proper expenses of transporting convicts to San Quentin, but it can scarcely be expected that they wish to have their money taken to enrich officials.

The act to which I have referred applies to other officers as well as sheriffs, but I have confined my remarks to the prison alone, as I desire this to stand as one of the proposed reforms in the expenses of that institution.

In my judgment, this evil should be corrected at once, and I therefore respectfully invoke the early action of the Legislature upon it.

JOHN B. WELLER.

JOHN B. WELLER.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
Sacramento, March 20, 1858.

To the Assembly of California:

I have, this day, approved an act authorizing the Sierra Nevada Lake Water and Mining Company to change its principal place of business.

In approving this bill, I avail myself of the occasion to say that the necessity for it grows out of what I conceive to be a defect in the general law upon the subject of corporations. That act requires the company to fix the place where an office shall be kept in the articles of incorporation, and no power is given in it to change this. As cases of this sort will frequently occur, in order to avoid special legislation I recommend a modification of the general law, so as to vest this power either in the directory or stockholders, under such restrictions and limitations as may be deemed proper.

JOHN B. WELLER.

I have to inform your honorable body that I have, this day, approved an act conferring certain powers on guardians of insane persons.

JOHN B. WELLER.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
Sacramento, March 29, 1858.

To the Assembly of California :

I have, this day, approved an act concerning official bonds of justices of the peace and constables of the counties of this state;

Also, an act fixing the time of holding the terms of the court of sessions, county court, and probate court, in and for the county of San Bernardino;

Also, an act amendatory of an act entitled an act to reincorporate the city of Sonora, approved March 9, 1855.

JOHN B. WELLER, Governor.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
Sacramento, March 29, 1858.

To the Assembly of California :

I herewith return, without my approval, an act to authorize George H. Ensign, and others, owners of the Spring Valley Water-Works, to lay down water-pipes in the public streets of the city and county of San Francisco.

I have signed two bills during the present session of the Legislature, in regard to supplying the city of San Francisco with water. In both cases, the companies were organized as corporations under the general law of the state.

The bill for the relief of the Mountain Lake Company, simply confirmed an ordinance, and extended the time for completing the work. The other, merely ratified and confirmed an ordinance passed by the board of supervisors; as their power to do such an act, under the consolidation bill, was doubted. Under the provisions of that bill, the city can, after the expiration of two years from the time the work is completed, take possession of the same, upon certain conditions therein prescribed. After the lapse of twenty years, the work becomes the property of the city. The board of supervisors have power to fix the rates to be charged for water, etc.

The bill now before me, in effect, creates a quasi corporation, and gives that association certain rights and privileges not enjoyed by individuals. It is unlimited, as to time, and therefore it may be doubted whether it is not in conflict with the sixteenth section of the eleventh article of the constitution. The bill fixes no time for the commencement or completion of the work. It imposes no restrictions whatever upon the company in regard to the rates to be charged for water; on the contrary, it expressly prohibits the board of supervisors, and indirectly the city authorities, from exercising any control over them. If this company were to succeed, and the others fail, in supplying the city with water, the people would be at their mercy. These associations are rarely distinguished for their liberality, and seldom fail to abuse their power when they can profit by it.

Entertaining these opinions, the bill is respectfully returned for reconsideration.

JOHN B. WELLER.

The preceding message, and the bill therein referred to, were, on motion of Mr. Shepard, laid on the table.

Mr. Ballou presented the claim of the Sonoma County Journal.
Referred to the Committee on Claims.

REPORTS.

Reports were made as follows:

Mr. Edwards, chairman of the Committee on Public Lands, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:—The undersigned, a majority of the Committee on Public Lands, to whom was referred the resolution of February 2, introduced by Mr. Briggs of Amador, instructing “them to inquire whether a law to indemnify actual settlers for improvements made upon lands belonging to others without their consent, but at the time of making such improvements, said lands were supposed to belong to the general government, can be so framed as to obviate all constitutional objections, and to report their opinion and the reasons therefor; and also that the said committee be authorized to call upon the Attorney General and obtain his opinion,” have attended to the duty assigned them, and ask leave to make the following report:

Immediately after the resolution was referred to the committee, the chairman addressed to the Attorney General a request, in accordance with their instructions, and received from him an elaborate reply, which was unavoidably delayed on account of the official duties, and ill health of that officer.

Your committee are of the opinion, that, from the reasons set forth in the communication of the Attorney General, and from that of other persons learned in the law, a bill can be so drawn as to obviate the objections made by the Supreme Court to the act of 1856, and to which no constitutional objections can be made.

Your committee are convinced, however, that while the Supreme Court holds to the doctrine laid down in the opinion referred to by the Attorney General, no law can be passed by the Legislature that will afford all the relief essential to the prosperity of the state; yet they are of the opinion that protection may be obtained by the enactment of a law that will present a compromise of the embarrassing difficulties now existing between the owners of large land grants, and those who have settled upon them, believing them to belong to the public domain.

Your committee herewith submit the report of the Attorney General, and recommend that the usual number of copies be printed.

In accordance with the opinion expressed in accompanying document of the Attorney General, the committee return, for the consideration of the House, Assembly bill No. 306, and recommend the passage of the same.

R. D. FERGUSON,
JAMES O. HARRIS,

RESOLUTION, AND OPINION OF ATTORNEY GENERAL.

Resolved, That the Committee on Public Lands be instructed to inquire whether a law, to indemnify actual settlers for improvements made upon lands belonging to others, without their consent, (but at the time of making such improvements, said lands were supposed to belong to the general government,) can be so framed as to obviate all constitutional objections, and to report their opinion, and the reasons therefor, to this House, as soon as practicable. And also, that the said committee be authorized to call upon the Attorney General and obtain his opinion thereon.

Adopted in Assembly, February 2, 1858.

J. N. BINGAY, Assistant Clerk.

Sacramento City, March 13, 1858. }

SIR:—Your letter, asking my opinion, as to whether “a law, to indemnify actual settlers for improvements made upon lands belonging to others, without their consent, and without notice of their objections, and when such improvements were made, such land was not segregated, and supposed to belong to the general government, can be so framed as to obviate all constitutional objections,” was received some time since, and I regret that illness, and official engagements, have prevented an earlier answer.

Since the receipt of your letter, I have carefully examined the decisions of our Supreme Court, and of the courts of other states, relating to the subject matter of your inquiry, and must confess, that I find it difficult to give you a satisfactory answer—one upon which you can with perfect confidence rely, so as to frame a bill, which, in the event it becomes a law, will mete out exact justice to all whom it may affect.

As a matter of justice, I have heretofore maintained and believed, that where a person, in good faith, enters upon land, believing it to belong to the general government, and when the circumstances warrant such a conclusion in the mind of a man of ordinary understanding, and erects improvements thereon, such person should be compensated for the improvements so made, if, upon segregation afterwards, it should prove to be land covered by a “foreign grant,” so called.

And were I now giving a pioneer opinion, (if I may so use the term,) it would be to the effect that a law, embodying the suggestions above made, would be constitutional; and I would, in justice to myself and those who entertain a like opinion, give the reasons therefor at length, citing, I think, as good and reliable authority therefor as can be produced to sustain any proposition.

But this question has, to a very great extent, been passed upon by the highest judicial tribunal of our state, and it is your duty, mine, and all good citizens', to observe and maintain the decisions of our courts so long as they stand unreversed. It, therefore, occurs to my mind, that the proper and only course for you to pursue, is, first to ascertain the points bearing upon this question which have been settled by the Supreme Court, and then to frame a bill, if possible, which will secure justice to the character of settlers mentioned, and at the same time not violate those points so settled.

In the case of Billings v. Hall, decided at the January term, 1857, of the Supreme Court, the majority of the judges maintained the following propositions:

First—That the right to acquire, possess, and to defend property, is guarantied by the constitution, and that the Legislature cannot impair such right.

Second—That the Legislature cannot pass a law which is repugnant to principles of morality and natural justice.

Third—That improvements erected upon land become a part of the realty and vest in the owner of the land.

Fourth—That one who has been dispossessed of land, is entitled, upon recovery, both to the profits and the improvements which have been made thereon.

Fifth—That the Legislature possess uncontrolled power over the remedy or process of her courts, except where such remedy impairs the right.

Sixth—That one who bona fide enters upon the land of another, under claim of title, may offset the value of improvements, made by him, against the owner's claims for rents and profits.

They also intimate that in legislation, a distinction should be made between an innocent and tortious possession, though each may be in law a trespasser, and that remedies might be granted the former which could not be conferred upon the latter, and I think, substantially say: that when one erects improvements upon the land of another, the title to which is vested in another, and the latter interposes no objections, but stands by and suffers the improvements thus to be made, he may be held liable for the reasonable value of them, upon the ground of fraud, or culpable negligence.

Taking the foregoing doctrines as our guide, it is evident that the Legislature can only pass such laws, constitutionally, as affect the remedy, and not the right.

And here arises the most difficult question in the mind of the lawyer, connected with, or pertaining to the subject under review. The trouble is in properly drawing the line of demarkation between the right of property and the remedy.

In many cases, the most wise judges and astute lawyers differ widely in their statement of the distinction, some of the most prominent of which I will here state.

Chancellor Kent, an able writer, in his commentaries, says:

“A retrospective statute affecting and changing vested rights, is very generally considered, in this country, as founded on unconstitutional principles, and consequently inoperative and void. But this doctrine is not understood to apply to remedial statutes, which may be of a retrospective nature, provided they do not impair contracts or disturb absolute vested rights, and only go to confirm rights already existing, and in furtherance of the remedy by causing defects, and adding to the means of enforcing existing obligations.”

And Judge Story, in the celebrated case of Green v. Biddle, lays down the following doctrine:

“That the objection to a law, on the ground of its impairing the obligation of contracts, could never depend upon the extent of the change which the law effects in it. Any deviation from its terms by postponing or accelerating the period of performance which it prescribes; imposing conditions not expressed in the contract, or dispensing with the performance of those which are expressed,—however minute or apparently immaterial in their effect upon the contract, or upon any part or parcel of it,—impairs its obligation. To deny a remedy under a contract, or by burdening the remedy with new conditions and restrictions, to make it useless, or hardly worth pursuing, is equally a violation of the constitution.”

On the other hand, Chief Justice Marshall, one of the most clear and forcible reasoners who ever adorned an American bench, in the case of Sturges v. Crowninshield, tried before the Supreme Court of the United States, holds this language :

“Without impairing the obligation of the contract, the remedy may certainly be modified as the wisdom of the nation (Legislature) shall direct.”

This doctrine, so announced by Judge Marshall, was afterwards affirmed, in the case of Mason v. Haile, which was decided by the Supreme Court subsequent to Green v. Biddle. And Judge Cowen, in Butler v. Palmer, announces this doctrine :

“The authorities are abundant, both in the United States courts and our own, that a statute impairing the remedy is constitutional, especially when it operates merely by way of limitation in point of time.”

The highest courts in Pennsylvania, Louisiana, and other states, have rendered similar opinions.

It is well settled that the Legislature may, constitutionally, shorten the time in which an action shall be commenced. Although the right accrued prior to the passage of the act, it can pass laws abolishing the remedy by imprisonment for debt, or attachment which existed at the time the debt was created, and enact recording laws by which the elder grantee shall be postponed to a younger, if the prior deed is not recorded within a limited time.

The authorities upon this question, in its various phases, would, if collected, form a number of volumes ; but, for the present, I deem it unnecessary to make further citations. So great is the contrariety of opinion, that each important court of the country may, with perfect propriety, establish its own precedent.

And, as I do not understand our Supreme Court to have clearly defined its position upon the question, justice and propriety dictates that it should have an early opportunity of doing so. Let me, therefore, suggest, that you present a bill to the Legislature, (if you present one at all,) containing, among other necessary provisions, substantially, the following propositions :

That, in all actions for the recovery of the possession of land, in which the plaintiff claims under the character of a grant herein named, and the defendant, or those through whom he claims, entered thereon before segregation, in good faith, believing it to be land belonging to the general government, and erected improvements upon the same, said defendant may, in his answer, set up a counter claim against the plaintiff to the extent of the actual value of such improvements.

That, if it appears upon the trial of such cause, the plaintiff is the owner of the land sued for, then he shall have judgment for the possession thereof; and if it appears that the defendant, or his predecessors in interest, made such improvements, with the knowledge and consent, either expressed or implied, of the plaintiff, or those through whom he claims, then the defendant shall have judgment in the sum of the actual value of such improvements; which judgment shall be first offset against any amount recovered by the plaintiff for rents, etc., and the remainder, if any, to operate as a lien upon the land improved.

That, upon the trial of such cause, it shall be sufficient for the defendant to show, that he or his predecessor in interest erected the improvements specified in his answer, and the actual value thereof, to make a prima facie case, leaving the plaintiff to rebut such, by showing notice of disapprobation upon his part, or that of his grantor or lawful agent. This is necessary, because of the difficulty upon the part of defendant to negative the question of notice, whilst if any has been ever given, proof of it is supposed to be within the knowledge of the plaintiff.

I have now, as briefly as possible, given you my opinion upon the subject of your communication, and in doing so, have tried to keep within the narrow limits established by our Supreme Court; intending strictly to avoid any suggestion which may have a tendency to produce clashing between the judicial and legislative departments of our state.

Hoping that I have satisfactorily answered your letter, I remain your most obedient servant,

THOS. H. WILLIAMS,
Attorney General.

Hon. URIAH EDWARDS, Chairman of Committee on Public Lands.

The above resolution, and the opinion of the Attorney General, were ordered printed.

MR. SPEAKER:—The select committee, to whom was referred Senate bill No. 98, an act to suppress gaming, have had the same under consideration, and report the bill back to the House, and recommend its passage, as amended.

Senate bill No. 98, above reported, was taken up, and the amendments concurred in.

On the passage of the bill, Messrs. Crane, Hill of Sierra, and De Long, demanded the ayes and noes, and the bill, as amended, was passed, by the following vote:

AYES—Messrs. Ballou, Briggs, Buel, Clarke, Crane, De Long, Ely, Ferguson, Galbraith, Gordon, Gray, Groom, Hamlin, Hancock, Harris, Heath, Hill of Nevada, Hitchens, Holman, Hirst, King, Lewis, Loofbourrow, Markley, Marshall, McCoy, Mitchell, Moses, Neblett, O'Brien, Ormsby, Osgood, Parker, Pearis, Pico, Smith of San Bernardino, Spilman, Tatman, Tipton, Walker, and Warfield—41.

Mr. Crane gave notice of a reconsideration of the vote just taken.

Mr. Briggs, of the special committee, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER:—The special committee, to whom was referred Assembly bill No. 201, an act entitled an act to provide for the payment of troops called out by the Governor of this state to quell insurrection in the year 1856, would respectfully report, that they have had the same under consideration, and have examined the documents transmitted to the House, in accordance with the resolutions calling upon the Governor and Adjutant General for the same. A concise statement of facts contained therein, is as follows, viz.:

Section fifth of article five of the constitution of this state, reads as follows :

“The Governor shall be commander-in-chief of the militia of this state.”

Section forty-eight Criminal Practice Act, page two hundred and seventy-three Wood's Digest, reads as follows: “When the Governor shall be satisfied that the execution of civil or criminal process has been forcibly resisted in any county by bodies of men, or that combinations to resist the execution of process by force, exist in any county, and that the power of the county has been exerted, and has not been sufficient to enable the officer having the process to execute it, he may, on application of the officer, or of the district attorney, or county judge of the county, by proclamation, to be published in such papers as he shall direct, declare the county to be in a state of insurrection, and may order into the service of the state such number and description of volunteers or uniform companies, or other militia of the state, as he shall deem necessary to serve for such time, and under the command of such officer or officers as he shall direct.” The exigency contemplated by the section of the law here quoted, is proved to have existed by the call made by the then sheriff of San Francisco county, upon the Governor for assistance, a copy of which accompanies this report.

Further, by the seventeenth section of the act of 1855: “In case of war, insurrection, or rebellion, or resistance of the execution of the laws of this state, the commander-in-chief is authorized to call for such portion of the enrolled militia of this state, etc., as he may decide to call into service.”

It will thus be seen, to authorize the call, there must be either insurrection, rebellion, or resistance to the laws.

The officer to whom the law confides that jurisdiction and duty, is the Governor of the state. By a proclamation, issued on the third of June, 1856, the Governor declared the county of San Francisco in a state of insurrection. The Governor, therefore, had full authority to make the call for the military.

That proclamation contained the following language: “I hereby order and direct all the volunteer militia companies of the county of San Francisco, also, all persons subject to military duty within said county, to report themselves for duty immediately to Major General Wm. T. Sherman, commanding second division California militia, to serve for such time, in the performance of military duty, under the command of said Sherman, until disbanded from service by his orders.

It will thus be seen, that the proclamation was a special order to the commanders of volunteer companies in San Francisco to report themselves immediately for duty, and remain in service until mustered out.

On the 2d of June, 1856, the Governor issued an order to Gen. Sherman, directing him to call upon the enrolled militia, and also upon all the volunteer or independent companies of the military divisions under his command to rendezvous at such time and place, within the county of San Francisco, as he may deem necessary and proper to aid the civil authorities, etc.

Gen. Sherman issued his order in accordance therewith, which order, as well as the proclamation and order of the Governor, were duly published in the city papers, in compliance with the act of 1855.

On the 9th of June, 1856, Gov. Johnson issued two orders to Gen. Howard, by which he was directed to take command at San Francisco, with special reference to previous orders to Gen. Sherman, and by an order of the 10th of June, 1856, directed to proceed with the organization. By an order dated June 11th, 1856, Gen. Howard directed Adjutant General Kibbe to muster into the service of the State all the volunteer and militia companies of the second brigade, second division, and report to him the strength and condition of the same.

By the muster-rolls on file in the office of the Adjutant General, it is in evidence that eight volunteer and enrolled military companies, numbering some four hundred and fifty men, were regularly mustered into the service of the state, each individual taking the oath prescribed by the regulations of the United States army.

Your committee further find that the troops so mustered in were held to service until the 20th day of September, 1856, when they were regularly mustered out, by an order of that date.

Section twenty-second of the act of one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five, provides as follows:

That all troops called into service after the passage of this act, to repel invasions or quell insurrections, or for any other purpose requiring continued service, for the space of more than one week, shall receive the pay of the United States troops serving in California, with ten per cent. on the same added thereto.

By the estimate of the Quartermaster and Adjutant General, made upon the basis stipulated by the provisions of the act just quoted, the sum of forty-three thousand two hundred and sixty-two dollars and twenty-nine cents will be required to liquidate the claims of the troops called into service as aforesaid.

The appropriation of fifty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary to liquidate said claims in the bill now reported upon, will therefore meet the required expenditure, leaving the particular amount to be paid to each individual to be determined by the state board of military auditors.

Your committee therefore report the bill back, and recommend its passage, without amendment.

REPORTS.

Mr. Safford, of the Committee on Claims, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :—Your Committee on Claims, to whom were referred the claims of David McClaren, for services as draughtsman in the Surveyor General's office, from the seventeenth day of August, 1856, to the first day of January, 1857 ;

And the claim of T. B. W. Stockton, for services as draughtsman in Surveyor General's office for the months of April and May, 1856 ;

And the claim of Leander Ransom, for certified copies of township plats furnished the Surveyor General's office, in the years 1855 and 1856 ;

Have directed me to report the same back, with the accompanying bills, and recommend their passage.

We have also had under consideration, Assembly bill No. 244, an act to audit the claim of John F. McCauley, for the sum of $23,326 84, and report the same back, with a substitute, allowing him $8,200 35, and recommend its passage.

- In the examination of this claim, as well as all others that have come before your committee, it has been their desire to do ample justice to the claimant, and at the same time faithfully guard the interests of the state. On a careful examination of the accounts of John F. McCauley, your committee find that there was issued to him a Comptroller's warrant, bearing date the twenty-eighth day of December, 1855, for the sum of $11,804 42, purporting to be for beef cattle, furnished the state prison in the year 1855. An order was drawn on the Comptroller of State for the above amount, and a warrant was issued on order by the Comptroller; the order was signed by only one of the board of directors, and the law plainly states that a quorum only shall transact business, and the warden of said prison, Major John S. Love, refused to sign said order.

From an examination of a transcript from the commissary books, kept at the prison, your committee find a daily account of the weights of the cattle killed belonging to McCauley, which show, in the aggregate, thirty-five thousand nine hundred and ninety-two pounds of beef; also, sixteen head of work cattle, and two milch cows, for which we have allowed him twelve cents per pound for the beef, this being the standard price we have allowed other parties furnishing beef, and ninety dollars per head for work-cattle and cows; and on examination of the Comptroller's books, we find that he delivered to the directors of the state prison, in the months of January, February, and March, 1856, ninety-nine thousand and fifty-six pounds beef, for which we have allowed twelve cents per pound,

Amounting to, - - - - -	$11,886 72
On account of which he has been paid the sum of, - -	9,625 41
<hr/>
Leaving a balance due him of, - - - - -	$2,261 31
To this add amount due in 1855, - - - - -	5,939 04
<hr/>
Making in the aggregate, - - - - -	$8,200 35

Which your committee believe is due to Mr. McCauley at this time.

We would further state that Mr. McCauley presented a claim for fourteen thousand nine hundred and three pounds of beef, said to have been furnished in the month of January, 1856, which we have taken no action upon, for the reason no account of the same can be found upon the Comptroller's books, or books of the prison. Besides the amount already allowed for this month is a most liberal estimate of beef consumed by the number of persons shown to have been at the prison at the time.

A. P. K. SAFFORD, Chairman, pro tem.

The bill above reported, an act to audit certain claims, read first and second times, and placed on file.

Also, an act to audit the claims of J. F. McCauley, read first and second times, and placed on file.

Mr. Heath presented the report of a minority of said committee, as follows:

To the Hon. Ferris Forman, Secretary of State:

A minority of the joint committee, appointed by the Senate and Assembly to examine the proposals for translating the Laws into Spanish, and to select a competent translator, respectfully beg leave to report, that there were four proposals submitted to the committee for their examination, by the following named persons:

John P. Brodie, for one dollar per folio

Manuel Ainsa, for one dollar per folio.

S. W. Daggett, for ninety cents per folio.

J. Herrera and Javier Jafre, who proposed jointly to do the service for seventy-five cents per folio.

All of the persons submitting proposals to translate the laws were highly recommended to the committee, and we are of the opinion that they were all competent to perform the services in conformity with the law.

Believing the bidders equally competent, the only duty left for the committee was to select such lowest bidder, and award the contract to him, in conformity with the fifteenth section of the law regulating the duties of the Secretary of State.

The majority of the committee, in their report, use the following language, viz. :

“ A majority of your committee, being satisfied of the qualifications and competency of John P. Brodie, although his bid is not the lowest, having selected his proposal as being the best, and having awarded to him the translation of the Laws of 1858, which are to be translated into Spanish," etc.

But the majority do not, nor can they, report in truth that the other bidders were not equally competent to perform the proposed service.

We therefore protest against awarding the translation of the Laws for the year 1858 to John P. Brodie, and allege that J. Herrera and Javier Jafre are the persons by law entitled to said contract.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

RUSSEL HEATH, of the Assembly.

Between the date of my first communication, to wit: 14th January, 1858, and the one of the 8th February, 1858, I had frequent conversations with Mr. Johnson, advising him of the necessity of his returning the books to the board, and to make a report of his doings as clerk and agent, in each of which conversations he promised me that he would turn over the books and make a report at an early day, all of which he has failed to do up to this date.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,
FERRIS FORMAN, Secretary of State.

SACRAMENTO CITY, }
February 8th, 1858.

William Neely Johnson :

DEAR SIR:—I am directed by the board of land commission to communicate the following entry made by said board :

SACRAMENTO CITY,
February 8th, 1858. }

At a meeting of the board of land commission, convened at the Comptroller's office, February 8th, 1858, present his Excellency, John B. Weller, Geo. W. Whitman, and Ferris Forman, it was ordered that the late clerk and agent of said board be required to turn over immediately to the president of the board, his Excellency John B. Weller, all books, papers, moneys, vouchers, and property, of whatever kind, belonging to said commission.

Yours very respectfully,
FERRIS FORMAN, Secretary of said Board.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
Sacramento, February 19, 1858.

SIR:—I have made several efforts through the Secretary of State to ascertain the condition of the land commission organized under the act of May 1, 1855, but have entirely failed.

On the 8th inst. an order was made by the board, directing W. Neely Johnson, the agent, to deliver, immediately, the books, papers, moneys, etc., to the president.

This order has not been obeyed, and I have to request that you will institute legal proceedings to obtain this property at as early a day as possible.

Very truly, your ob't serv't,

JOHN B. WELLER.

Hon. THOS. H. WILLIAMS, Attorney General.

The following additional messages were received from the Governor :

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
Sacramento, March 31, 1858.

To the Assembly of California :

I have, this day, approved an act to provide for the erection of a jail in the county of Tulare :

Also, an act to separate the offices of county recorder, county auditor, and clerk of the probate court, from the office of county clerk, in the county of Shasta.

JOHN B. WELLER.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
Sacramento, March 31, 1858.

To the Assembly of California :

I herewith return to your honorable body, without approval, an act granting the privilege to J. C. Owen and R. B. Cannon, of conducting water into and through Suisun City, in the county of Solano, and supplying the inhabitants therewith.

This bill creates a quasi corporation, and confers upon certain gentlemen, therein named, the right to supply Suisun City with water. These privileges are granted in perpetuity, as there is no provision in the bill as to the manner in which the works are to be disposed of after the lapse of ten years. During those ten years, the right is vested in them exclusively. I have no doubt these gentlemen are worthy and enterprising men, but I see no reason why exclusive privileges should be conferred on them.

The general law of the state, approved May 3, 1852, provides for the incorporation of water companies, and denies to any company a right to supply any city with water, unless it shall be previously authorized by an ordinance, or unless it is done in conformity with a contract entered into between the city and company. I see no necessity for changing the general law by this special act, and hence I return the bill to your honorable body.

JOHN B. WELLER, Governor.

The preceding message was laid on the table.

Mr. Thomas made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:—The Hospital Committee, to whom was referred Senate bill No. 157, an act to amend an act entitled an act to establish an asylum for the insane of the state of California, passed May 17, 1853, have had the same under consideration, and, with a slight amendment, unanimously recommend its passage.

THOMAS, Chairman.

Also, the special committee, to whom was referred Senate bill No. 61, an act regarding the importation and preparation of drugs and medicines, report as follows:

The provisions of this bill requires that all drugs, medicines, oils, medicated spirits, pharmaceutical preparations, etc., shall conform in strength to a certain standard embraced in an act of the Congress of the United States, approved June 26, 1848.

At least nine-tenths of all the articles embraced in the bill, and that are brought to this state, are purchased by the California druggists in the cities of Philadelphia, New York, and Boston; in each of which cities they are supposed to have undergone the necessary tests, as to purity, by the proper officer appointed by the government. The remaining one-tenth, imported from foreign countries, undergoes a similar inspection by a similar officer in San Francisco.

Now, although the California druggists may order a stock of the purest and best drugs that the Eastern markets can afford, it is not at all surprising that an important and large portion of the invoice should vary, in a slight degree, from the standard of purity sought to be established. The agencies by which they are acted on are many and various, and might affect the greater part of a large and valuable stock of drugs and medicines, in a degree so slight as to be unworthy of notice, so far as their remedial powers are concerned, yet to a sufficient extent to make them amenable to all the penalties of this act.

For the California druggist to come up to any thing like the requirements of this bill, he would be compelled to employ a large number of analytical chemists at the point from which he ships his goods—the testing process being slow and tedious, and every article would require to be tested. Moreover, it is a fact, well known to every one acquainted with the subject, that the science of chemistry is nearly impotent, in testing the strength and purity of vegetable substances; it is in minerals alone that it can be relied on with certainty.

Section three of the bill requires that every box, bottle, or package, of patent or secret medicine sold, shall have attached, the certificate of the inspector, for which certificate, said inspector is allowed to charge fifty dollars. He, therefore, who buys a bottle of some patent medicine, for which he pays one dollar, will have to pay fifty dollars additional for the certificate. This is simply absurd. Another great objection to this bill, is, that it puts too much power in the hands of one man, who, if he were so disposed, could break down and ruin every druggist in the cities of San Francisco, Sacramento, and Stockton, let them be never so honest in their efforts to keep and vend nothing but pure articles, and shield himself behind the letter of his duty.

Your committee have deliberated maturely on the subject of this bill, and offer this report as some of the results of that deliberation. They consider it unnecessary, inoperative, and oppressive, and do, therefore, unanimously and unhesitatingly recommend that it be indefinitely postponed.

GEO. W. THOMAS, Chairman.

The following communication was received from the Attorney General, and ordered printed :

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Sacramento, April 5, A. D. 1858. }

Hon. N. E. Whitesides, Speaker of the Assembly :

SIR :—A resolution was adopted by the Assembly, on the 10th inst., requesting the Attorney General to inquire into the title to the slip and wharf property in the city and county of San Francisco, in order to ascertain whether the title to said property inheres in the state or otherwise; if in the state, then the extent and character of said property; with his opinions as to the proceedings necessary and proper to be taken to obtain possession of the same. Also, to inform this House of the result of his investigations at the earliest period consistent with public duty.

So soon after the receipt of this resolution as other official engagements would permit, I repaired to the city of San Francisco for the purpose of obtaining the facts necessary to a proper answer thereto, and now proceed to give you the result of my investigations, and the conclusions to which I have arrived.

In the course of my remarks I may find it more convenient to speak in general terms of the water-lot property in San Francisco, than to confine myself exclusively to the question of city slips; and if so, will not follow strictly the letter of the resolution quoted.

In March, 1851, the Legislature passed the act to provide for the disposition of certain property of the state, which is commonly known as the San Francisco Water-Lot Act.

Upon a proper construction of this act depends the title to property of immense value, and I confess that it is with diffidence I approach questions of such difficulty and importance as have arisen in connection with this subject, in reference to which the first lawyers of our state differ so widely.

It is contended by some, that the use and occupation for ninety-nine years of all the lands embraced within the water-front and high-water-mark lines, described in the first section of said act, (the title to which remained in the state) were granted to the city. Others again, with equal earnestness, maintain that only those lands which had been previously laid off into town lots, according to the plan and system adopted in said city, were affected by the act.

Believing the preponderance of reasoning in favor of the latter construction, I must adopt it.

The first section of this act declares that "all the lots of land, situated within the boundaries therein described, shall be known as the San Francisco beach and water lots;" and the second section grants the use and occupation, for ninety-nine years, of all the land described in section one, to the city of San Francisco.

The important question then to be determined, is as to what land is described in section one. Is it all the land lying within the lines formed by high-water-mark, and the city water-front, established by the fourth section of said act? Or is it such part of the same as had been previously laid off into city lots?

If the former had been the intention of the Legislature, is it not singular that the plainest and most simple language which could have been used to express such intention, was not adopted? If the intention was, that the act should read, "all the land situated within the following boundaries, etc., are known and designated in this act as the San Francisco beach and water lots," why insert before "land" the words "lots of?"

It is my opinion that the expression "lots of," was intended as a limitation of that which would otherwise have been more comprehensive, and would have embraced a greater amount of property. And this opinion, I think, is fortified by another expression, found in the same paragraph.

It will be noticed, that the "lots of land" spoken of, are to be known and designated as the San Francisco beach and water "lots."

Now, it was a well established fact at the time this act was passed, that of the land situated within the limits described by it, a part had been laid off into "city lots," so called, and a part had never been so segregated; thus it will be seen, if the Legislature had intended to describe the entire land within the limits named, instead of saying, "are known and designated as the beach and water lots," an expression like this: "the beach and water land," or, as we find in other acts, "beach and water property," would have been used.

In other words, the expression, "all the land within the boundaries, etc., is known and designated," would most naturally have been adopted rather than the plural "all the lots, etc., are known and designated as beach and water lots."

A statute ought to be construed, if possible, that every word shall have some force and effect, 22 Pick., 571, and that no clause, sentence or word shall be superfluous, void, or insignificant. 1 Harr., 285.

But we do not comply with these rules of law, in my opinion, if we give the act under discussion a different construction to that contended for in this communication. For in saying that all the land within the described boundaries was granted, we entirely ignore the existence of the term "lots," and cause the act to read precisely as though such term was not included in its provisions.

"The words of a statute, if of common use, are to be taken in their natural, plain, obvious, and ordinary signification and import; and if technical words are used, they are to be taken in a technical sense." Kent's Com.

Justice Bronson in Mallom v. May, said:

"That the current of authority at the present day, is in favor of reading statutes according to the natural and most obvious import of the language, without resorting to subtle and forced constructions, for the purpose of either limiting or extending their operations."

Webster defines the word "lot," thus:

"In the United States, a piece or division of land; perhaps originally assigned by drawing lots, but now any portion, piece, or division. So we say, a man has a lot of land in Broadway, or in the meadow; he has a lot in the plain, or on the mountain; he has a home-lot, a house-lot, a wood-lot."

And as defined by him, we find it used in writings, whether legal or otherwise, in legislative acts, and in ordinary business transactions.

I therefore conclude that the Legislature so intended it to be understood in this act, and in passing the same, only designed to grant to the city of San Francisco those "lots of land," which had been marked and defined upon the map referred to in the act as city lots.

From the foregoing, it follows that the title to all the land, within the "boundaries" specified in the water-lot act, which had not been divided into city lots, remained in the state.

The limited time which I have had to devote to this subject, renders it impossible for me to specify all the land within the water-lot limits, the title to which remained in the state. I am satisfied, however, that the Central Wharf, and Vallejo street slips belong to this class. But as to whether the title to those, is, at this date, in the state, depends upon the solution of other questions.

On the eighteenth day of May, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, an act was passed to provide for the sale of the interest of the state of California in the property within the water-line front of the city of San Francisco, as defined in and by the act entitled an act to provide for the disposition of certain property of the state of California, passed March twenty-sixth, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-one.

This act authorized the commissioners (created by its provisions) to take possession of and sell all the property within the boundaries defined by the act of March twenty-sixth, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-one, except open slips, authorized by law to be kept open as a slip, and other lands therein specified. I understand that as a matter of fact, the slips which I have named, were at that time (May eighteenth, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three) open slips, and that they were authorized by law to be kept open, seems to be unquestioned.

It, then, follows that the board of land commissioners could not lawfully take possession of or sell any of the slip property; yet, notwithstanding the exemption of this property, made in the act from which they claimed their authority, said board did, on the tenth day of October, A. D. one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five, proceed to sell the state's interest therein at public auction. They also sold their property at the same time, and from all I can learn concerning said sale, I presume a more barefaced fraud and swindle was never perpetrated upon any community. Such proceedings ought to disgrace even the lowest political stock jobber of California—much more men who pretend to claims of respectability.

My predecessor instituted an action to set aside this sale, upon the ground of fraud, and I hope to be able to prosecute it to a successful termination.

I also learn that payments upon bids made at this sale, to a large amount, were made with the celebrated Carothers' judgment, which, for honesty, should be set down as twin brothers to the sale.

I further understood that in December, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, the city of San Francisco, conceiving that the slip property which I have mentioned had been granted to her by the water lot act of one thousand eight hundred and fifty-one, sold the same at public auction.

The sale was fairly conducted.

The property brought four or five times its present value, and a part of the purchase money was paid into the state treasury, in accordance with the provisions of the act aforesaid.

The payments by purchasers were to be made by installments. Some paid all the installments, and received their deeds; whilst others did not, and abandoned the property.

Many of the claimants, under this city sale, now hold conveyances from the bidders at the land commission sale of October tenth, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five, and all the claimants under the city sale, who paid the entire sum bid, have erected improvements upon their lots so purchased.

As to the proceedings necessary and proper to be taken to obtain possession of the same, (the slip property,) I would recommend that the provisions of an act entitled an act supplementary to and amendatory of an act entitled an act to provide for the sale of the interest of the state of California in the property within the water-line front of the city of San Francisco, as defined in and by the act entitled "an act to provide for the disposition of certain property of the state of California, passed March twenty-sixth, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-one," passed May eighteenth, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, be extended to this property so as to include the same, and that power be given said commission to sue, etc.

In this connection, and before concluding, I hope the Assembly will permit me to make a suggestion in regard to legislation upon this subject; the importance of the matter to the state, and a portion of her citizens, induces me to do so.

A law should be enacted confirming the title of the purchasers at the city slip sale of 1853, who paid the full amount of their bids; but no favor should be shown the pretended purchasers at the October sale, 1855, made by the board of land commission.

All other water-lot property, the title to which still remains in the state, ought to be disposed of at the earliest date practicable, so that a proper settlement of land titles in San Francisco may be expedited.

As to the validity of the various acts of the Legislature, to which I have called attention, I am not prepared to give an opinion. They have been generally conceded to be constitutional, and, I presume, are so; at least, I shall not now attempt any examination, as further delay might prevent desirable action by the present Legislature.

Respectfully, your most obedient servant,

THOS. H. WILLIAMS,
Attorney General.

Mr. Aud made the following report :

REPORT OF OAKLAND COMMITTEE.

MR. SPEAKER :—The joint committee of the Senate and Assembly, appointed to visit the city of Oakland, with the view of ascertaining its advantages as a site for the permanent location of the seat of government, and to receive such proposals as the citizens of Oakland might offer with reference to that object, beg leave, respectfully, to report that they have, in the discharge of the duty confided to them, visited the city of Oakland and the adjacent country, and present, as the result of their investigations, the following facts and considerations :

The natural advantages of the site, in point of salubrity, genial temperature of the climate, dryness of soil, and beauty of scenery, we believe are second to those of no other point in this state.

Its location may be considered as the focal point of the navigable waters of this state, as well as of any system of internal improvements, and communication by railroad and telegraph, which may be hereafter carried into practical effect.

It is situated sufficiently near the commercial metropolis to enjoy all the advantages of early information from the Eastern States and foreign countries, as well as from the interior and remote counties of this state—is convenient of access to the best and most extensive libraries, while sufficiently removed from the noise and bustle of the city to preserve all the benefits of a quiet, suburban location.

In the event of the removal of the seat of government to the proposed point, the material for the construction of a permanent building for the capitol, could probably be had cheaper at Oakland than at any other suitable point. If brick or granite is selected, they can both be procured, of superior quality, at San Quentin, by the labor of the prisoners, and shipped by water at a distance of about fifteen miles, while at a distance of about five miles back, at the foot of the range of hills, on the easterly side of the bay, is found a gray sandstone, which is pronounced by experienced quarrymen to be a very superior building material, of which the proprietor assured us the state could use as much as she might need for public buildings, free of charge.

In reference to economical considerations, your committee submit the following facts, to wit: The state is now paying rents for the accommodation of the Legislature, Supreme Court, etc., state offices, and committee rooms, an annual sum of about twenty-five thousand dollars; and for mileage of legislative committee to visit San Francisco, the state prison, and lunatic asylum annually, about five thousand dollars more, making an annual cost to the state of about thirty thousand dollars.

It will be seen by the accompanying proposals, made under the guaranty of responsible property-holders of the city of Oakland, that this large annual expense, until the erection of suitable state buildings, will be almost entirely saved to the state, which, in three years, assuming that as a period required for the erection and completion of a state capitol adequate to the future wants of this growing and populous state, will amount to nearly one-half of the probable expense of such a building.

The same parties propose, under the like guarantees, to convey to the state, as a site for the erection of public buildings, twenty acres of land, to be selected by the state, within the corporate bounds of the city, free of charge.

Your committee deem these proposals extremely liberal and advantageous to the state, if the policy of removing the seat of government be decided affirmatively by the Legislature; and they are of opinion, that the character and standing of the guarantors, and the binding character of the proposals, are an assurance to the Legislature, that their undertaking will be strictly and honorably fulfilled on their part.

Your committee are also of the opinion, that it is an imperative duty of every member of the Legislature, if, while the public wants and interests are equally guarded and cared for, in legislating upon so important a subject, to so legislate as to save to the people of the state, if practicable, so large a sum as that now annually expended for state buildings, and other necessary accommodations.

In accordance with the views your committee have adopted in relation to the subject submitted to them, they herewith present a bill for an act to provide for the permanent location of the seat of government of the state of California at the city of Oakland, and recommend the passage thereof.

FRANCIS L. AUD,
H. W. HAVENS,
A. A. H. TUTTLE,
House Committee.

The undersigned, members of the joint committee on the part of the Senate, concur in the report of the majority of the committee, except that we make no recommendation to the Legislature in regard to a removal of the capitol; but simply report the facts for the consideration of the Senate and Assembly, and ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

SAML. A. MERRITT,
GEO. H. ROGERS,
Senate Committee.

Bill for an act to provide for the permanent location of the seat of government of the state of California, at the city of Oakland, read first and second times.

Mr. Stratton moved to lay the bill on the table, upon which, Messrs. Havens, Aud, and De Long, demanded the ayes and noes, and the House refused, by the following vote:

AYES—Messrs. Ballou, Briggs, Buel, Caldwell, Clarke, Curtis, Davis, Edwards, Ferguson, Galbraith, Hill of Nevada, Hill of Sierra, Holman, Howell, Minis, Moses, Neblett, Ormsby, Safford, Sheridan, Smith of Nevada, Stout, Stratton, Street, Tipton, Young, and Mr. Speaker—27.

NOES—Messrs. MR. SPEAKER:—The special committee to whom was referred the petition of J. T. Overton, praying for an appropriation of three thousand dollars, to enable him to complete his steam-wagon, for common roads, having carefully and minutely examined the same, respectfully ask leave to report that, in their opinion, the Overton Steam-Wagon exhibits mechanical skill and inventive genius of a high order, and it will, when completed in accordance with the plans of the inventor, travel over common roads at a rapid rate, and be as easily guided as a common team.

This invention is one in which the people of the state of California are deeply interested, as many years must necessarily elapse before railroads to any considerable extent can be completed within our borders, and it is believed by many scientific and practical men who have given this subject their attention that the Overton Steam-Wagon will, in a great measure, answer as a substitute for railroads and locomotives. It is the opinion of your committee that enterprises of this character should be encouraged by the Legislature, and in common with all who have an interest in the honor and the advancement of our young state, we feel a deep solicitude in regard to the success of the invention, but make no recommendation in regard to the appropriation asked for.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
Sacramento, April 7, 1858.

To the Assembly of California :

I have, to-day, approved an act to fix the amount of the official bonds of the county officers of the counties of Merced, Tulare, and Fresno.

JOHN B. WELLER.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
Sacramento, April 8, 1858.

To the Assembly of California :

I have, this day, approved an act to authorize the board of supervisors of the several counties of this state to grant the right to construct wharves on the overflowed and submerged lands of this state.

JOHN B. WELLER.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
Sacramento, April 8, 1858.

To the Assembly of California :

I return, herewith, with my approval, an act to repeal in part, an act to amend an act entitled an act to authorize the formation of corporations for the construction of plank and turnpike roads, passed May twelfth, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, approved April twenty-eighth, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven.

The act of March 20th, 1855, to create boards of supervisors in defining their duties, says: They shall have power to lay out, control, and manage public roads, turnpikes, ferries, and bridges, within the county, in all cases where the law does not prohibit such jurisdiction, and to make such orders as may be necessary and requisite to carrying its control and management into effect.

The act of May 12th, 1853, in regard to the formation of corporations to construct plank or turnpike roads, in section fifteen says: The company shall have power to locate its contemplated road in such manner and places as may be designated by its engineer and approved by the company following the general route and termini described in the original notice, etc.

Take the two acts together, I think no legislation was required to authorize an individual or company to build a bridge across a river, not navigable under the laws of this state. The act of 28th April, 1857, gives the power, however, in terms to companies, and the principal object of that act seems to have been to prescribe certain limitations and restrictions upon these corporations.

It declares that such company "shall only be allowed to put up and keep such toll-gates, demand, collect, and receive such tolls as may be fixed and prescribed by the board of supervisors of the county or counties through which such road or roads may pass." The rates are fixed from year to year. It also imposes a penalty on any company violating the law.

So far as this act places the general control of the companies in the hands of the representatives of the people, (the board of supervisors,) I regard it as a safe and wise one; and I have failed to find any satisfactory reason why the counties of Plumas, Sierra, Trinity, Siskiyou, Del Norte, Klamath, Butte, and Shasta, should be exempted from its operations. I cannot see how these restrictions upon corporations or companies are less necessary in the counties named, than in the other counties of the state. These associations are very apt to abuse their powers, and I do not consider it sound policy to remove any of the restrictions imposed upon them by existing laws.

As I am opposed to special legislation, except when clearly necessary, this bill is respectfully returned for such action as your honorable body may deem proper.

JOHN B. WELLER.

The consideration of the preceding message was postponed until Tuesday next, at one o'clock, P. M.

The following communication was received from the Comptroller relative to the delinquent taxes due the state, which was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means, and ordered printed :

COMPTROLLER'S OFFICE,
Sacramento, April 8, 1858. }

To the Honorable the Speaker of the Assembly :

SIR:—In compliance with the following resolution :

Resolved, That the Comptroller of State be requested to report to the Assembly, as soon as practicable, the amount of delinquent taxes due this state :

I herewith submit to the honorable body over which you preside, the following

REPORT :

"A" is a tabular statement, so far as the imperfect returns made to this office show, of the amount of delinquent taxes due this state from the several counties named, from the organization of the state government up to date.

The time necessary to have prepared it, since the receipt of your resolution, would have been greater, had it not been for the fact that, more than one year since, I had prepared this table, with the exception of the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven. Other matters, however, interposed, and prevented my making the use of it intended.

This table exhibits, more strikingly than any words that I can use, the necessity of amending the revenue laws in the matter of making reports to this office by county officials, as recommended in my last annual report. I think it more than probable that, in some instances, the returns from which this table is prepared contain the amount of delinquent taxes due the county, as well as the state.

The first of February last is the time fixed by law for the returns of one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven to be made.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Comptroller of State.

Mr. Groom offered the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :—Your Committee on Commerce and Navigation, to whom was referred Senate bill No. 283, an act authorizing F. F. Marx, B. Nordheimer, and others, to construct a wharf at Trinidad, in Klamath county, have had the same under consideration, and beg leave to report the same back, with amendments, and recommend its passage, as amended.

GROOM, Chairman.

Mr. Edwards made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :—The Committee on Public Lands, to whom was referred Senate bill No. 112, an act to provide for the sale of the sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections of lands donated to this state for school purposes, have had the same under consideration, and report it back, with an amendment, and recommend its passage, as amended.

URIAH EDWARDS, Chairman.

Mr. Stakes, chairman of the Judiciary Committee, made the following reports :

MR. SPEAKER :—The Committee on the Judiciary, to whom was referred the petitions of R. Aug. Thompson and F. Forman, for relief for services rendered as commissioners on the part of the state to the President of the United States, have had the same under advisement, and have given the subject matter that consideration which its importance deserves.

The committee will not attempt here to recite all of the circumstances which appear to form the basis.

The circumstances are, in the main, a matter of history, and it is devoutly to be hoped that they may soon be lost sight of in the dark ocean of oblivion ; that a returning sense of public duty, and a purer and more exalted spirit of patriotism, will render a recurrence of past events in this state a thing impossible for all time to come ; and that the same community of interests, mutual friendships, and paternal ties, that were torn asunder by the lawless hand of violence, may soon be re-cemented in the bonds of one common brotherhood.

Section three of article seven of the constitution provides that the Governor shall have power to call forth the militia to execute the laws, to suppress insurrections, and repel invasions.

The record shows that on the third day of June, 1856, the Governor issued a proclamation declaring the county of San Francisco in a state of insurrection. The strong arm of the Executive was powerless to enforce implicit obedience to the law; the state was without arms or munitions of war; the general commanding this military division of the United States army had sought a pretext to justify his refusal to furnish the required aid; the civil power of the state government was set at defiance; the writ of habeas corpus was scoffed at, and its due execution resisted by an armed force.

At this juncture of affairs, the Governor, in the exercise of a sound discretion, conceived it to be his imperative duty, (as it was,) to use all lawful means within his power to save the fair name of our state from irretrievable shame and dishonor. In accordance with these solemn convictions of duty, he, on the eighteenth day of June, of said year, duly appointed the petitioners, R. Aug. Thompson and F. Forman, commissioners on the part of this state, to the President of the United States, in order to procure the necessary aid from the federal government.

Section four of article four of the constitution of the United States provides that "the United States shall guarantee to every state in this Union a republican form of government, and shall protect each of them against invasion; and, on application of the Legislature, or of the Executive, (when the Legislature cannot be convened,) against domestic violence."

The Legislature was not in session on the eighteenth day of June; the members elect had just concluded the duties of a protracted session, and returned to their distant homes, there to engage in the varied pursuits of private life.

To have attempted to convene the Legislature, would have been but an empty form, and might have produced naught but irreparable mischief and delay.

Every function of the state government might have been usurped, and the name of Governor Johnson have been covered with eternal obloquy. Had the Governor stated in his application to the President that the Legislature could not be convened in time to avert the impending evil, the President could not have gone behind the record to ascertain the truth or falsity of the Governor's note. It would have been the imperative duty of the President to interpose the strong arm of federal authority. If this position be correct, then the question may be asked, did the omission of a few words in the Governor's communication justify the action of the President in shielding himself behind a technicality? Was not the facts stated in the communication of the Governor sufficient to warrant in the President the belief that a state of things existed in California which would enable him to interfere without any unauthorized exercise of Executive power under that clause of the constitution above cited? Was not the bare application for aid evidence of itself (without a recital of facts) sufficient to satisfy the President that the Governor had complied with the requirements of the constitution?

If the first question is answered in the affirmative, then, the rule of law is, that the petitioners were presumed to know whether the Governor was acting within the limits of his constitutional authority, and their right to compensation would be a question of equity and simple justice. But if the first question be answered in the negative, and the two latter in the affirmative, then the right of the petitioners to relief is both legal and equitable.

The committee are divided in opinion on the question of strict legality of the claims, while they are nearly unanimous in the opinion, that the claims are equitable and just, and ought to be paid. The evidence warrants the conclusion, that the services were rendered faithfully, and at great pecuniary sacrifice to the petitioners. The committee, therefore, report the petition and accompanying documents, together with a bill, back to the Assembly, and recommend the passage of the bill.

A. G. STAKES, Chairman.

SACRAMENTO, April 12, 1858.

The bill above reported, an act making provision for the payment of Robert Augustus Thompson and Ferris Forman, as commissioners on the part of this state to the President of the United States, read first and second times, and ordered on file.

MR. SPEAKER:—The Committee on the Judiciary, to whom was referred the claim of B. F. Marshall, have had the same under consideration, and respectfully ask leave to report as follows:
The record discloses, that at the general election held on the third day of September, 1851, an election was held for sheriff of Calaveras county. Marshall claimed to be elected sheriff, but W. H. Nelson received the certificate of the clerk. A contest ensued, Marshall continuing to discharge the duties of sheriff. Pending the contest, the people refused to pay taxes; and the legislature, on the twenty-eighth day of April, 1852, passed an act appointing A. B. Laforge, collector of taxes for said county. Section thirteen of article eleven of the constitution, provides that "as- sessors and collectors of town, county, and state taxes, shall be elected by the qualified electors of the district, county, or town, in which the property taxed for state, county, or town purposes, is situated."
The act of the Legislature of April 28, 1852, is clearly unconstitutional. The presumption of law is, that Marshall knew it. He should either have enjoined Laforge from collecting the taxes, or treated his acts as a nullity, and have proceeded to collect the taxes himself, in the manner prescribed by law.

At the June term of the district court, held in and for Calaveras county, in the year 1852, the jury found a verdict in favor of Marshall, in words as follows:
"The jury, in the case of the sheriffalty of Calaveras county, find that Benjamin F. Marshall was legally elected to the office of sheriff. Judgment was entered in accordance with the verdict. The committee do not feel called upon to go behind the verdict of the jury, for the reason, that the record is not before them. Moreover, the verdict of the jury does not change the rule of law, or strengthen the equity of Marshall's claims as against the state. The Legislature, on the thirteenth day of May, 1854, passed an act for the relief of Marshall, for the sum of $9,825. This act was passed on the eve of adjournment. The Governor withheld his signature, and it therefore failed to become a law. The committee cannot see the justice of this act of the Legislature, but fully justify the action of the Executive. The affidavit of La Forge shows that he collected, under the provisions of the act of April 28, 1852, the sum of $77,523 62, and that he received as commissions for collecting the same, the sum of $11,950. Marshall's right of action to recover the amount of commissions existed against La Forge, until he, Marshall, was deprived of his remedy by operation of the statute of limitations. He cannot plead his own laches in support of his claim.

The committee are of the opinion that Marshall has no demand against the state, either in law or equity, and therefore report his claim, with the accompanying documents, back to the Assembly, and recommend that the same be rejected.

MR. SPEAKER :—The Committee on Commerce and Navigation, to whom was referred Assembly bill No. 439, an act relating to the water-front of the city of San Francisco, have had the same under advisement, and respectfully ask leave to report as follows :

The magnitude of the interests involved in the improvement contemplated in the bill imperatively requires that the Legislature should take definite action only after mature deliberation and a thorough understanding of the whole subject matter.

It is not the interests of San Francisco alone, nor that of a few individuals, which commands attention ; the interests of the whole state and the commerce of the globe are directly involved, and demand our most careful and attentive consideration.

The work should only be undertaken after a thorough survey by a competent board of engineers, appointed by authority of the state.

The succeeding Legislature can then determine whether the work can be prosecuted without injury to the harbor of San Francisco, and also whether the work should be undertaken by the state or the right thereto granted to San Francisco or to individuals.

The bill is sufficiently guarded in its provisions, and the persons named as engineers are known to the committee as gentlemen of high integrity of character, and every way qualified to discharge the duties imposed therein.

The committee, therefore, report the bill back to the Assembly, and recommend its passage.

Whereas, All that tract of country embraced within the present limits of the state of California lying south of thirty-five degrees and forty-five minutes north latitude, is deemed by the inhabitants thereof as an unfortunate and unnatural alliance with the remaining portion of the state; attaching as a tributary to the populous north a sparsely populated territory differing most radically in climate, soil, and productions; inhabited for the most part by a people whose language, manners, habits, customs, and interests, are very dissimilar, and altogether unlike those of the people of the north; the physical and geographical features of whose country is as different, distinct, separate, and apart from those of the northern portion of the state, with which it is at present unhappily united, as are those of Oregon and Washington territories, or the Sandwich Islands;

And whereas, their representatives ask for and wish to obtain the consent of this ninth Legislature of the state of California, convened at the city of Sacramento on the fourth day of January, A. D. 1858, to the effect that all of that portion of the present territory of the state of California, which is situate and lies south of the thirty-fifth and three-fourths degree of north latitude, may, from and after the time when the Congress of the United States shall organize a territorial government therefor, under the name of the territory of Colorado or such other name as may be deemed meet, be detached from and left out of the present boundaries of the state of California;

Therefore, it is hereby resolved, By the Assembly, the Senate concurring, that such consent as is hereby last set forth in the preamble of this resolution to the same, be and the same is hereby given.

And it is further resolved, That in case the Congress of the United States shall so act upon the consent hereby given as to detach the territory situated south of the parallel of latitude herein specified, previous to the next session of the Legislature of this state, then the next or tenth Legislature of the state of California shall appoint two commissioners, who shall be allowed the same pay as members of the Legislature, and the territory of Colorado, by its first territorial assembly, two commissioners, to meet in the city of San Francisco, on the first day of March, 1859, to adjust the financial relations in an amicable and just manner between the government of the state of California and the territory of Colorado; and in case the four shall not agree, they shall name another person, to be paid, one-half by the state of California and one-half by the territory of Colorado, a majority of whom shall determine on what the territorial government of Colorado shall in justice pay to the state of California as her proportion of the state indebtedness at the time of the segregation of the territory of Colorado; and in case the Congress of the United States shall refuse or fail to organize and provide a territorial government for the territory of Colorado, then this resolution shall be deemed null and fully revoked.

Resolved, also, further, That his Excellency, the Governor, is hereby requested to forward a copy of this resolution to each of our senators and representatives in Congress, at as early a day as possible, and that our senators are hereby instructed and representatives requested, to take immediate action on the same.

On motion of Mr. Cherry, at quarter past six o'clock, P. M., the House adjourned.

MR. SPEAKER :—The following members of the committee, to whom was referred Senate bill No. 61, relative to the introduction and sale of spurious drugs and medicines in this state, beg leave to state that since the making of the report in which they recommend the indefinite postponement of said bill, there has been presented to your body a petition, signed by the physicians and apothecaries of San Francisco, setting forth the fact that the original bill was framed by the state medical convention, and asking the Legislature to pass the same into a law, and also they have seen the report of the grand jury of the city and county of San Francisco, setting forth the necessity of an act of the kind ; for these reasons, and from the belief that a law of this character, properly guarded, is absolutely needed, we have again considered the bill, and present with this statement such amendments as in our opinion removes every objection to the bill as it came from the Senate, and with such amendments we would respectfully recommend its passage.

MR. SPEAKER :—The Committee on Counties and County Boundaries, to whom was referred Assembly bill No. 440, an act to establish the boundary lines and locate the county seat of Sutter county, have had the same under consideration, and a portion of said committee beg leave to submit the following report :

The substitute providing for the submission of the question of the location of the county seat of Sutter county to a vote of the people, your committee make no recommendation concerning, but in relation to the substitute establishing the boundary line between Placer and Sutter counties, the undersigned committee would say that they recommend its indefinite postponement, for the following reasons :

First—The bill proposes to detach some two hundred and eighty-eight square miles from the county of Placer, against the united voice of the delegation of the said county, and annex to Sutter county, and without any apparent or corresponding benefits to be derived from the change to the people living in that section of the county.

Further—However much the undersigned may desire the establishment and survey of the boundary line between the two counties, as now defined by statute, they cannot consent to such an act of injustice to the county of Placer, without a general concurrence of those affected by the change.

The undersigned, a portion of your committee, herewith report the same back, with an amendment, recommending the adoption of the same, and passage of the bill.

Your committee would take this occasion to state that there are considerations of public policy of the greatest magnitude involved in this bill, which a just appreciation of the value of the time of this House will prevent the undersigned from elaborating, and he only regrets that there are not three members from the said county of Plumas, so that a majority report might be presented, as the undersigned fears that the deserved popularity of that portion of the delegation opposed to the bill will naturally prejudice the passage of the same, and more especially so unless constitutional objections are ignored.

On motion of Mr. Warmcastle, all the special orders were placed at the top of the general file.

Mr. Safford, chairman of the Committee on Education, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:—The Committee on Education, to whom was referred Senate bill No. 235, entitled an act organizing the university of the state of California, under the name of the Regents of the University of the State of California, have had the same under consideration, and respectfully report:

That in consequence of the pressure of business at this late period of the session, and the very limited time allowed to your committee, under the instructions of the House, for the consideration of this bill, they have been unable to give it so thorough examination as its great importance deserves.

After as careful a consideration of its merits as circumstances would permit, they have arrived at the following conclusions :

First—We know of no such institution in this state as a "state university," which under the act of Congress would be entitled to receive the university fund.

Second—We regard the plan proposed in the bill, to unite, under one management, all the incorporated colleges, at present established, or to be established hereafter in this state, organized on different principles, situated in different localities, and governed by independent faculties, and to constitute such a heterogenous combination for a state university—which your committee believe to be unprecedented—impolitic, impracticable, and not the institution contemplated by the act of Congress.

Third—We have no knowledge whether any of the colleges now incorporated, or to be incorporated hereafter in this state, would consent to form a part of the proposed university, and any enforcement by legislative enactment against their will and consent, would be a tyrannical usurpation of power, at war with the genius and spirit of republican institutions.

Fourth—The cumbersome machinery, by which it is proposed to set this state university scheme in motion, consisting of thirteen regents, with the various salaried officers to be appointed by them, including a chancellor, vice chancellor, treasurer, secretary, etc., and the enormous expenses which would necessarily be incurred in the periodical visitation to the various incorporated colleges throughout the state; this alone, forms a very serious objection to the bill, inasmuch as a very large portion, if not all, the university fund, would be absorbed by this regency, without any corresponding benefits, and little or nothing would be left for distribution among the incorporated colleges constituting the university.

Fifth—Your committee fear that the proposed scheme, if carried out, might engender sectarian strife, and unseemly jealousies among the various colleges united under this mongrel incorporation, and destroy all laudable competition, establish an odious system of centralization, antagonistic to the spirit of our free institutions, and prejudicial to the interests of education. If the passage of the bill was intended to aid the incorporated colleges now established in this state, a more practicable and satisfactory as well as a less expensive plan would be to get a law passed empowering the state board of education to divide the university fund among them pro rata, in proportion to the number of students, in each institution, if such a disposal, could be made in accordance with the act of Congress.

For these, and other reasons, which might be added did time permit, your committee recommend that the bill be indefinitely postponed.

A. P. K. SAFFORD,
Chairman Committee on Education.

The following report was then taken up :

MR. SPEAKER:—The committee of free conference have agreed upon the following, as a substitute for section ten of Senate bill No. 286, an act for the government of the state prison :

Section ten—The board of directors, as established by this act, shall each be allowed and receive the sum of seventy-five dollars per month, as a compensation for their expenses as such directors. Resolved, further, That the Lieutenant Governor shall receive, in addition to expenses as aforesaid, the sum of ten dollars per day, for each day actually employed in the discharge of the duties imposed by the provisions of this act.

To the Assembly of California :

I respectfully call the attention of your honorable body to a bill entitled an act to amend an act entitled an act concerning the transportation of prisoners to the state prison, and to appropriate money for the same, approved April 21, 1856, which inadvertently received my approval this morning.

A mistake which escaped my observation, ought to be corrected, as the bill in its present shape is a nullity. It has no enacting clause.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
 Sacramento, April 24, 1858.

To the Assembly of California :

I herewith return to your honorable body, without my approval, an act to authorize the construction of a bridge across the Pajaro River. This bridge, in effect, creates a corporation. It authorizes certain persons therein named to construct a bridge across the Pajaro River, and to collect tolls. It authorizes them to fix the rate of traveling, driving, etc., and confers on them powers to sue and recover judgments for infractions of the rules and regulations which they may seem proper to establish.

If this bridge be necessary for the public convenience, as the river is not a navigable one, under the laws of the state, I can see no reason why the board of supervisors cannot authorize its construction.

The following messages were received from the Governor :

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
Sacramento, April 24, 1858.

To the Assembly of California :

I return, herewith, to your honorable body, without my approval, an act amendatory of an act dividing the state into counties, and establishing the seats of justice therein, passed April 25, 1851, and to repeal an act concerning the same, passed May 15, 1854.

The boundaries of Marin county were first defined by the act of April 25, 1851. Some changes were made by the act of May 15, 1854, and again by the act of April 27, 1855.

By reference to the Journal of the Assembly for the year 1856, I find that on the 8th February, the delegation from Sonoma and Marin counties agreed on a bill directing the Surveyor General to run and mark the boundary in conformity with the act of the 15th May, 1854, and this became a law on the 23d of February, of the same year.

The line was run and is now the established boundary between the two counties.

The act now before me transfers a portion of that territory which is now in Sonoma to Marin county, and with it a considerable number of citizens.

The people residing upon this territory have unanimously remonstrated against the change, and I am satisfied that the public interest requires that the boundary should remain where it is. It is the natural one, and in my opinion best adapted to the interests and convenience of the people.

Such being my opinion, the bill is respectfully returned for reconsideration.

JOHN B. WELLER.

On the question, "Shall the bill pass, notwithstanding the veto of the Governor?" it was lost, by the following vote :

AYES—Messrs. Briggs, Crane, Sherwin, Stocker, Stratton, Tatman, Tuttle, Walker, Ward, and Young—10.

NOES—Messrs. Anderson, Aud, Ballou, Banks, Buel, Caldwell, Cherry, Curtis, Davis, De Long, Edwards, Ely, Ferguson, Gordon, Gray, Graham, Groom, Haldeman, Hamlin, Hancock, Harris, Havens, Hill of Nevada, Hill of Sierra, Hobart, Holladay, Holman, Howell, Hirst, Kabler, Lewis, Loofbourrow, McCoy, Minis, Mitchell, Moore, Neblett, O'Brien, Palmer, Parker, Pico, Safford, Shepard, Simons, Spilman, Stout, Street, Thomas, Tipton, Warfield, and Warmcastle.—51.

On the question "Shall the bill to authorize the construction of a bridge across the Pajaro River, pass, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor, reported by him on yesterday?" it was lost, by the following vote :

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
Sacramento, April 26, 1858. }

To the Assembly of California :

I return, herewith, to your honorable body, without my approval, an act to divide the city and county of San Francisco into townships, and to provide for the election of justices of the peace, constables and supervisors.

This bill is one exclusively local in its character, It affects no one outside of the city and county of San Francisco.

The delegation in both branches of the Legislature, from that county, have unanimously protested against its passage. They claim that the act will have an injurious effect upon the interests of the people.

I have nothing to do with the political opinions of these gentlemen. As the chosen representatives of the people, they are entitled to respect, and their views in regard to a question purely local, ought not to be disregarded. I should lose my own self respect, if I stopped to inquire into the politics of men who are to be benefited by the passage of laws. In this regard, I have neither friends nor foes. In the exercise of the appointing power, I always prefer those who belong to the same political organization that I do, but in legislation, no consideration of this character can be allowed to influence my actions.

JOHN B. WELLER.

On the question, "Shall the bill pass, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?" it was lost, by the following vote :

AYES—Messrs. Briggs, Crane, De Long, Graham, Groom, Haldeman, Harris, Havens, Heath, King, Lewis, Loofbourrow, Marshall, O'Brien, Ormsby, Parker, Pico, Smith of Nevada, Stakes, Stocker, Stratton, Tattman, Tipton, Tuttle, Ward, Warfield, and Young—27.

The private secretary of the Governor announced that the Governor had approved Assembly bill No. 486, an act to authorize the settlement of the accounts of James M. Estell and John F. McCauley, arising out of state prison matters.

At twelve o'clock, M., the hour fixed for adjournment sine die, the speaker delivered the following valedictory address :

On the fourth day of January last, fresh from the people, authoritatively commissioned by them for the transaction of legislative business within this Assembly hall, we first came together, and the page that now records our permanent organization, has its duplicate copy deeply engraven upon the tablets of my memory, by which, throughout the remainder of my journey of life, I shall be constantly reminded of the high and honorable obligation its character imposes.

To review minutely the history of our past session, is more than the anxiety of the present moment will permit; suffice it, then, to say, that the business of legislation for which we assembled is now concluded, and it only remains for the people of the state of California to pass in judgment upon our actions, nor do I fear the result. The confidence I repose in their honesty and intelligence, assures me, by anticipation, of an award at their hands in your favor, for a review of our record cannot fail to disclose to them, in every line, if not the expansiveness of wisdom, at least the honesty of purpose.

In answer to the special character of the laws we have passed, we need only refer to the peculiar condition of affairs over which we have been called to legislate. The measure of our actions has extended to all parts of the vast territory embraced within the limits of our gigantic state, comprehending, as it does, within its ample area, every variety of climate, constantly exhibiting to the gaze of the astonished or admiring beholder the striking contrast of perpetual snow and the frowns of winter along the summit range of the Sierras on the one hand, and her plains tempered with the eternal, but alternating seasons of spring and summer, with all their appropriate concomitants, to nature's most prodigal allowance on the other. The same season of the year fetters in ice the key with which the miner is wont to unlock the vault of his hidden treasure in the mountains, and invites the plowman to the field and the furrow on the plains, arresting with snow the march of the ambitious and adventurous prospector in the gulches—and with the bloom and the fragrance of the rose, awakens with delight the sensibilities of the settlers in the vales. Independent of the wants of our own native citizens, we have had to regard the rights of other people, from other countries, of different habits, manners, and customs, whose relative situation among us has imperatively demanded at our hands, careful and discriminating considerations—added to these the various business pursuits in which our citizens are engaged—the different productive resources of wealth in our state—her mineral and her agricultural lands, and they, too, in certain localities so intricately blended that human wisdom fails to adjust the line of discrimination; these, combined with the doubtful character of the property claims of some of our citizens, and the downright uncertain and unsettled condition of the landed interests of all, have done much to characterize our actions and debar legislation more general in its nature.

The zeal and assiduity with which you have applied yourselves in the discharge of your legislative duties, have been to me, and I am sure it will be to those who sent you here, a source of peculiar pride, and is worthy a much higher tribute of praise than a passing notice of this kind.

That the rule of my conduct as your presiding officer, has at all times been such as to merit your approval, is more than I have reason to expect or the egotism to claim, while, at the same time, I have an abiding faith, that gives me the consolation to hope that you will now and hereafter accord to me an honest sincerity of purpose in all things relating to the discharge of the arduous duties your partiality had in the beginning imposed upon me.

The kindness, courtesy, and forbearance, which you have, during the entire period of our labors, manifested towards me, whether in my endeavors to ride down the storm of excitement and passion, which animated discussions have sometimes let in upon us, or resting in the repose of that order, better reason had restored—pronouncing judgments from the chair, or participating in debate upon the floor—have won for you, and each of you, a place in my affectionate regards which can never perish but with the loss of reason or the gloom of the grave.

The brief authority with which I have been clothed during the period of our deliberations, will, in a moment more, be for ever laid aside, but an approving conscience here prompts me to say, that not one word by virtue of that authority have I pronounced within this hall, without an immediate sense of the source to which I was indebted for the privilege of giving it utterance, and a full appreciation of the moral obligation it imperatively demanded.

To the officers and attachés of this Assembly, from the highest to the lowest, much praise is due for the prompt, energetic, and faithful manner in which they have discharged the duties severally devolving upon them.

To the genius of our American institutions, and that never-tiring and energetic spirit of the American people, let us acknowledge our indebtedness for our present rich inheritance and happy homes in California; and to Almighty God we have abundant reason to be thankful for the uniform good health with which we have been blest from the beginning to the close of our labors, and may His divine favor accompany you each on your return to your homes, to your constituents, and to the bosom of your families and friends;—and may your future be full of years, prosperous, and happy, is the sincere wish of your late speaker, but now most obedient, humble servant, and friend, who now pronounces this Assembly adjourned, without day, and bids you all an affectionate farewell.

Approved.

NIN. E. WHITESIDE,
Speaker of Assembly.
